THE READER. NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The publishers of "The Reader" have made another announcement concerning their new literary magazine which is to appear October 16th. The contents of the first number will include, in addition to the monthly departments of news and reviews, a story about Dante and Beatrice by R. V. Halsey; a selection from a new rendering by Elias Carman of the lyrics of the Greek poetess Sappho, who has been made familiar by Swinburne and Tennyson; the first of a series of reports of the sittings of the Literary Emergency Court, (Mark Twain and Oliver Herford, justices of the court) which deals with "The People Against Richard Harding Davis," and should be full of amusing situations; "Rudyard Kipling as an Illustrator," with illustrations; a frank article, "The Attitude of the Jews towards Jewish Fiction," by Bernard G. Richards, a well known literary Jew; London and Paris letters, and twenty or more other original contributions all guaranteed by the publishers to be "entertaining, unprejudiced and authoritative." The cover of "The Reader" is about the most attractive of any of the magazines.

MRS. R. L. BORDEN RECEIVES. (Winnipeg Telegram, Oct. 15.) Mrs. R. L. Borden, wife of the leader of the conservative party, will hold a reception to the people of Winnipeg in the parlors of the Leland hotel tomorrow afternoon to all those desirous of making her acquaintance. Both ladies and gentlemen are invited. The reception will be held from four to six o'clock, when tea will be served. There are many in Winnipeg who are desirous of meeting Mrs. Borden and aside from this the reception promises to be one of the biggest social events of the season. Mrs. Borden has accompanied her husband on his western tour and at several places received large numbers, which testifies to the popularity of the leader's wife. The announcement that she would receive here was received with joy by many who would not otherwise have been given a chance of meeting her.

MEN'S HEAVY SUITS.

To say that we give good values in Men's Suits would be placing it very mildly indeed. We would like to have you compare the suits we sell as $3.00, 5.00, 6.75, 8.00 and 10.00 with those sold at other stores from two to three dollars higher in price. It is then you would realize the exceptional values we are giving. Cash counts when spent at this store.

Men's Suits from $3.00 to $14.00.

SUITS AND OVERCOATS TO ORDER $10.00 AND UP.

A RACE RIOT That Ended in a Battle With Firearms.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 20.—One white man is missing and supposed to be dead, another is fatally wounded and two negroes are seriously shot as a result of a race riot at Littleton, a small mining town thirty-three miles from Birmingham.

The supposed dead are: Era Creol, a white man. The injured are: Joe Thompson, white, shot through the body, serious; J. Baer, negro, serious; Will Tolbert, negro, who shot Thompson, shot in chest, serious.

The trouble was precipitated by a negro woman who pushed Joe Thompson (white) from the railroad trestle. The woman was accompanied by Wm. Tolbert, a negro, who fired on the white man after he had fallen. Thompson, who was not seriously hurt, went for assistance and accompanied by Ira Creol and John Rouse, began a search for the negroes. Other negroes had followed Tolbert by this time and from improvised headquarters they fired upon the white man. The little town at the first shot and his companions sought cover.

A fusillade followed and only ceased when both sides had exhausted their ammunition. The citizens of Littleton became alarmed for fear of further trouble as the negroes were largely in the majority and called on Sheriff Burgin for assistance. The negroes are said to have stolen several hundred pounds of powder from one of the magazines at the mines, and there is fear that they will attempt to blow up some of the buildings. The little town at a late hour last night is closely guarded.

BRIEFS BY WIRE.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 19.—Two persons were killed, one fatally and three slightly injured in an explosion which partially wrecked the tugboat "Fred Fred Nellis," on St. Louis, near Mound City, Ark., early today.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that the Vatican hopes that the negotiations in Manila between Governor Tait and Archbishop Guidi will lead to the establishment of diplomatic relations between the United States and the Vatican.

THE WHITE PLAGUE.

Bishop of Ottawa Issues a Pastoral Relative to Consumption.

