EXTRAORDINARY OFFER

$1.00 pays for a 4 Years Subscription to Cotton's Weekly. Offer is good only to December 25th next, and will never be duplicated in Canada. Just think, a weekly paper for four years for only $1.00. This offer is made in a spirit of fairness and justice to our thousands of hustlers, who have sent in subscriptions for others at the club rate of four for $1.00. We want to give them a chance to benefit personally from the club rate, as a change is under consideration. An increase in the price of white paper is slated for January 1st, and the postal department is going to introduce some drastic changes in the methods of mailing and postal charges for newspapers. Let us urge every subscriber to take advantage of this offer.

THE BOY SCOUTS

By R. A. Dague.

There are two distinct organizations of Boy Scouts. One is known as the "Baden-Powell Boy Scouts," which is of a military nature. The other is "The World Scouts," organized by Sir Francis Vane of England, the distinguished advocate of peace. The "World Scouts" was organized to counteract the military tendency of the Baden-Powell movement. It is but little known in Canada, but the Baden-Powell organization is being persistently pushed in every province of the Dominion. There is a well matured organization which is promoting it through the Y.M.C.A., the churches, the Sunday schools and by adroit systematic advertising in the newspapers.

Within the past year there has been much criticism of the Baden-Powell Boy Scouts, and Mr. West, the American Secretary, and other promoters have denied that it is of a military nature, but the facts are against them.

Now, who is the inventor and the present Commander-in-Chief of the Boy Scouts? Here is his full title as given by the papers of England: — Major-General - Sir-Robert - Stevenson-Smyth-Baden-Powell "hero of the great battle fought at Mafeking," in the Transvaal, with the Boers, and he ranks with Lord Kitchener and Lord Roberts as a fighter.

He belongs to the English nobility and is an intimate friend of the Czar of Russia.

He is a professional man-killer, and he has won great distinction in killing the peaceful Boers, because England wanted the rich diamond mines of the Transvaal.

He went to Russia two years ago and induced the Czar to issue a proclamation requiring 3,500,000 peasant boys between the ages of 12 and 15, to be organized into Boy Scouts, and receive military training by regular army officers. The Associated Press despatches last July, in giving an account of the review of the Boy Scouts by the Czar, said the authorities "hoped that the early awakening of enthusiasm for the army will operate against the spread of seditious Socialism among the youth of Russia."

The Boy Scout movement, as proposed by Lord Baden-Powell, meets the approval of the Emperor of Germany, who, it has been stated, is promoting it in that country "to strengthen the army." The movement is receiving the support of other rulers and plutocrats of Europe. Recently this item appeared in some of the papers of the United States: "Lieutenant Simons, who is visiting this country, in command of the Australian boys, gives an account of the Boy Scout movement as they have it in Australia. He states that already 100,000 boys are registered, and the purpose is to continue the work until Australia has 600,000 well-trained soldiers. Every boy of thirteen is registered. For two years he will be drilled (without a gun.) At 15 years old the rifle will be put in his hands, and he will be drilled until he is 18."

The fact is that the movement to create international courts of arbitration in which the nations might settle all disputes and thus abolish war, was gaining such headway, and enlistments in the army and navy were so rapidly falling off that something had to be done to revive the war sentiment. Therefore the European war lords got together and invented the Boy Scout movement, which Lord Baden-Powell, the Czar of Russia and the Emperor of Germany are persistently promoting.

The movement is cunningly devised. It looks very harmless, but the purpose of its inventors is to plant the seeds of war and murder in the minds of millions of boys. That it does create in the lads a yearning to become soldiers is certain. No one in Europe thinks of claiming that the Baden-Powell Boy Scouts are not being trained for war.

In Russia the Boy Scouts are under regular army officers and are designated as the "Juvenile Army."

In the past there have been wars in which men had to go out and fight for their homes and their freedom. That was right. But let me say that now, when good men and women in all parts of the world are making fine progress toward the abolition of war, it is wicked for warlords to try to destroy the movement for universal peace by inventing a cunning scheme through which they can foster and strengthen the killing instincts in the hearts of millions of innocent unsuspecting boys.

I hope that every Canadian boy who reads this will let Major-General-Sir-Robert-Stevenson-Smyth - Baden-Powell understand that they are not anxious to have a defender of czars, emperors, kings, nabobs and plutocrats of Europe to come to this country for the purpose of inoculating our innocent youth with the virus of war with all its unspeakable horrors and that we in Canada do not look with favor upon the practice of his friend, the Czar of Russia, murdering Jews and shooting to death hundreds of unarmed working men, women and children, whose only offense was that they were suffering for the necessaries of life, and who marched to the palace to ask the Emperor for employment; neither do we greatly admire the "English heroes" who slaughtered the peaceful Boers for spoils.

