

there is anything & can lend them to help lighten for me without the burden of their sorrow.

Your welcome and cheering letter
Missage came just as we left town for your work in the South and West.
Many thanks, dear friend,
May the thought for us be kept, yet
not gone.

I wish you were well and at home as this hard journey is ended, the sweet stop work for a long rest.
Let me know if you are like in town in May.

With affectionate regard and most sympathetic remembrance from all sort, believe me.

Very sincerely,

Forster B. D. Reynolds.
