The "Herald"

After waiting for some time to 20-serve how matters stand, the Herald ready been made. Those intending to the heads and entrails overboard, de-Richard Grenville. on Saturday devoted a full column of compete should immediately hand in positing them on the bottom. We have Customs, but so far as explanation of prizes for the event of which the first and upon remonstration they inform-Customs, but so far as explanation of is a very handsome silver watch now ed us that the thing had gone on for the circumstances went, the public is still waiting. The Herald, as is usual with it, can only see politics in anything calculated to bring about reforms, and with the casuisty which is characterisweaves a web of extraneous comment. in order to further involve the matter at issue. The public is perfectly aware that no political tinge has been given (excepting by the Herald itself) the discussion on the shortage in the Customs Cash, but as it suits the Herald to twist a political cord around it. the object is perfectly clear. It is to burke ventilation of a public scandal, a scandal which never would have ogcurred, had there been any kind of systematic accounting and auditing in the Customs Department. It is idle to go back to ancient history and resurrect a similar case in another department, in an attempt to prove that it justifies the present mix-up. But that is the Herald all over. That is the food on which it thrives. The Advocate having made such a lame explanation of nothing, the musty red herring of the Herald is made to do One Ladies' Gold Watch. duty once more. It is rather singular, Twelve pairs Men's Buddy Hip though, that our contemporary should (tradvertently we believe), acknowledge that there have been other amounts, independently of the I. O. U's taken, and its naive expression "that it is not possible for the Government or anybody else to get at the facts" is rather striking. However it is something to have elicited even that little admission. The specious argument that it is not an offence for a man to give an I. O. U. will not wash in this connection. It is an offence for any public official entrusted with the custody of the public revenue to advance any cash to any person, taking an L 0. U. as security. It is an offence against the Revenue Act and against the Audit Act. The instance cited of the same transactions being of daily occurrence in every business office of this city, is not analogous to the question. There is a great difference between a private concern and a Government revenue collecting depart-

Should there be no prosecutions, the public can draw its own inferences. Since the Herald has resuscitated the 'dead horse," perhaps it will go a bit further and give in detail all the particulars of that other irregularity. Did the Herald mention it at the time?
