The Song of the Fisherman.

I pen this song before I sail Northward, where I abide, sir, That all may know the feelings of A man who's been denied sir,
Of that great bully, topnotch price
That "Labrador" would win sir.
If I the Regulations read,
And did the things therein sir,
And sure I did.

I washed it duly from the knife,
And cleaned the napes of black sir;
From blood and slime to have it clean
I didn't spare a tap sir;
The sun and summer winds conspired
To make it look a picture;
And I had visions, Mr. Man,
That I would soon be richer Than old John D.

Now hear me ye of Newfoundland,
Who've been so long bamboozled, By cursed politicians, who Should all be d—n well toseled.
I cannot sell, tho' here a month With quintals ten times twenty,
Unless I take starvation fees—
Is this the promised plenty
For "underdogs"?

He made us believe the day that he Should win the reins of power,
The gifts of great prosperity
Upon our homes would shower;
We sang as we went on the "grounds"
"Oh what joyification We'll have when Conker gets the chest!"
But Lord, we got stagnation
With Want and Woel!

"I come to save the 'underdogs'"
From merchant rule and grafters"
And when he spoke his gab was hailed With cheers that shook the rafters, But now he sits him down amongst Those "rascals, rogues and robbers"
He's the Poo Bah amongst the crew
He dubbed so oft as "jobbers
Of no account."

The fisherman who believed he'd boost
The "White Nape" high and higher, Now trudges Water Street all day
And cannot find a buyer;
But still this raving ranters rants,
And yells "The price you're getting,
It double what it would, but for The way in which I'm sweating
In your behalf."

Still he is boosted by a press
For which we're paying dearly,
They try to make us gulp the mess (We're made subscribe, sir, yearly.)
But I give notice here and now That my subscription's cancelled
To any paper that is run, Inspired, doped or spanned
By "White Naped" Bill!

P.S.—When ignorance goes out to teach
The country what "It should and ought!"

No wonder that on every hand
Is ruin and disaster wrought.
North and the winter! who can tell The stress we'll know, or who shall care?

But ye who trifle with out lives
Remember this one word—Beware!

More Liberal Reforms.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Perhaps Mr. Editor a few remarks from Ramea—not on fishery regulations, as you seem to have a good idea of the injury these have been to this coast—but on the subject of public works, and how moneys for that purpose are being expended here at present.
Last year the Advocate condemned the late Government in pretty forcible language for spending public moneys through commissioners, and claimed one of their Reforms would be to do away for ever with this practice.

Now, Mr. Editor, to-day there is in Ramea about $700 to be expended on the Government Wharf, and it has been placed in the hands of a commissioner who has at present four men working on the job, and rumors say no other person need apply.
Can it be that this work is being done on the truck system?

Let it be understood that the term of the Road Board expired last November, but in June of this year, Mr.
Small, our M.H.A. wired the chairman to hold office until a Board was duly elected. We have no Board elected as yet, and the Board of 1917 have resigned, owing to the arrangements for expending the present marine grant.

What about the Advocate's Reform Policy? Will our representative explain? And while he certainly has our sympathy, we feel sure it has not been a full knock out.

Yours truly,
WEDDING GUEST.
Ramea, Nov. 12, 1920.