In conclusion let me say to my boy readers that while it may sometimes be necessary ta fight in defense of the right, yet Gen. Sherman spoke truly when he said, "War is hell."

Dear boys, just think of what will be your duty when you become a professional soldier. You will be expected to burn people's homes, destroy property, shoot to death your brother-man, whom you never saw before and who has done you no harm, usually a boy in his teens. You will be ordered to rush at him like a demon, thrust him through with a bayonet, knock out his brains with the butt of your gun, and slash, stab, cut, shoot and kill him as you would kill a venemous reptile.

Notwithstanding the fact that I am an ex-Union soldier myself, yet I feel that I could give the boys no better advice than to oppose war as the most terrible curses that afflict one of this world and to help hasten the coming of that day when universal peace and universal brotherhood will be established and when swords shall be beaten into plowshares and spears into pruning hooks and nations shall learn war no more.

Yours for "Peace on earth, good will to men."

OUR LITTLE BURG

Mr. Editor,—I do wish you would come and spend a few days with us in Brockville, Ont. I am sure you would have a good time. We have got our main street paved with asphalt, and new electric lights on our streets. Our water rates have taken a jump. Our city fathers are giving each other a rare good feed in a few days time. The price of coal has gone up. The wages of one or two of our upper crust town employees have gone up. The police force are disgusted with their calling. The Grand Trunk are disgusted and are leaving us. The bye streets are like the sloughs of Manitoba. The 41st regiment has got to be a joke. The Socialists have got the best sign in the village and are pestering the people with the truth, in the form of a paper they call "The Brockville Socialist." The cost of living is going up, wages are coming down. No one seems to know who is mayor, and no one troubles to find out. We are certainly having a great time. Do you know, sir, those wretched Socialists have started the beastly working men thinking. All I can hear in this town is, "How's the movement?" A poor wretched, half-starved looking creature, that looked something like a man stopped me on the street the other day and said, "Hello, comrade, how's the movement?" I said, "What movement?" "Why, he said, the great Socialist movement — the movement of thousands of poor slaves the world over that are getting ready, and good and ready once and for all to overthrow the idle rich, and to make human beings and useful citizens of them." Do come to Brockville and see us. Everybody's doing it. Doing what? Boosting Socialism.—One That's Doing It.

LOCAL AT DORION, ONT.

Comrade Harry Bryan has been to Dorion, Ont., and as a result Local 71 will be organized in that farming township in a few days. Nine Cotton's have been going to this postoffice. This farming local will no doubt enjoy the articles of Comrade Smith now running through the paper.

Really the only class to pity will be those who are too ignorant to vote right. The other fellow—well, serves him right.

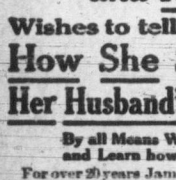
This Wife and Mother

Wishes to tell you FREE

How She Stopped Her Husband's Drinking

By all Means Write to Her and Learn how She did it.

For over 20 years James Anderson of 431 Elm Avenue, Hillburn, N. Y., U.S.A., was a very hard drinker. His case seemed a hopeless one, but ten years ago his wife in their own little home, gave him a simple remedy which much to her delight stopped his drinking entirely.



To make sure that the remedy was responsible for this happy result she also tried it on her brother and several of her neighbors. It was successful in every case. None of them has touched a drop of intoxicating liquor since.

She now wishes everyone who has drunkenness in their homes to try this simple remedy for she feels sure that it will do as much for others as it has for her. It can be given secretly if desired, and without cost she will gladly and willingly tell you what it is. All you have to do is write her a letter asking her how she cured her husband of drinking and she will reply by return mail in a sealed envelope. As she has nothing to sell do not send her money. Simply send a letter with all confidence to Mrs. Margaret Anderson at the address given above, taking care to write your name and full address plainly. (We earnestly advise every one of our readers who wishes to cure a dear one of drunkenness to write to this lady today. Her offer is a sincere one.)

THE FEASTERS

By Gerald J. Lively

"The authorities are making preparations to welcome the Duke of Connaught."
—The Daily Press.

