RUSSIAN GENERAL'S CONFIDENCE

PETROGRAD, Jan. 22. The Ruskij Clove says General Brussloff, Commander-in-Chief of the Russian armies of the southwestern front, addressing his staff officers said: "Information at my disposal and my personal conviction warrant me saying that I am as certain as I am standing before you that during the coming year the enemy will be completely routed."

SUCCESSFUL RAID AGAINST ENEMY TRENCHES.

LONDON, Jan. 22. The report from the British headquarters in France issued last night says a successful raid was made this morning against enemy trenches southeast of Loos. Dozens of Germans were bombed and destroyed, and many casualties inflicted on the enemy with small cost to ourselves. We secured some prisoners.

CONFERENCE ON ROMANIAN PROBLEMS.

LONDON, Jan. 22. The Crown Prince of Romania and Premier Bratianu have arrived at Petrograd for a conference with the Russian authorities on important questions in connection with the Romanian situation, according to a Petrograd despatch to the Times. The despatch says that tens of thousands of Roumanian refugees continue to pour into Besarabia and the adjoining provinces. Among them are 12,000 Roumanian boy scouts, whom the correspondent says, the Germans threatened to treat as guerrillas. Some refugees have arrived at Petrograd.

IS SHE SUNK?

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. The following cable has been received from Pernambuco, dated Jan. 21: A Prussian commerce raider, believed to be the Vineta, which wrought havoc with Allied shipping the last few weeks in the South Atlantic, particularly off the Brazilian coast, has been sunk by the British cruiser Glasgow, 130 miles off Para, according to a generally accepted report received here to-night. Although the report is not officially confirmed, previous reports of the raider's position caused the news to be regarded as authentic.

Buenos Ayres.—Laprensa publishes a despatch from Rio Janeiro saying that according to a cablegram received at Pernambuco, the British cruiser Glasgow has sunk a German commerce raider 130 miles off Para. No details are given.

GERMAN ATTACKS FAIL.

PARIS, Jan. 22. Two attacks were made by the Germans last night on the Verdun front, on the right hand of the Meuse, to-day's official announcement says. They were driven back each time by the French fire.

RUSSIANS PRESSED BACK.

PETROGRAD, Jan. 22. In the face of an attack by a considerable force in the Nanezi sector along the Sereth line on the Roumanian front, the Russians were pressed back towards the Sereth, the war office announced. Heavy fighting along the Moldavian frontier is continuing and an attempted offensive by Teutonic forces was checked by the Russians south of Lamuntelu Mountain, as was another offensive further to the south.

BRAZILIAN WARSHIPS ON THE MOVE.

RIO JANEIRO, Jan. 22. The Minister of Marine declared to-day that the Brazilian warships which were watching the coasts had been given strictest instructions to capture any raiders operating in any manner that might injure Brazil's neutrality. Without attaching any credence to the reports that German steamers were planning to escape from the ports where they were interned, the Minister said emphatically that orders had been issued to the captains of the ports to prevent any secret departures.

WILSON ADDRESSES SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. President Wilson in a personal address to the Senate to-day laid down the question whether the United States shall depart from its traditional policy of isolation and no entangling alliances or take part in a world league to preserve peace after the war. Shattering a precedent of more than a century the President, regarding the Senate with its treaty-making power as his counsellor in foreign affairs, explained why he believed the time had come for the world to know America's position, and discussed general causes why the permanent peace of the world can be maintained. While President Wilson was speaking directly to Senators, after the manner of Washington, Madison and Adams, his address was in the hands of foreign governments on its way to them. No such history-making event with such far-reaching possibilities to the United States probably ever had been seen in the Senate Chamber. In the background of the fundamental proposition whether the United States should alter her foreign policy, laid down by Washington and carried out by a long line of Presidents, was the possibility that out of some such league of nations might come the way to end the present war. President Wilson's proposed basis for a lasting peace was in brief as follows: Add the authority and power of the United States to the authority and force of other nations to guarantee peace and justice throughout the world. A peace founded on an equality of rights, a united independent and autonomous world, so far as practicable giving freedom to all nations for full development of resources and direct outlet of great highways of seas; freedom of seas; limitations of naval and military armaments. For nearly half an hour the President spoke with the members of the Senate, the members listening with rapt attention. When he concluded there was a tremendous burst of applause. When the President had finished and the Senate returned to its regular business, Senator Follette epitomized the sentiment of President Wilson by saying, "We have just passed through a very important hour in the life of the world. Senator Stone, Chairman of foreign relations committee, declared the message was a "great state paper and should have a very striking effect upon the governments and people of Europe." It is the greatest document since the Declaration of Independence, said Senator Newlands. Generally the members of Congress regarded the address as food for thought to the civilized world. Some Republicans who said they did not wish to be quoted, said they were opposed to both the propriety and substance of the address. President Wilson's own view of his speech to the Senate was given in a discussion with a Senator just after he finished his address. He said, "I have said what everybody has been longing for, but has thought it impossible, but now it appears to be possible."

