Three and Half Years in the Penitentiary.

This morning John R. Dunlop was brought up for sentence in the Supreme Court. It will be remembered he was recently convicted by a jury of shooting at Dr. Pritchard with intent to do bodily harm. Last week an appeal was heard from this verdict but was dismissed by the Full Bench. This morning the Chief Justice sentenced the prisoner to three and a half years imprisonment in the Penitentiary from the date of commitment with hard labour.

A like sentence was given to Beneno Diaz, who pleaded guilty some little time ago to stabbing a fellow sailor named Born, who was sent to the Hospital with the knife wounds he received but who has since then recovered and left the country. The sentences are severe in both cases. The crimes, however, are such as require exemplary treatment. Under English criminal law a person who shoots at or strikes another person with intent to do him some grievous bodily harm is guilty of felony, which is punishable by penal servitude to the extent of life.

It may be that the sentence meted out to Dunlop will cause some surprise, but it must be remembered that revolvers can no more be tolerated as weapons of offence in personal affairs than in the case of a person who is put down with a strong hand. Fortunately our own people are given to the use of neither the one nor the other, and strangers who come within our gates must be taught to observe the amenities of life they find here.

Became Demented.

While at work in the shops of the Reid Nfld. Co. this morning a young man named James Colbert, of Carbonar, began to act strangely and talk in an incoherent manner. His brother employees fearing that ill would befall him placed him under restraint for a while and then brought him to the police station. Here Supt. Grimes called Dr. Stafford, who on examining the man pronounced him insane and ordered him to the Lunatic Asylum where he will be taken this afternoon.

Obituary.

MR. MARTIN CLUNNEY.
The death occurred this morning, at his residence, Queen's Road, of Mr. Martin Clunney. Mr. Clunney had been only a short while ill and his death came as a sad surprise to his family and friends. Mr. Clunney all his life was a farmer and teamster, and was an honest and upright man. To his family and friends the Telegram extends its sympathy.

MR. PATRICK KENNEDY.
The death also occurred this forenoon, at his residence, Queen's Road, of Mr. Patrick Kennedy, the well known tailor and clothier. Mr. Kennedy had been in failing health for several years past and his demise was looked forward to for some time. For many years he carried on a very successful business on Water Street, and he was well known and esteemed amongst a large circle of friends in the city. He was noted for his kindly and cheerful disposition and inherited a goodly share of the wit and humour for which the Irish and their descendants are noted. He graduated from St. Bonaventure's College in 1881, took an active part in athletics in years gone by and was an excellent cricketer while at St. Bon's and in the Zulu C. C. of the early eighties. He was a noted "slogger," and when "Pat," as he was familiarly known, hit the ball, "long field-off" had his work cut out for him, and he was rarely retired without a good figure going to his credit. Mr. Kennedy's many friends in St. John's will learn of his death with unfeigned sorrow. He leaves a wife and two children with many relatives, and to them we extend our sincere condolence in their bereavement.

City Council Meeting

The City Council held a meeting yesterday, during which conference was held with the Minister about proposed amendments to certain clauses in the Municipal Act. Council will deal with the licensing of motor cars, the licensing of chauffeurs. It is likely an amendment will be made to the Rebuilding Act as it applies to erection of sheds along the waterfront. A tax will be levied on cycles and automobiles according to the horsepower. Drivers and owners will have to prove themselves capable before being granted a license by the City Council. A standard of charges will be laid down for cabs, to which they will have to conform.

Seamen Delay Vessel

Almost every vessel sailing foreign ports of late has been delayed by seamen who go ashore and to return until sought for, and causes annoyance and loss often. Yesterday the schooner Jean was delayed owing to this and Capt. Kent had to make a search for the miscreants who were all found after a search in the shore except one, could not be discovered, another was shipped in his place, and the vessel sailed during the afternoon.
