DEATH AT GLEN BUELL

Mr Edward Westlake, a prominent and esteemed resident of Elizabethtown, passed away on Sunday morning at 7.30 at his residence, one-half mile from Glen Buall He had been in illhealth since early last winter, and during the past few days little hopes were entertained towards his recovery.

The late Mr Westlake was born in the vicinity of where he died and had he lived until August would have reached his sixty-third birthday. He followed farming all his life, his farm being located at the point where the B. W. & N. Railway crosses in that district the crossing being known as "Point Edward," named in his honor. His wife, who was Miss Lee, also of Glen Buell, survives with three children, namely, Delbert, who occupies an adjoining farm; Mrs Wm. Clow, of the Front road, west of Brockyille, and Miss Mabel at home. Another daughter, Miss Jessie, died between three and four years ago. The late Mr Westlake was a man whom to know was to hold in the highest regard of esteem. He had many warm friends, all of whom feel that in his passing, a citizen has been removed, whose place in life of the community, will never be filled.

AGRICULTURAL INSTRUCTIOM

A recent issue of the Ottawa Citizen is devoted to a write-up of the work of the various District Repreentatives of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and gives the following report of Leeds and Grenville :--Leeds aud Grenville branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture was opened up in June, 1912, with W. H. Smith as representative, Athens being selected as the most central place for the location of the office. In Leeds and Grenville counties, as s common in the greater part of East ern Ontario, the farmers resort to dairying as their main source of reven-REFERENCE ue." The majority have to a considerable extent overlooked, the possibilities of such branches of industry as horse raising, bacon production, orcharding, poultry keeping and bee keeping, as side lines which may be profitably handled on a dairy farm. Quite a number of the farms in the ombined counties are sadly in need of inderdrainage. It is certain that n one thing will accomplish more toward the advancement of agriculture in this district than extensive laying of tile. Many of the farmers are aware of this fact, and judging from the number of applications for drainage surveys now on file in this office, a large acreage will be underdrained this coming season. Scarcity of labor seriously ham pers farmers now in the matter of geing drains put down. The farmers' clubs are considering this matter, and expect to make an organized effort to ecure a tile ditcher in the county. It is a regretable feature that so few farmers' organizations exist in these counties. At present we have three farmers' clubs, two of these were operating successfully when this office was established, the third was organized last month, with an initial membership of twenty-five. The Lansdowne Farmers' Club while holding meetings for the general discussion of agricultural topics and buying seed grain, etc. as do the others, is now forming a co-operative marketing association under the auspices of the club. The intention is to take up the marketing of eggs first, but there is no doubt that other lines of farm produce will be included later. That the club movement has not been given very serious consideration

RNNNNNNN by the farmers up to this time has been gleaned through conversing with them on the subject. There are several communities that can be organized to good advantage, and in all probability there will be several more clubs in existence here in the course ct another year. The Leeds and Grenville Oounties stock is the greatest in the of the business Everybody the lend is planting or pre-erating for some time now, but it is not as well supported by the beekeep. ers of the counties as it should be. The annual meting of the association which was ild in this office last for Fall and winter months a relable mouth was hirly well attended, and

> The work from this office developed slowly. At the outset just a few farmers were aware of the hature of the district representative movement These men were quite anxious to assist the representative. The first few months after the office was opened the representative made it a point to advertise the fact as well as he could, also the objects in opening, by addressing farmers' meetings and using the local papers. In the fall he attended local tairs with a tent exhibit which did much to interest some of the more progressive farmers.

The work of the office has developed rapidly of late. There are a large number of farmers interested in the work, who are going to avail themselves of the services of the district representative this coming season.

The short courses in judging live

The short courses in judging live stock and seed grain which we held caused many of the farmers to look in the counties during the winter with much favor on the movement. The district representative, Mr W. H. Shith, spent his early days in Ridgetown, Kent county, where his public and high school training was received. Leaving high school, he sp nt some years getting actual farm experiences in Lambton and Huron counties, as well as in Minnesota. Entered Guelph college with class '11 but at the end of the second year dropped out, finishing with class '12. After taking the third year examina-tions, spent some time in Dundas county as assistant to Mr A. D. Camp ounty as assistant to Mr A. D. Campbell, who was district range.