The following pastoral has been addressed to the clergy and laity of the diocese by the Bishop of Ottawa, who wrote from Barry's Bay:

To the reverend clergy and the faithful laity of the Church of England in the Diocese of Ottawa: My Dear Brethren,—Having in my address to the Diocesan Synod in June last drawn your attention to the efforts which are being made and promoted by the Canadian Association for the prevention of consumption and other forms of tuberculosis, it is not necessary for me at this time to do more than ask your careful perusal and consideration of the report of the second annual convention of the association. The painful fact that 8,000 cases of consumption result in death in the Dominion of Canada each year, after many months, probably several years, of sore distress to the sufferers and their families, ought to move every one in every part of the diocese in his or her power to strengthen the anti-tuberculosis crusade in Canada.

1. It is open to you to become a member of this association by paying the annual subscription of one dollar. 2. To direct the attention of those in your locality, and especially of those who may seem to you to be suffering from consumption, to this society, and its efforts to circulate information concerning tuberculosis and the proper treatment of it in its early stages, so as to ensure, as far as may be, protection to members of the same family, and the restoration of the same family.

3. To urge on all the vital importance of prompt and intelligent and thorough attention to the very first indications of consumption, so that it may be checked at once before the condition of the patient can invite and prove favorable to the tuberculous bacilli, which are floating about in every impure atmosphere, both in the home and in the streets. Believe me your faithful friend and Bishop, Charles Ottawa. (Toronto World.)

JIM YOUNGER.

The Sensational Death of a Notorious Desperado.

He Believed in Bryan but Not in a Personal God.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 19.—James Younger, formerly a member of the notorious James band of outlaws, which infested the western country a quarter of a century ago, committed suicide today by shooting. He left a letter to the press in which he gives as a reason for his act, despondency over continued ill health and separation from his friends. When he did not make his appearance as usual today search was made for him. The door of his room was broken in late this afternoon and his dead body was found stretched on the floor beside the bed, a revolver clutched in his right hand.

Younger, since his parole from the state penitentiary in July of last year, has led an exemplary life. He was 54 years of age. The coroner decided that an inquest was not necessary. On a bureau in the room was found a long manila envelope. The envelope contained a package of letters that had passed between Younger and a lady with whom he is said to have been much in love. The lady who is prominently connected, is said to have reproached his affection and it was reported at one time that they were to be married. The lady's relatives raised strenuous objections to the marriage and a further obstacle was the fact that it was pointed out that a paroled prisoner could not legally contract a marriage. The couple determined to disregard the objections of relatives and an effort was made to overcome the other obstacles to their marriage by securing from the state board of pardon and restoration to citizenship. This effort failed and it is thought, had much to do with Younger's determination to end his life. The lady is said to be now in Boise, Idaho, for her health. It is also said that the fight between James and Coleman Younger were very much estranged in fact, that the brothers had not been on speaking terms for the past six months.

On another sheet of paper Younger's last words before committing suicide: "October 18.—Last night on earth. So good-bye. I have forgiven me for this my only chance. I have done nothing wrong. But politics is all that Van-Sant, Wolf and others of their stripe care for. Let the people judge. Treat me right and fair, reporters, for I am a sane man. A socialist and decidedly in favor of woman's rights. Bryan is the brightest man these United States has ever produced. His one mistake was in not coming out for all the people and absolute socialism. Come out Bryan. There is no such thing as a personal God. God is uniting in favor of woman's rights and am not afraid. I have pity for the pardoning board, they do not stop to consider their wives or to think of the man who knows how to love and appreciate a friend in truth. Good-bye sweet Lasse."

HOW TO CLIMB THE STAIRS.

Go Slowly. Tread on the Ball of the Foot, Don't Lean Forward.

"Those stairs will be the death of me yet." You have heard the expression of such sentiment, if indeed you have not felt the probability of the same unvoiced prophecy. Girls complain to me of backache, and quickly say: "You know I have to go up and down stairs so much this week." The girls to whom this complaint are in a town hall; the steps are high and the flights are long—yet some can climb them several times a day and not have a grumbling back or any other uncomfortable result. The secret lies in the way they do it.

