

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS. A VOLUNTARY VICTIM OF EXPIATION.

BY M. C. G. Pierre Lafont was born in Paris in 1876. At an early age he was sent to the college known as the Petit Seminaire de Notre Dame des Champs...

Pierre was always a privileged child of the Blessed Virgin. Of a mild disposition, he showed himself, from his earliest years, unalterably kind and amiable toward every one...

His first Communion was like that of an angel. From the day of its reception a remarkable change was noticeable in him. He became more grave, more reserved, and a useless or frivolous word never passed his lips.

During his vacations in the country he spent long hours of adoration in the little chapel where the Blessed Sacrament was kept. Those who saw him there were struck with his prayerful recollection manifested in his prayers...

One day he accompanied his family on a long walk. But soon his parents perceived that he was no longer with a chapel, praying fervently.

"My dear child," said his mother, "why did you leave us?" "O mamma," responded Pierre, "I thought that Jesus would be alone, and I returned to keep Him company."

At the age of fifteen years he confided in his mother a desire to embrace a religious life. "All my life," he said to her, "I have never entertained any desire other than to consecrate myself to God, and my wish was always to be a Benedictine."

"I wish to be a religious in order that I may always pray, always pray and thank God."

On one day of each week the pupils of the Petit Seminaire were given a holiday. On these occasions Pierre's father came to conduct him to his home to spend the day. It was their custom to visit the church of the Sacred Heart, at Montmartre, Notre Dame des Victoires, and the Jesuit church.

Pierre would say, in embracing his mother: "Oh, what a happy day I have passed; papa has had the goodness to take me to visit Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament."

In 1893 his mother took him to assist in the beautiful ceremony of the departure of missionaries. He was profoundly impressed, and expressed a lively thirst for the salvation of souls, and such an ardent love of God that he fervently aspired to a missionary life and a martyr's crown.

CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN.

If we do not work for bread with our hands, we are bound under penalty of becoming criminal, to labor with brain and heart, to strengthen, purify and enrich human life. Therefore we must be workers of hand that man may live, and there must be work of brain and heart that they may live worthily and nobly.

Employed by Electricity. T. C. Martin, an authority upon the subject, finds that 100,000 people are employed in telegraphy, 25,000 by Bell telephone companies, 150,000 in electric lighting plants, 10,000 on street railways operated by electricity, and 150,000 in electrical factories.

Having a Hobby. Happy is the man who has a hobby which wishes to arrange the specimens of natural history or geology which he has acquired during his summer rambles, or is able to use the lathe, the fret-saw, the telescope or microscope. An hour or so spent on this will divert the nervous energy into an altogether new compartment of the brain, and this is the true secret of getting as much as possible out of one's time.

Happy is still the man who has a taste for music and who has mastered the initial difficulties of the violin, the piano, the organ or the cornet! Nothing is so refreshing as to be able to soothe oneself with music, or to turn to the rough sketches we have made in summer excursions with a view to completing them.

Happy is still the man who has a taste for the study of the life of a great man, and who has mastered the initial difficulties of the life of a great man, and who has mastered the initial difficulties of the life of a great man.

Happy is still the man who has a taste for the study of the life of a great man, and who has mastered the initial difficulties of the life of a great man.

Happy is still the man who has a taste for the study of the life of a great man, and who has mastered the initial difficulties of the life of a great man.

Happy is still the man who has a taste for the study of the life of a great man, and who has mastered the initial difficulties of the life of a great man.

Happy is still the man who has a taste for the study of the life of a great man, and who has mastered the initial difficulties of the life of a great man.

Happy is still the man who has a taste for the study of the life of a great man, and who has mastered the initial difficulties of the life of a great man.

CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN.

man looks upon himself as an exception. I tell you that this is the law: that you have got to labor, if you want to get money, if you want to succeed.

Now, if you wish to be good men, to have success in the approval of a rational man, to a reasonable being. I have noticed that men who have character are nearly all men who have been successful. Take the professions. The men of the finest character are nearly all men who lead in their profession.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN.

man looks upon himself as an exception. I tell you that this is the law: that you have got to labor, if you want to get money, if you want to succeed.

Now, if you wish to be good men, to have success in the approval of a rational man, to a reasonable being. I have noticed that men who have character are nearly all men who have been successful. Take the professions. The men of the finest character are nearly all men who lead in their profession.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN.

man looks upon himself as an exception. I tell you that this is the law: that you have got to labor, if you want to get money, if you want to succeed.

Now, if you wish to be good men, to have success in the approval of a rational man, to a reasonable being. I have noticed that men who have character are nearly all men who have been successful. Take the professions. The men of the finest character are nearly all men who lead in their profession.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN.

man looks upon himself as an exception. I tell you that this is the law: that you have got to labor, if you want to get money, if you want to succeed.