There is going to be a feasting of the masters of the land,
They'll give our Royal Proxy of the best;
He'll be shown our empire builders, a fat and well-groomed band,
But he'll not be shown the men who've made the West.
He'll see the real estate men, the putters-through of deals,
The loan sharks and the Shylocks will be there,
And those who've made their millions from a million dirty steals,
But the men who've made the West will not be there.
He'll meet the Bounty Barons, and he'll meet the Tariff Lords,
And those who make their gold from women's shame,
And our little talking soldiers with their little tailor swords,
But not the men who've made the West its name.
He'll meet the franchise-grabbers, and the timber-limit thieves,
And the mushroom knights who're hunting for a crest,
And those who play the People with the "bowers" up their sleeves,
But he will not meet the men who've made the West.
He'll meet journalistic sychophants, the dead-heads of the show,
Who've sold their pens for passages and food;
They dare not speak the honest truth, for even if they know
A thing is bad, they have to swear it's good.
They'll crowd around the tables to catch the scraps that fall,
They'll enlarge on every speech and worn-out jest;
For our land's a free-lunch counter for the grafters, one and all,
And they'll write on their "Impressions of the West."
He'll meet prostituted talent, and worthlessness on high,
And fettered truth deckt out with tinsellee lies,
And they'll bow the knee in worship as the Golden Calf goes by;
'Tis a temple of the ancient god of Flies.
And the place will reek of Mammon, and the brazen Baals of gain,
With the fumes of Greed's own incense and the fetishes of ease,
And they will not read the writing, be it written ne'er so plain,
That empires do not stand by things like these.
But he'll not meet the cow-boys nor the men behind the plow,
Nor the axe-men, nor the miners, nor the rest
Of those who hold the rifles when the nations want a row,
He will not meet the men who've made the West.
They have no time for banquets, and they have no time for shows,
They're got to keep a-plugging, fine or wet;
They're busy in the summer dust, and in the winter snows,
And I guess they'll make a nation of us yet.
For they're working on the ditches, and they're working on the grade,
And they're packed in camps where typhoid reigns supreme;
They're busy working out their lives at every kind of trade—
The desk, and mine, and workshop, the forest, farm and stream.
So you'll find them herding cattle, and on the river drives,
You'll find them grubbing willows, and you'll find them shifting stones,
And they'll make the West a country, though they do it with their lives,
And mark out every section with their bones.
So we'll leave them to their labor, and their heritage of toil,
While others take the guerdon, and wear the victor's bays,
Though the slaves of mine and forest, and the helots of the soil
Build up the West, the others take the praise.
But the day is surely coming when the people will award
To men the right to harvest and reap where they have sown;
And then the men who've made the West will get their just reward,
When Labor Regnant comes into its own.

American Notes

Before the last election the Socialists had about one thousand minor officials elected. Now they have about two thousand.

J. Eads How, the "Millionaire Hobo," advocates the establishment of national employment bureaus in the postoffices of all large U. S. cities. He estimates the unemployed to be 5,000,000. Where the jobs are to come from for the unemployed even if national labor bureaus are opened, he does not state.

For the first time since 1903 a candidate ran against Gompers for the presidency of the American Federation of Labor. Max Hayes, a delegate of the printers, and a Socialist, received 5,074 votes to 11,974 votes for Gompers. In 1903 the opposition candidate received but 1,200 votes, so the Socialist sentiment has increased. Seattle, Washington, was chosen for the next meeting place of the convention.

Joseph J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso, on trial at Lawrence, Mass., for the murder of Anna Laprizzo who was shot by a policeman, have been found not guilty by a jury. This is the celebrated case which has aroused international attention. This does not free the prisoners. Caruso is under indictment for "assault with a deadly weapon," and Ettor and Giovannitti are under indictment with Haywood charged with "conspiracy to incite riot." All the prisoners are out on bail.

Debs, Warren and Shepard of the Appeal to Reason have been indicted by the Federal Grand Jury at Fort Scott, Kansas. They were charged with attempting to spirit witnesses away from the court's jurisdiction. Warren and Debs are the editors of the Appeal, while Shepard is their attorney. Warren and Shepard have both been arrested, and the officers are looking for Debs. This case will cause the Socialists to rally to the fighting paper as never before. The charge is absurd, knowing the men. Debs has just received a million votes as Socialist candidate. Many young Bull-Moosers are discontented with Roosevelt. They are drifting into the red army. With the great-hearted Debs in the grip of the capitalist thugs, the eyes of many will be opened.

Van Lear, Socialist candidate for Mayor of Minneapolis, both in 1910 and 1912, has been defeated both times. In 1910 three candidates ran. Haynes, Democrat, received 12,788 votes; Satterlee, Republican, received 12,754 votes, and Van Lear, Socialist, received 11,691 votes. In 1912 the two old parties dared not run separate candidates. They fused. Their candidate, Nye, received 22,089 votes, while Van Lear received 19,725. This is another city in which the Socialists have compelled the capitalist class to drop their sham opposition and put a straight capitalist candidate in the field.