1. To direct the attention of those in your locality, and especially of those who may seem to you to be suffering from consumption, to this society, and its efforts to circulate information concerning tuberculosis and the proper treatment of it in its early stages, so as to ensure, as far as may be, protection to members of the same family, and the restoration of the same family.

2. To urge on all the vital importance of prompt and intelligent and thorough attention to the very first indications of consumption, so that it may be checked at once before the condition of the patient can invite and prove favorable to the tuberculous bacilli, which are floating about in every impure atmosphere, both in the home and in the streets. Believe me your faithful friend and Bishop, Charles Ottawa. (Toronto World.)

It augurs well for the campaign against tuberculosis that the church is taking an active part in the fight. The pastoral letter addressed to his diocese by the Anglican Bishop of Ottawa constitutes a hopeful sign of the times. In urging his people to personally and individually engage in active warfare against the dread white plague, his lordship shows that in being a good churchman he is a useful citizen, alive to what makes for the welfare of the community. The fact that consumption carries off 8,000 Canadians every year emphasizes the need of more work along the lines of what the Bishop of Ottawa is doing. We would urge our readers to become workers for the public good by joining and working with the "Canadian Association for the Prevention of Consumption and Other Forms of Tuberculosis." Every person can help in the good cause by assisting to spread the knowledge of how to avoid tuberculosis, of how to protect those constitutionally predisposed to the onslaughts of the scourge, and of how to treat incipient cases of the dread disease.

Be sure and take your time. Remember you are lifting the weight of the body many times, and it is no light exercise. "The work the back has to do ought to be no greater going upstairs correctly than when on a level. The legs are the members of your bodily community which ought to perform that service for you."

I have known medical authorities to recommend walking up stairs correctly as good exercise for reducing prominent abdomen and relieving indigestion. Therefore the commonly conceived bugbear of some housekeepers may become a boon. They ought to reach the top of the stairs exhilarated, feeling the glow of healthful exercise.—Medical Talk.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 18.—Str Angella reached Fanning Island yesterday, establishing connection between the island and Bamfield Creek. Only one link of the Pacific cable remains to be laid.

FATAL BARROOM FIGHT.

One Man Killed and Two Others Stabbed.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 20.—A political quarrel, beginning with an argument on the coal strike and ending in a discussion on socialism ended last night in the death of Charles Wolf, 27 years old, and the injury of two others. The fight, which took place in the saloon of Jas. Wallace, 313 Fulton street, was participated in by five men. The injured are: George Boves, bartender, cut on head neck and body; David Schultz, stabbed twice in right leg and once in left side. The other two men who participated in the fight were F. Brown, who escaped, and John Fitzgibbons, who is held as a witness. During the discussion some one made an uncompromising remark about socialists. Boves, who is a socialist, was provoked and hurled an empty bottle and that was the signal for a general fight in which Wolf and Schultz were stabbed by Boves, who shortly afterwards was cut himself, and claims self defence. Wolf died from his wounds.

THREE MILLIONS

Of British and American Capital in Pulp and Paper Mills.

(Special to the Star.) TORONTO, Oct. 20.—A party of English financiers, directors of the Sturgeon Falls Pulp Company and a party of American capitalists are here on their way to inspect the plant and spruce lands of the company. A. E. Bremner, managing director, states that the company has already spent a million on the plant and will spend two millions more. He adds that the company will discontinue this export of pulp and erect paper mills. According to Bremner there is a market in Britain for more paper than the company will be able to produce.

THE DEATH ROLL.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 20.—Colonel John C. Moore, a newspaper writer of this city died suddenly last night of paralysis, aged 80 years. He was an Englishman. During the civil war he served in the confederate army.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 20.—Dr. Alfred R. C. Selwyn, director of Dominion Geological survey from 1889 to 1895, when he was retired on pension, died here Saturday night after a long illness. He was 78 years old and a native of England.

