The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

In a recent novel, Elizabeth, the young heroine, in a moment of insane anger with the man she is engaged to and really loves, marries a man for whom she cares nothing. Of her state of mind afterwards the author writes: "She would fall to thinking with vague amazement that the irremediable catastrophe was out of all proportion to its cause. It was monstrous that a crazy moment should ruin a whole life—two whole lives—hers and David's. It was as if a pebble should deflect a river from its course and make it turn and overflow a landscape."

Do You Feel This Way? Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite and are unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your lazy liver to work. It will strengthen your stomach, and your appetite will come back. It will purify your blood. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that tendency away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about a cure in 75 per cent. It is a gift prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice. Don't be misled by a cheap, imitative substitute for Dr. Pierce's medicine, recommended to be "just as good." Dr. Pierce's medicines are of known composition. Their every ingredient printed on their wrapper. Made from roots without alcohol. Contains no habit-forming drugs. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Household Notes.

Clean plaster of paris ornaments with wet starch brushed off when dry. When washing glassware slip it into the hot water sidewise to avoid breaking. If a new silk skirt is pressed with a hot iron before wearing it will prevent it from cracking. Clear black coffee diluted with water and containing a little ammonia will clean and restore black clothes. Hot cinders and the like can quickly be removed by sweeping the eye with a small goose-feather dipped in oil. When the windows refuse to slip up and down easily, take a small piece of soap and rub it along the groove. Remove grass stains with cream of tartar and water or alcohol; the latter never stains the most delicate color. To lessen the odor of wet paint, put bowls of hot water in the rooms. The water has the effect of absorbing the paint odors. Feathers that have grown grimy may be given a bath in alcohol, after which they should be shaken over heat or in the hot sun until dry. Burns are best treated with olive oil on antiseptic cotton applied as hot as can be borne. This is also the best treatment for a discolored eye. Put a handful of coarse oatmeal in

Compulsory Fly Screens

Chicago Physician Would Force Landlords to Provide Them. Dr. Thomas S. Crowe, of Chicago, official physician of Cook County, Ill., advocates a law that would compel landlords to provide fly screens for all doors and windows. In urging his reform Dr. Crowe says: "If the ravages of the house fly were minimized we would have a city and county with less disease and fewer deaths, and taxpayers would be saved in dollars and cents. We maintain county hospitals to take care of those whom the fly has laid low, but we take no step, however simple to cheat the fly of its victims. Other ordinances, impelled by the laws of hygiene and sanitation are thrown about poor people for their protection against disease, but when all these health ordinances are scanned, it seems to me that little has been done toward the protection of the people in summer time against the greatest carrier of all diseases, namely, the fly."

Surprising Simpson.

David R. Forgan, the well-known banker, has a dry Scotch humour. Speaking of the danger of being puff'd up by sudden honours, Mr. Forgan told this story of Simpson, the great Scotch physician. "Dr. Simpson had been absent from his class for some time, and on his return he announced that a great professional honour had been conferred upon him," said Mr. Forgan. "I am happy to inform you young gentlemen that a very great honour has come to me since last we met here," said Professor Simpson, his eye beaming with honest pride. "I have just received notification that I have been appointed physician-in-ordinary to Her Majesty Victoria."

"The great discoverer of chloroform had over his glasses as it were expected his class to be quite taken away by the great news. Instead, he was shocked to hear his students burst into the national anthem, 'God Save the Queen!'"

"And still they say the Scotch have no sense of humour," added Mr. Forgan.

Wire Wounds.

My mare, a very valuable one, was badly bruised and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines. Dr. Bell advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT, diluted at first, then stronger as the sores began to look better, until after three weeks, the sores have healed, and best of all, the hair is growing well, and is NOT white as is most always the case in horse wounds. P. M. DUCET, Weymouth.

Blow of a Whale's Tail

Grave and Lion Rank After the Whale. Ask 10 persons what is the strongest animal force in the world and nine will reply it is the blow of a lion's paw. The tenth man may express the belief, based on experience, that is the kick of a Missouri mule. As a matter of fact the blow of a whale's tail is incomparably the strongest animal force. A blow delivered by a full grown whale placed at just the right distance would smash in the side of a wooden ship as though it were an egg-shell. The second strongest force is the kick of a giraffe, and this terrible kick is adequate protection to these otherwise helpless animals. The stroke of the lion's paw comes third on the list—Harper's Weekly.

Cut His Throat by Rubbing on Bed Edge.

East Greenwich, R. I., July 18. — An unusual method of committing suicide was adopted by Samuel Hamblin, 40 years old, who was found dead to-day in his cell at the Kent county jail. Hamblin, a mill operative of Conant, had rubbed his neck back and forth on the sharp edge of his bed in the cell until he had cut his throat. He was committed to the jail on Saturday to work out a fine of $2 and costs for intoxication.

When the pie is ready for the oven pour cold water over it and drain it put at once into a hot oven and it will bake a rich, brown glossy surface and the crust will be much flakier. When half a grapefruit or melon is left from a meal place it cut side down on a china or agate plate, so that no air can reach it, and the fruit will keep as though it had not been cut. Always dry white silk gloves or stockings in the dark if one would not have them turn yellow. On this account many wear these articles at night so that they may be dry before daylight. A couple of tablespoonfuls of borax in the water required for washing about five pairs of light-colored hose will remove all traces of stains from the leather that they may have in them.
