Rev. A. Miller's horse took fright at the band Tuesday afternoon and started away with one of the verandah posts in front of Mitchell's store, to which it was tied. The tune the band was playing came to a sudden stop as the horse dashed into the ranks, but the animal was captured before it had a chance to do any further damage.

Anniversary services will be held in the Methodist church, Glencoe, on Sunday, January 7th, when Rev. A. Carman, D.D., general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, will preach at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., and Rev. A. Miller, of Kilmartin, at 3 p.m. The anniversary tea meeting will be held on the following Monday evening, for which a choice programme is being prepared.

The annual entertainment of St. John's church Sunday school was held in the lecture room of the church and it is needless to say that a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent by all. After a bountiful supper had been disposed of, the following interesting programme was rendered:—Address, Rev. W. Lowe; hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers." School; dialogue, Bertha Toon and Emma Oldrieve; recitation, Maria Harrison; song, "Precious Jewels," Hazel Brownlee; glee, Mrs. White's class; club swinging, Maud Coukley; recitation, Cora Foster; music, Harry Bodman; chant, "Lord's Prayer," Miss Simpson's class; music, Ethel Blackwell; dialogue, Miss Rogers' class; glee, Mrs. White's class; music, Harry Bodman; recitation, Myrtle Foster; closing hymn, School.

Arch. B. McIntyre, son of the late Malcolm McIntyre, formerly of Appin, died at his mother's residence in Glencoe, Saturday night. Deceased had been a sufferer from lung trouble and heart disease for some time and his death was not unexpected. He was a bright, promising youth and will be much missed by a large circle of friends, both in Appin and Glencoe. The remains were interred in the Kilmartin cemetery Monday afternoon and were followed to the grave by a large number of sorrowing friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McIntyre have decided to remain at Florence, Colorado, for a time. Mrs. McIntyre writing from there says:—"The weather is delightful here—warm and very dry. Am writing this sitting on the foot-hills, with the Rockies in view. Nights are chilly, but during the day it is warm, with high but soft winds. This is an oil producing country. There are 150 wells in sight of town, some of them pumping 300 barrels per day, but not all working at present, owing to the depression. This place is within a few miles of Cripple Creek, the gold fields of Colorado, where there is an excitement at the present time."

The result of the Model School annual examinations at Strathroy has been made known by the Examination Board, and is given below. The names of successful candidates are not given in order of merit but alphabetically. Thirty-nine candidates were examined and of these seven failed. Those who passed were:—A. Bond, W. Bryan, C. J. Campbell, J. T. Collins, C. P. Corneil, A. W. Curry, M. Elliott, J. H. Garner, J. W. Hedley, A. T. Jones, H. McPhail, A. L. McLean, A. D. McEachren, J. R. McLeod, John Pedden, C. F. Price, G. A. Robertson, C. Strachan, L. Trueman, G. M. Young, Bessie Aitchison, Lizzie Banks, Minnie Bishop, S. M. Blott, Kate Dunlop, Maggie Edwards, Eva Iles, Jessie Murdoch, Martha Nicholls, Dora Rose, Ada Stuart, Sara M. Tait.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. S. Hart, will regret to learn of the death of their son, Harry, which took place last Sunday morning. Deceased had been a sufferer for a long time from kidney trouble and had been confined to his bed for some three weeks before he succumbed to the disease. He was a general favorite among his associates in Glencoe, being of a kind and cheerful disposition. The funeral took place to the St. Andrew's cemetery on Tuesday, service being held in St. John's church. The members of the 26th Bait. Band, of which he was a member, turned out in uniform to do honor to their dead comrade, playing funeral marches during the procession. The sympathy of the community is extended to the sorrowing parents in their bereavement.

A highly successful and enjoyable Christmas entertainment was held on Friday evening in connection with the Sunday School on the townline between Metcalfe and Brooke, near Alvinston. The attendance was good and would have been even better but for the rainy weather. Two of the most pleasing events of the evening were the distribution of prizes to the pupils of the Sunday School and the presentation of a dressing mirror and album to the teacher of the day school. A large cake was auctioned off, which was also an interesting feature. The programme was very much appreciated, and consisted of the following numbers:—Address by the chairman, Rev. Mr. McDiarmid, of Napier; singing, school choir; recitation, Alice Clarke; music, Glencoe quartette; instrumental, Mrs. John McLean; recitation, Willie Bowly; selection, Glencoe quartette; address, Rev. Mr. Millson, Napier; instrumental duet, Mrs. John McLean and Miss McLean; recitation, James Clarke; song, "The Ten Virgins," by members of the choir, in costume; duet, Miss Stevenson and Miss Sexsmith, Glencoe; recitation, Rev. Mr. Millson; selection, Glencoe quartette; solo, James Stevenson, Glencoe; music by the quartette. Proceeds, about $30.

On Wednesday evening, 20th inst., the annual Christmas entertainment in connection with the Glencoe Presbyterian Sunday School was held in the lecture room of the church. The chair was ably filled by Mr. Rathburn, and a lengthy programme was rendered. The pupils acquitted themselves in an admirable manner, and the audience showed their appreciation of the children's efforts by their close attention and by the hearty applause with which each item was received. After the singing of the opening hymn by the school, and prayer by Rev. Mr. Calder, the following programme was rendered:—Children's hymn, school; recitation, Robin McCreery; song, Miss G. Dobie's class; recitation, Maud Willson; dialogue, L. B. Rathburn, M. Crothers and N. B. Cameron; recitation, Martin McCreery; club swinging, Jessie McKinnon; recitation, Miss May Young; song, Miss Sutherland's class; recitation, Mary B. Virtue; song, Jennie McRoberts; address, Rev. Mr. Calder; recitation, Ethel Davidson and Jennie Corbett; song, Miss Sutherland's class; recitation, Helen Young; children's hymn, school; recitation, Nellie Carruthers and Ellis McKinnon; recitation, Ernie Laughlin; recitation, Mary A. McAlpine; song, Miss Sutherland's class; recitation, Jennie McCallum; recitation, Donald Newton; song, Lyle Cameron; recitation, Phemia Harris; children's hymn, school. After singing the doxology, Mr. Calder pronounced the benediction. The children were then treated to candies, nuts, &c., after which the audience dispersed, the general verdict being that it was the best entertainment held in connection with the Sunday School for many years.
