

An Income For the Farmer's Wife

THE wife of every farmer should have her own income and her own bank account.

And it does not matter how busy you are in the home, or how little time you have to devote to the raising of poultry we can show you how you can make a good income and build up a substantial bank account by poultry raising the Peerless Way.

We can show you how to be independent of the money your husband gets for his crops and other farm produce, so that when you wish to buy clothes, or take a shopping trip to town, you can just stop at the bank and draw all the money you will require.

The Peerless Way Makes Poultry Pay

If you know the right way to raise and keep poultry it requires very little outlay or money, and takes but very little of your time. The right way is the Peerless Way, that is, by hatching the eggs in a Peerless Incubator and rearing chickens in a Peerless Brooder.

Bowsman River, Man.

"I bought a Peerless machine from a friend. It was the first machine I ever have seen. I brought out three hatches; the first hatch I got 137 chicks from 106 eggs, second hatch I got 143 chicks from 204 eggs, and the third hatch I got 134 chicks from 210 eggs. Intend starting another hatch this week.

I like my machine fine and would not be without one again.

Yours very truly,

(Sgd) Mrs. Scl. Richet."

We have prepared a book for you entitled "Money In Eggs," if you would be interested in learning how other women like you are making independent incomes from the sale of eggs and plump chickens. TEMPERANCE REFERENDUM REFUSED

In the Manitoba Legislature on Tuesday, January 13, a motion calling upon the government to take a referendum of the province on the question of banishing the bar was moved by J. B. Baird, the Liberal member for Mountain. The resolution was opposed by Sir Rodmond Roblin, who moved an amendment favorable to the present local option law, which was carried on a party vote.

Mr. Baird's motion was as follows: "Whereas about 20,000 of the electors of the province have petitioned this legislature to submit by way of a referendum the question of abolishing the sale of intoxicating liquors in bar-rooms,

"Therefore be it resolved, that in the opinion of this House the prayer of the said petition should be granted forthwith."

The amendment moved by Premier Roblin, and adopted by the House, was as follows: "This legislature, having declared for the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors, whether retail or wholesale, by the local option clauses of the Liquor License Act, and excellent results having been secured therefrom, declines, until proof is given that some other method would be more effective, to endorse any action or policy regarding the liquor trade that may impair the securing of total prohibition, as provided in said local option clauses."

DEATH OF STRATHCONA

London, Eng. Jan. 21.—Lord Strathcona, High Commissioner of Canada since 1896, died today at the age of 94. Since the death of his wife on November 12, he has been in failing health and the end came very peacefully. Donald Alexander Smith was born in Morayshire, Scotland, in 1820. At the age of eighteen he entered the Hudson's Bay Company's service for £20 a year, being assigned a trading post in Labrador, where he stayed for thirteen years. After this term promotion in the company came very rapidly. During the Riel rebellion, Smith played an important part, the Dominion Government appointing him special commissioner. Subsequently he represented Winnipeg in the Manitoba Legislature and the riding of Selkirk at Ottawa, as a supporter of Sir John A. Macdonald. As a railway builder and promoter he had much to do with the opening up of the West. The C.P.R. in particular owes much to him. During the South African War, Strathcona completely equipped, at his own expense, a force of 540 mounted men. His gifts to charity and education were lavish. The extent of his private fortune is unknown, but he was reputed to be by far the richest Canadian. At word of his death, both the Canadian Commons and Senate adjourned, after Premier Borden, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and others had paid high-tribute to the High Commissioner's long and active career.
