

Three Members of a Family brought to the Isolation Hospital with their Mother who was suffering from Smallpox.

The child in the centre was unvaccinated, the other two had been vaccinated the year before because of the school vaccination requirements, the two vaccinated remained in the smallpox wards several weeks and never contracted the disease.

From "Welch and Schamberg on Acute Contagious Diseases."