THY WILL BE DONE

BY J. G. WHITTIER.

Though dim, as yet, in tint and line, We trace thy picture's wise design. And hank thee that our age supplies Its dark relief of sacrifice—
Thy will be done!

And if in our unworthiness,
Thy sacrificial wind we press;
If, from thy ordeal's heated bars,
Our feet are seamed with crimson scar
Thy will be done!

If for the age to come, this hour Of trial hath vicarious power; And blest by thee, this present pain Is Liberty's eternal gain, Thy will be done!

Strike, thou, the Master, we thy keys;
The anthem of the destinies!
The mirror of thy loftier strain.
Our hearts shall breathe the old refrainThy will be done!
