Archbishop Roche Visits Ferryland.

His Grace Archbishop Roche accompanied by Rt. Rev. Fr. McDermott paid his first Episcopal visit to Ferryland, on Sunday, September 19th. His Grace was visiting the Southern Shore for the purpose of holding Confirmation at Tor's Cove and Cape Broyle, and having received an invitation from Very Rev. Father Vereker, he decided not to leave the Shore without visiting this historical spot.

Many hearty welcomes have been extended from time to time by the Ferryland people to Dignitaries of Church and State, but compared with the reception given to His Grace on last Sunday they all seem to pale into insignificance. During the preceding week the work of erecting arches was pushed on so vigorously by the fishermen who after the day's fishing was over, worked with hammer and axe well into each night so that by Sunday they had spanned the main road with magnificent arches in nearly a dozen places. These arches, though not of the massive style erected in St. John's at the time of the Consecration, yet possessed a charm of their own in their rustic simplicity and were decked with many appropriate mottoes.

The Episcopal Party was met at Cape Broyle by the venerable and saintly Pastor, Very Rev. Fr. Vereker, and Curate, Father Rawlins, and from there proceeded to Ferryland by motor. Here the people of the place were thronged together around the Parish Priest's house; young and old were there, showing by their presence their esteem, homage, and love for our new Archbishop. The school children, of whom there were about eighty, dressed in their gayest colors, were lined up along the roadside and under the grand old trees in front of the parochial residence. As the car drew up the party was greeted by volley after volley of musketry in the time-honored salute, while from hundreds of throats went up the most ringing cheers that ever Ferryland has heard since the relief ships of Lord Baltimore appeared before it.

A sumptuous dinner was partaken of at the parochial residence at which, in addition to the above mentioned clergy, Very Rev. Fr. Doughty, P.P., Renew, was present, also Dr. Freebairn and Hon. M. P. Cashin. The Episcopal Varty afterwards proceeded to the T. A. Hall, where an entertainment was held by the school-girls. The Hall was beautifully decorated, while a magnificent display of fireworks was given from an eminence in front of the Church. From here a fine view could be got of the illuminations, the new Convent standing out prominently, the large windows being beautifully illuminated in many colours and various designs.

The entertainment consisted principally of an operetta by the school-girls, who went through their different roles faultlessly, some of the pupils displaying remarkable musical ability, and all doing very well. An address which was beautifully illuminated was read from the school-children in which they expressed the joy of their young hearts at his presence among them. At the conclusion of the programme His Grace delivered a short address in which he thanked the people for their enthusiastic and whole-hearted welcome and also their beloved and venerated pastor, who had been referred to in the children's address as the "golden link connecting His Grace to the people of Ferryland." He expressed his great pleasure and surprise at the faultless manner in which the children performed their parts and praised the energetic teachers who had brought them to such perfection.

On Monday morning His Grace celebrated Mass in the Parish Church at which an immense congregation assisted, the choir rendering Stierne's Mass to perfection, while Dr. Freebairn sang a beautiful Offertory piece. After Mass Mrs. Thomas Costello entered the Sanctuary and read an address from the parishioners, to which His Grace replied in choice and eloquent language referring to his well known connections with our saintly parish priest.

During the morning His Grace took a drive around the settlement and in the afternoon left for Cape Broyle. He was given a good send off and thus ended his first visit to Ferryland and one which can hardly fail to be most productive of happy remembrances which will be long treasured by His Grace and people.

Ferryland, September 23rd, 1915.

ADDRESS TO MOST REV. E. P. ROCHE, D.D., ARCHBISHOP OF ST. JOHN'S.

Your Grace: Many eloquent addresses have been presented to you by the children of the various Convent Schools, each expressive of the utmost gratification that the Holy See had selected you to be our Archbishop, and we, the pupils of the Ferryland Schools, would faintly mingle our voices in the general chorus of joy and salutation and tender to Your Grace our sincere and affectionate homage on the occasion of this your first Episcopal visit to our Parish.

We have been told that next to Placentia which honours you as its most illustrious Son, the Parish of Ferryland has, through its venerable and saintly pastor, a special claim on your regard. This we trust will prove the first link in a golden chain, which will go on strengthening with the lengthening years—a chain which will bind the hearts of the present children and the future men and women of Ferryland in loyalty and devotion to Your Grace.

