THE FOOLISH FIVE

"Well, then, would it have been fair for me to say, 'No' when Nancy begged to live in tent number eight?"

"Nancy begged! Did Nancy want to go . . . ?" Jean was still uncomprehending.

It was Phyllis who rallied first. "Let's go and find Nance," she said, softly, with a wee catch in her voice. "Me, I feel about the size of a firefly, let alone a flashlight, but Nancy, she's a star!"

—The Girls' Own Number of "The Torch."

At the heart of the cyclone, tearing the sky,
And flinging the clouds and the towers by,

Is a place of central calm:
So here in the road of mortal things
I have a place where the spirit sings
In the hollow of God's palm.

—Edwin Markham.

FORGET THEM NOT!

Forget them not, O Christ, who stand,
Thy vanguard in the distant land.
In flood, in flame, in dark, in dread,
Sustain, we pray, each lifted head.
Exalt them over every fear,
In peril come thyself more near.
Thine is the work they strive to do;
Be with thine own, thy loved, who stand,
Christ's vanguard, in the storm swept land;
Their foes so many, they so few.