Now, if you wish to be good men, to have success in the approval of a rational man, to a reasonable being. I have noticed that men who have character are nearly all men who have been successful. Take the professions. The men of the finest character are nearly all men who lead in their profession.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN.

man looks upon himself as an exception. I tell you that this is the law: that you have got to labor, if you want to get money, if you want to succeed.

Now, if you wish to be good men, to have success in the approval of a rational man, to a reasonable being. I have noticed that men who have character are nearly all men who have been successful. Take the professions. The men of the finest character are nearly all men who lead in their profession.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

They are the men who stand out from their fellows, become leaders, great beacons, throwing their light across the perilous sea. These are the men who are free, who become a part of the life of their people, maybe a part of the life of the world.

FEVER'S VICTIMS.

The After Effects Often Worse Than the Disease Itself. A SUFFERER FROM THE AFTER EFFECTS OF TYPHOID TELLS OF HIS DEPLORABLE CONDITION—PREPARED TO BE IN A RAPID DECLINE.

The after effects of some troubles, such as fevers, la grippe, etc., are frequently more serious in their results than the original illness, and the patient is left almost physically wrecked. In such cases as those which are treated in this column, it is necessary to have a tonic medicine, to enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves, and put the system right.

Mr. L. Barnhart, a prosperous young farmer living near Welland, Ont., offers proof of the truth of these statements. Mr. Barnhart, says: "Some years ago, while living in the United States, I was attacked by typhoid fever, the after effects of which proved more disastrous to my constitution than the fever itself, and for months I was an almost total wreck. I had no appetite, was haggard and emaciated, and apparently bloodless."

I had violent and distressing headaches, and my three doctors, but they failed to benefit me. At this juncture a friend of mine mentioned my case to another physician, and he suggested that I should take a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took this advice and found it most satisfactory. Almost from the outset the pills helped me, and I continued their use until I had taken about a dozen boxes, when I felt myself fully restored to my former health, and my weight increased to 165 pounds."

These pills are a certain cure for the after effects of fever, la grippe and pneumonia. They make new, rich, red blood and strengthen the nerves from first dose to last; and in this way they cure such troubles as anaemia, neuralgia, rheumatism, heart weakness, kidney and liver ailments, partial paralysis, St. Vitis dance, etc. They also cure the functional ailments that make the lives of so many women a source of constant misery, and bring the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Other alleged tonic pills are mere imitations of this great medicine, and the buyer should see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is on every box. Sold by all dealers in medicine, or sent post paid at 50c, a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Two Sources. ALCOHOL AND MORPHINE. An Antidote Discovered. A recent remarkable discovery in medicine which has been found to annihilate the appetite for alcoholic drinks and all drugs, even in the most hopeless cases, is attracting a good deal of attention among those interested in temperance work.

How a Woman Paid Her Debts. I am out of debt, thanks to the Dish-washer business. In the past three months I have made $200 selling Dish-washers. I never saw anything so easily. Every family needs a Dish-washer and will buy one when they see how easily it will wash and dry the family dishes in two minutes. I sell from my own home. Each Dish-washer sold brings me many orders. The dish-washer is sold without waiting the hands. That is why ladies want the Dish-washer. Give my experience for the benefit of any one who may wish to make money easily. I buy my Dish-washers from the Wash-Dish City Dish-Washer Co., St. Louis, Mo. Write them for particulars. They will start you in business in your own home.

How a Woman Paid Her Debts. I am out of debt, thanks to the Dish-washer business. In the past three months I have made $200 selling Dish-washers. I never saw anything so easily. Every family needs a Dish-washer and will buy one when they see how easily it will wash and dry the family dishes in two minutes. I sell from my own home. Each Dish-washer sold brings me many orders. The dish-washer is sold without waiting the hands. That is why ladies want the Dish-washer. Give my experience for the benefit of any one who may wish to make money easily. I buy my Dish-washers from the Wash-Dish City Dish-Washer Co., St. Louis, Mo. Write them for particulars. They will start you in business in your own home.

Advertisement for Surprise Soap, featuring an illustration of a woman and a child, and text describing its benefits for laundry and skin.

Advertisement for Blake West Side Catholic Bookstore, listing various religious books and their prices.

Advertisement for Murray & Lanman's Florida Water, describing its uses for various ailments and its pleasant fragrance.

Advertisement for Mutual Life of Canada, highlighting its financial strength and the benefits of its life insurance policies.

Advertisement for Pond's Extract, emphasizing its effectiveness for relieving chafing, itching, and irritation of the skin.

Advertisement for Red's Hardware, listing various tools and household goods available at their store.

Advertisement for Allen's Lung Balm, claiming to cure coughs, croup, bronchitis, and other respiratory ailments.

Advertisement for Bed-Lime Cordova Candles, describing their quality and availability.