The official vote of several states has been published. A couple of weeks ago we published a table of the estimated vote showing it to be 1,011,803. The following is a statement of the official vote of the states so far reporting compared with the estimated vote. It will be noticed the official exceeds the estimated vote.

State.	Official. vote.	Est'd. vote.
Alabama	3,019	2,600
Delaware	556	500
Georgia	1,014	637
Indiana	36,931	32,000
Kansas	26,807	18,000
Minnesota	27,505	20,000
New Hampshire	1,980	1,640
Oklahoma	41,674	52,000
Rhode Island	1,950	1,950
Virginia	787	800
Total	142,223	130,127

So far from the interests of laborer and capital being identical, they are opposite. One wants to make as much as possible off the worker, and the worker wants to pay as little tribute as possible. There is no reason why he should pay.

Say, Mr. Workingman, do you know that the boss does not pay you for working for him? Why, how is that? Because you pay him for the privilege of working. Now, don't get "next." It might hurt you.—Tom Lewis.

World Wide Notes

During the past fifteen years real wages have decreased seven per cent in England.

There never was a more opportune moment for the proletariat to strike against war, is the decision of the French Socialist party, which met November 21st to discuss the war question.

Fourteen Socialists were mortally wounded at Buda-Pest, Hungary, on November 24th in the serious clashes between the authorities and the people. A great procession marched through the streets. Thirty arrests were made.

With a view to render an international clash over the division of Turkey an impossibility through the refusal of the masses to fight, Socialists representing every country in Europe which met at Basle, Switzerland, has ordered a 24-hour strike on December 16th.

Every year the British Labor Party takes up a campaign of education and presses it into every part of the kingdom. This year the campaign has been a "War against Poverty." They are demanding the prevention of unemployment, adequate provision of children, abolition of the poor law system, a living wage for all, healthy homes for all and an eight-hour working day.

On November 24th, the first edition of the Socialist daily of Vienna, the Arbeiter Zeitung, was seized and the subsequent editions appeared with great blank spaces. The Zeitung had evidently attempted to oppose the war spirit of the rulers. As the capitalist class control the news sources, we get war scares in abundance. The reporting of the forces working for peace is suppressed.

The assassination of Premier Canalejas of Spain, has removed a tyrant without removing one bit the tyranny. During his regime he persecuted the Spanish labor movement with ruthless and remorseless zeal. Under his regime strike leaders have been imprisoned and innocent leaders of the people hanged. The freedom of the Press has been destroyed and workingmen's organizations disbanded. Though he was not in power when Ferrer was executed, he endorsed that crime. "I tell you frankly," he told an English correspondent, "that I consider Ferrer was incontestably a revolutionary, who was condemned after a fair and open trial. If my government had been in power he would most certainly have been condemned." Canalejas has gone, the capitalist system remains. It would have been better to have attacked and overthrown the system than the individual.

A Few Quotations

From Thomas Carlyle's "Sartor Resartus." (1831).

Whoso has sixpence is sovereign (to the extent of sixpence) over all men.

The journalists are now the true kings and clergy.

La carriere ouverte aux talens (the tools to him that can handle them), which is our ultimate Political Evangel, wherein alone can liberty lie.

Greater than all recorded miracles have been performed by pens.

We must all toil, or steal (howsoever we name our stealing), which is worse.

Man . . . collects, apparently by lot, six hundred and fifty-eight miscellaneous individuals, and says to them, "Make this nation toil for us, hunger and sorrow and sin for us," and they do it.

Man, says the professor . . . . . Alas, poor devil! Spectres are appointed to haunt him; one age he is hagridden, bewitched; the next priestridden, befooled; in all ages, bedevilled.

Have not I myself known five hundred living soldiers sabred into crows' meat for a piece of glazed cotton, which they called their flag; which, had you sold it at any market cross, would not have brought above three groschen?

—Selected by W. F. Harris, Olds, Alberta.

Socialism will win if—You're the "if."

MAKING A LIVING.

"Hello, John, how are you getting on?"

"Very well, I reckon. I'm making a living."

Say, neighbor, haven't you heard that conversation a thousand times? Said it yourself, haven't you? Yes. Well, how often have you thought that there were other things in life—many other things—that were worth thinking about that did not concern making a living? Very often, haven't you? But you had very little time to think about them because you had to make a living. That came first and it took up all your time, and takes it up yet, and you don't get much of living either.