We ask Your Grace to accept this Address as a slight token of the sentiments which animate our young hearts on this joyous and memorable day, whilst we respectfully and cordially bid you welcome, thrice welcome to our historic little town.

Mollie Keefe, Hilda Kreutzline, Leo Keefe, Mina Freebairn, Neta Barnable, Austin Devereaux.

A Wonderful Discovery.

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill.

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mother should never forget this.

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day, Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co. and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Achi Baba Must Fall Soon, Says Army Chaplain.

The Rev. A. W. Brown, Back from Dardanelles—Work Difficult, But Men Heroic—Colonial Troops Win High Honors in Peninsular Campaign.

After witnessing four months of fighting in the Dardanelles, from April 25th to August 15th, when 300,000 British soldiers had been landed within easy gun range of Achi Baba, the Rev. W. A. Brown returned on the Pretorian this morning for a well-earned rest.

"The Dardanelles must and will be forced," was the summing up of his impressions. The Allies will never retire although they now realize that Achi Baba may not be taken by assault. It is now heavily engaged along its front. Kitchener's army 300,000 strong are there, but on too narrow a front to make such a weight felt. Meantime small French and Australian forces are working their way around and will soon cut Achi Baba off from its base."

Speaking of the British losses, Chaplain Brown said: "Our losses some days were incredible, but I can tell you on the best authority that ten Turks have fallen for every one of the Allies. The Turks are brave fellows in defending trenches, but are completely lost in the open. At such times their losses have been terrible. They are fair fighters. They treated our wounded well and never "gassed" us.

"The reason the Turks continue to fight in spite of wholesale casualties is because they fear the Germans. Every time the Turks charge from a trench there are machine-guns behind that blaze into the trench if it is not immediately evacuated. Turkish gunners are now chained to their guns. I have these facts directly from Turkish officers we have captured. The German officers refuse to speak.

"The difficulties the Allies are fighting under are tremendous. All the water must be brought from the ships in the tanks, gullies and ravines have to be bridged to allow the men and guns to cross. There is a plague of flies and there are no regular hospitals just clearing points for wounded.

"But once Achi Baba is taken the Dardanelles are forced. As to pending developments it is significant that within six weeks there will be weather conditions which will compel the Allies to advance or leave the peninsula. They will never leave. Just after the fleet had left the Aegean the Turkish and German aviators pamphlet our lines with the information that the torrential rains were soon due, making trench life on the peninsula impossible. They also told us in atrocious English that the fleet had deserted us.

Monitors Useful.

"There are now two monitors with the Allies, and although they draw only three feet of water, they have seventeen inch guns aboard, which they fire at Achi Baba. The Turks cannot reply, as the monitors are under the cliffs close inshore and out of sight. Three German submarines were in operation when I left. There was also a brand new one, but we captured it. Their presence rendered the stay of the warships impossible. The Triumph was an instance of this. These warships were surrounded by about thirty small craft and completely shielded by netting. One day the captain wished to go ashore in his launch, and to permit of this the nets had to be lifted. They had not been up two minutes when a torpedo crashed into the Triumph.

"I also saw the Royal George torpedoed. She was on her way from Alexandria while we were going back on the S.S. Soudan. We had hardly passed her when she was hit. Our ship took up 150 of her survivors. The Canadian liner went down head first very soon after she was hit. There were plenty of other vessels near at hand when she sank.

Although the difficulties met with have been huge, the soldiers, 'Anzac' British and French, are cheerfully determined to see it through, and they know well that in hand-to-hand fighting they are superior to the Turks. The Australians and New Zealanders are greatly liked along with their inseparable brothers, the Gurkhas, who love them.

"Look Like Wild Men."

"To the Khurkas, the Australians, who are all huge fellows, look like giants. To strangers the troops must look like wild men. They dispense with most of their clothing in the blazing sun. Trousers are cut off short, socks are thrown away, only undershirts are worn and in many cases boots are missing. They know big developments are due and the rank and file are only too eager to be in at the final spurt."

Captain W. A. Brown is going to Regina on leave and hopes to return to the 29th Division in two months. Alexandria, he says is swarming with troops of three nationalities. There is no let up in the work of pushing the attack on the key position. The effort of some weeks ago almost succeeded in cutting off the Turkish army but failed through lack of transport facilities.