ARTILLERY ACTIVITY.

PARIS, Jan. 22. The official issued by the war office to-night reads: "The day was relatively calm except on the right bank of the Meuse, where artillery activity was very spirited in the sectors of Dounaumont, Bois, Caurieres and the Vosges, Chapellotta region. The Belgian reports that lively fighting with field trench artillery took place in the region of the sea. There was reciprocal bombardment on the rest of the front."

ENEMY RAIDS FAIL.

LONDON, Jan. 22. The war office to-night issued the following communication: "An enemy raid was attempted last night north of Arras. It failed with losses and without the enemy entering our trenches. This evening another attempt made against our trenches northeast of Poelsteert wood was also unsuccessful. We secured some prisoners last night and to-day as a result of patrol bombing encounters in the neighborhood of Grandcourt, Neuville St. Vaast, Fanguisart and Wytscate. Artillery activity by both sides has taken place during the day north of the Somme in the neighborhood of Serre and Ploegsteere. Opposite Arras our heavy artillery caused an explosion in the enemy's lines."

TO TRAIN FOR HOME DEFENCE.

LONDON, Jan. 22. The war office announces that all youths from 18 years of age up have been called to train for home defence until they reach the age of 19. Hitherto youths have not been called until they reached the age of 18 years and 7 months.

THAT COMMERCE RAIDER.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 22. Unverified reports were received to-day in maritime circles from Monte Video, Uruguay, that the German cruiser Vineta had been sighted at sea off Bahia Blanca, Argentina. Early reports of the raid of the German commerce destroyer in the South Atlantic Ocean, indicated that the unidentified raider might be the Vineta, but this has not been confirmed.

SHIPPING LOSSES.

LONDON, Jan. 22. Lloyds announce the following British ships sunk: Toftwood, 3,092 tons, supposedly sunk to Jan. 15, crew saved; Port Nicholson, 8,418 tons, previous to Jan. 17; Matina, 3,750 tons, previous to Jan. 18, crew picked up. The Shipping Agency announces also that the Norwegian steamer Espérance has been reported sunk.

IRELAND'S WORST FRIENDS.

LONDON, Jan. 22. About fifty members of the Sinn Fein, carrying a Sinn Fein flag, rushed upon the platform from which Thomas Landon, National member of Parliament, for the east division of Limerick, was addressing a meeting in Limerick yesterday. Landon was beaten over the head with clubs and kicked. He defended himself with a chair as best he could, but finally was beaten over the head with clubs and beaten bleeding. Later he was taken to hospital. The attack on Landon is attributed to a speech which he made in the House of Commons with reference to the disarmament of Irish Volunteers.

FILLING CANADIAN SENATE.

OTTAWA, Jan. 22. Seven out of the fifteen vacancies in the Canadian Senate have been filled. Labor receives recognition at the hands of the Government in the appointment of Dutton Robertson, head of the Railway Telegraphers' Union to the Upper House. The new Senators are Charles D. Fisher, Picton; Adam Crosby, St. John's, Halifax; Frederic Nicholls, Charlottetown; G. W. Richardson, Merchant, Kingston; Geo. Lynch-Staunton, Lawyer, Hamilton; Gideon Robertson, Wel-

What a Gas Range Means for You, Mrs. Housekeeper.

The gas range is a muscle saver and a step saver. Think of the many tons of coal you used in that coal range, and how you have had to handle it twice. First, carrying it up out of the cellar; then, from the kitchen to the ash barrel. No more soot to wipe away; no more ashes to cart away; no more wood to fetch; no more coal dust; no more smoke and no more reason why the kitchen cannot be kept as clean and as orderly as the parlor. The gas range means just this.

Saves 50 Per Cent. of Kitchen Cares.

Half of the labor in the house is caused by dust from the coal range. Every time it smokes, no matter how good the draught may be, clouds of ashes rise and settle on the furniture.

It Eliminates Hard Work.

Use a gas range and you will live better, you will play better, and you will work better because the use of the gas range eliminates the drudgery of carrying coal, ashes and the chopping of kindling, as well as the drudgery of cleaning up a lot of dirt, and, best of all, for the cook it makes it unnecessary for her to stand over a hot stove from two to three hours a day.