OCTOBER HUNTING.

How American Hunters Are Seeking the Game Fields.

(Country Life in America.) Nearly every lover of the gun and rifle has a choice of the game he will pursue. This one is never so happy when marking down a cover of quail. To another the prairie chicken, or, if he be eastern bred, the ruffed grouse furnishes the keenest sport. In a third the flight of wild fowl alone has power to snap the chains of business and send him forth into the marshes. With others it is squirrel shooting, the pursuit of rabbit with baggies, riding to hounds in the chase of Sir Reynard, while the lover of the rifle and the eternal mystery of the deep woods finds no such pleasure as in the pursuit of big game—moose, bear and deer. Many there are to cry down the hunt as catering to barbaric and the least of the instincts, which are the endowment from our forefathers. Therein do they do grave injustice to a class wherein are found some of the truest gentlemen and noblest natures whom we delight to honor.

They do gravely mistake the motive which impels the true sportsman afield when he hears the ruffed grouse of the quail. It is not the mere desire to kill. In truth that were butchery. But rather it is the longing to match skill and slowly acquired knowledge of the ways and habits of the little brown birds against their swift wings and inherent cunning which for lack of a better term we call instinct. And beyond even this, it is for the pleasure of being afield, for the surroundings, the setting of the favorite sport, for the bracing air and for the knowledge of the great outdoor world which every tramp with dog and gun increases. So the true sportsman takes an honest pride in his skill, so be it his eye has been true and his hand steady while he gave his bird every chance of a fair flush. But so be it he misses, his chagrin is tempered with respect for, and a certain satisfaction in, the escape of all game from his match. And though his bag be light, he will return home in the gloaming contented in mind and once more a simple child of nature.

FRENCH ARTILLERY.

General "Joe" Wheeler, who has just returned home after viewing military manoeuvres in Europe, says that the French artillery is the finest in the world. "Their cavalry is good, too," he says, "but their artillery is simply superb. They have an invention for overcoming the recoil in big 12-inch guns for coast defense which is ahead of everything of the kind. It is true that we in the American army have just acquired a similar invention which is really supposed to be better than the French invention, but it has not yet been put into use."

MR. TARTE'S ACTIVITY.

(Victoria Colonist.) "Do not believe all the party papers say. Their duty is to make trouble. I know it for I have been in the business twenty-five years." So remarks the versatile Mr. J. Israel Tarte. If Mr. Tarte has been in the business of making trouble for twenty-five years he shows no symptoms of making an assignment, because times are bad with him in that business.

THE GORDON COLLEGE. CAIRO, Oct. 18.—Lord Kitchener will arrive here about Oct. 23, and after a stay of three or four days, will proceed direct to Khartoum where he will preside at the opening of the Gordon College. The new barracks for British troops at Khartoum are now almost complete, and the headquarters and four companies of the 2nd Batt. Royal Fusiliers, who are to be their first occupants, left Cairo for the Sudan on Oct. 14. The barracks are on the latest model, have wide, airy verandahs, and are fitted throughout with electric light. The Royal Fusiliers will be succeeded at the Citadel Barracks, Cairo, by the 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade, now on their way from the Cape. The Seaforth Highlanders are expected to leave for India about the end of January next.

WANTS TO ANNEX CANADA. (Gloucester, Mass., Times.)

The republican state campaign opened at Checopee last night, the principal speaker being Lieutenant Governor Bates. He replied to the address of Col. W. A. Gaston, and said in part: "I believe in reciprocity with Canada, but not free trade. The democrats can say they believe in the most free reciprocity, but that means competition in almost all our products. Gloucester, the nursery of our navies, would be destroyed by competition in the fish trade. The kind of reciprocity I believe in would admit those products which we do not produce, and permit us to exchange those of which we have a surplus. Nor will I, as the democratic candidate says, give up one foot of American territory. When Canada wants free trade with the American people it will be time for us to say, 'let us come under the stars and stripes and share in bearing the burden.'"