Under a proper system of industrial management we would not have to think about making a living. All we would have to think about would be living—living in the broad, natural, happy sense that so few know today. That would be fine, wouldn't it, eh? Vote the Socialist ticket, work for the Socialist party, study Socialist literature, for Socialism means that perfected system of industry and social organization that will enable all to live without having to worry about making a living.

Greed and Rottenness

By R. W. Northey.

Every day the papers present us with some new viewpoint of the greed and rottenness of the capitalist system as it obtains in the United States, yet the great majority of the people of this enlightened republic, by their votes for Wilson, Taft and Roosevelt, seem to be quite willing to continue to risk their lives on the rotten ties of capitalist railways and to pay the exorbitant demands of the express and harvester companies. Change from one brand of capitalist politicians to another will be of no avail. It never has been in the past. But the trouble is that very few of the present generation have read history.

Let Cotton's readers show the two following clippings to their standpat neighbors and point out to them how differently things would be conducted under Socialism. But they needn't mention Socialism—as I find the word stirs up the antagonism of some shallow-minded people—say the co-operative commonwealth.

• • •

San Francisco, Nov. 7. — Testimony brought out by the state railroad commission in its investigation of express rates, on which it is engaged today, showed that the Wells-Fargo company, on an investment in California of $1,116,167, received in two average months—June and July, 1911—a gross revenue of $1,463,545, which would amount to $8,720,000 for the twelve months, or a little less than 800 per cent on the capital outstanding.

These figures developed from a report made by F. R. La Shell, the commission rate expert, and were not contradicted by C. R. Graham, the company's traffic manager.

• • •

Brooklyn Eagle: Coroner John J. Phelan, of Bridgeport, Conn., arrived in Manhattan today to investigate the newly discovered case of the fatal wreck of the Springfield express of the New Haven road at Westport, October 3.

"It had first been charged that the engineer ran past signals, but yesterday it was discovered that the railroad ties where the wreck occurred were so rotten that handfuls of them could be torn away and pulverized in the naked hand. The spikes that held the rails were pulled out by hand, so decayed was the wood.

"Following this startling discovery, Coroner Phelan asked Vice President Buckland to explain the existence on the main line of the road of such conditions, and Vice President Buckland is quoted as saying: 'Well, all roads have rotten ties on them somewhere.'"

This claim, coming from such a prominent railroad official as Mr. Buckland, aroused the coroner to instant action, and he immediately took a train for New York, where he will examine the ties in use on the Pennsylvania, New York Central, and other roads to see if actual conditions bear out Vice President Buckland's statement that the rotten ties of the New Haven were no more rotten than the ties of other railroads.

SOCIALISM'S COMMANDMENTS.

1. Love your schoolfellows, who will be your fellow-workers in life.
2. Love Learning, which is the food of the mind; be grateful to your teacher, as to your parents.
3. Make every day holy by good and useful deeds and kindly actions.
4. Honor good men, be courteous to all men, bow down to none.
5. Do not hate or speak evil of anyone. Do not be revengeful, but stand up for your rights and resist oppression.
6. Do not be cowardly. Be a friend for the weak, and love justice.
7. Remember that all the good things of the earth are produced by labor. Whoever enjoys them without working for them is stealing the bread of the workers.
8. Observe and think in order to discover the truth. Do not believe what is contrary to reason, and never deceive yourself to others.
9. Do not think that he who loves his own country must hate and despise other nations, or wish for war, which is a remnant of barbarism.
10. Look forward to the day when all men will be free citizens of one fatherland, and live together as brothers in peace and righteousness.

30,000 for the New Year

Will you give Cotton's a subscription list of 30,000 for the New Year?

You ushered 1912 in with a subscription list of 12,065. Will you make it so you can say to your masters, "For every ten rebel readers of our paper at the beginning of 1912 we have twenty-five at the beginning of 1913."

You can easily do this if each of you will bend your energies to the work. It will be a great triumph for Canadian Socialism. You will be able to say to the American Comrades, "We have increased the circulation of our paper in a greater proportion in one year than you have increased your vote in four years."

Never were the prospects of the near triumph of Socialism as bright as now. The European war cloud which the common people hate and suffer from show the people that the Socialists are with them in their fight against death and misery. The rapid centralization of industry in the States and the consequent unemployment and starvation wages are producing the conditions for a tremendous upheaval in the near future. In Canada strikes and lockouts, gunmen and company police, exorbitant freight charges for grain transportation and the farm machinery trust and money trust are teaching the wage workers and exploited farmers the necessity for a unified movement on their part to seize the political power and abolish the master class.

Get busy, comrades, at once, and forward as large a list of subs as you can possibly get. Every sub now is worth more than ten subs ten years ago, when the conditions creating discontent did not exist as they do now.
