LIGGET & HAMILTON,

"How can you sell them so much cheaper than others?" This has been the enquiry from many ladies when buying our Parasols and Umbrellas, during the last three weeks.

Our answer is that we have bought several very large lots from importers and agents who were determined to sell at almost any sacrifice, and we give our customers the full benefit.

We are not selling "under cost," or making any "sacrifice" whatever, but we are selling new goods of the best quality for less than the makers' price in London, to say nothing of duty, freight and other expenses of importation.

We invite inspection and comparison.

LIGGET & HAMILTON,
