

How nice for you having such a holiday. Much to be done in the dear old West York. I'll enjoy it beyond words. Keep them (D.V.) I made up my mind to stay with you to see your interesting people to meet - I'm sure in England and Scotland I meet, and so many places to see. And then I shall see her - Yesterday I'm I wish that I might live it all. Sir Samuel passed through St. John over again, but it can only be in his day to accept. He is looking tremendously glad. I'll give you a letter next week to spend the day with me. to my old friend. The person (of his return) - he has just come back Macdonald. He will find her from England and has seen her - charming as she always was to me. All day little plans that I wrote a very splendid woman. And you about have changed. And I am chief & faithfully believe I'm sure to see her. Just settling myself quietly here her life to me - then I'll always be for the winter. It has seemed to atmosphere of strength whenever she clearly the right thing to do. That has been. We must meet again. Surely there must be a reason for it - Saturday. I'm sure. - Before our of it look for guidance. You don't I lastly work is finished. for we were