

ADVERTISE
To Secure It!
If You Have Trade Advertise to retain it.

Evening Advertiser.

EVENING
EDITION

VOL. XXVII, NO. 105.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1890

WHOLE NO. 8337

SOCIALISTIC SURPRISE.

Unlooked-for Results of the German Elections.

The Socialists' Vote Throughout the Country Doubled.

A Russian Fleet Ordered to Cretan Waters.

Spread of Leprosy in New Caledonia—Over 3,000 Persons Attacked.

The Trouble at Crete.

ATHENS, Feb. 21.—A cargo of arms has been landed in Crete, and the Russian squadron is ordered to Cretan waters.

Three Thousand Lepers.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Leprosy is spreading in New Caledonia. Three thousand aborigines and many convicts have been attacked.

A Gladstone Elected by Acclamation.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Evan Evans (Gladstone Liberal) has been returned for the middle division of Glamorganshire, Wales, unopposed.

Serious Illness of Abraham Lincoln.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Abraham Lincoln, the son of United States Minister Lincoln, who was ill with typhoid fever, a few weeks ago has had a serious relapse.

The Trouble in Morocco.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Advices from Morocco say the rebellion there has assumed alarming proportions. The royal troops, after having been defeated, occupied Wassau and are besieged there.

The Decree Colliery Disaster.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Forty-three bodies have been taken from the colliery at Decize, France, in which an explosion occurred on Tuesday night. Eight miners have been rescued badly injured.

Contradicted.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 21.—The Journal de St. Petersburg has a Novoe Vremya proclamation the reports of the death of Nadzeia Sigida and the suicide of three other female prisoners at Kara, in the Province of Amour, an unequalled falsehood.

An Expensive Speech.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Mr. Porter, Master of the Rolls in Ireland, whose speech was the cause of Henry Campbell's libel suit against the Belfast News Letter, has apologized to Campbell and paid him £500. He also pays the cost of the libel.

The Conspiracy Against Parnell.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Mr. Cairne, in a letter to his electors, says he cannot find language strong enough to express his horror at the foul conspiracy against Parnell or his opinion of the conduct of the Times in lending itself to the printing of infamous libels on the finest possible evidence of their supposed genuineness.

Bigger's Burial.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Cardinal Manning has written a letter of sympathy, expressing his hearty admiration for Mr. Bigger and his regrets that the state of his health will prevent his attending the requiem mass. Many Liberals and the whole Parnell party will attend the funeral service and follow the body to the railway station. A deputation will accompany the body to Belfast.

Attempt to Create a Fenian Scare.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Inquiries at the American Legation to-day received an emphatic denial of the statement that a Fenian plot to create a general agitation in Canada in favor of an independent republic had been officially revealed to the authorities at Washington. Hitherto the Legation had treated these reports with contempt, but today it was considered necessary to deny them formally, because not only the action of the Home Rulers, but intrigues in higher spheres intimately associated with the French Legation in London, render it indispensable that the French authorities should repudiate all complicity in such plots.

The German Socialist Vote Doubled.

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—There was tremendous voting in the afternoon yesterday. One great point was the complete absence of the anti-Semetic faction in Berlin. The great fact of the election is the large and unexpected increase in the Socialist vote. The Socialist vote in Berlin is increased 20, 000; the Deutsche Freisinnige 30,000; and the Conservatives have lost 34,000.
The election of two Socialists in this city is certain. The latest apparent result is that the Government parties have lost fifteen seats, and the Socialists throughout Germany have doubled their vote. Lieben-ow and Singer, Socialists, are elected.
The latter defeated Eugene Richter, leader of the Liberal party. Richter, however, was elected for Hagen. Singer is the man whose libel case against the Staatsbürger Zeitung made a great deal of noise in December. He gained his case and the editor was condemned to pay a fine, and this time the Emperor remitted, using his clemency to set aside the verdict of a court of justice. This made a great sensation, and Singer's candidacy became a rallying center for protest against such an abuse of power.

In Hamburg the Socialists Bebel Dietz and Metzger are elected.

Socialist Successes in Germany.

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—Elections for members of the Reichstag were held throughout the empire yesterday. The first conclusive results came from Hamburg. The Socialists have swept the city. Herr Bebel, the Socialist leader, and Herr Dietz and Metzger Kalso (Socialists) are elected by enormous majorities. In this city two socialist candidates have been elected. In four districts none of the candidates had a majority, and fresh ballots will be required.
Herr Singer has defeated Herr Eugene Richter, the leader of the Liberal party.
Returns from the Province are meager.
Those received up to midnight show the election of five Socialists, three members of the Carle Union, two Poles and six Catholics. In ten districts fresh elections will be required, the contest lying between Radicals and members of the Carle party. The results of the election have been surprising to the Conservative element. The Socialists elect their candidates in the fourth and sixth districts respectively. In the re-

CANADA'S CAPITAL.

Another Dual Language Day in the House.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the bill. There are, however, strong indications at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

Both parties have been in caucus again
this morning endeavoring to find a path out
of the dual language woods. Neither
McCarthy nor any of his more prominent
supporters attended the gathering, which was
called for the sole purpose of endeavoring
to bring the party in line behind Sir
John Thompson's amendment. It is
reported that they have succeeded fairly well
in English members, but that the
Bleus still hold out with the expectation of
defeating both the amendments and the
bill. There are, however, strong indica-
tions at the Tory caucus came to a
harmonious conclusion in regard to the
amendment. The French members, on the
other hand, are still divided, and the
amendment is still in question.

The Premier's Second Speech—Caucuses
of Both Parties Called.

[Special to the Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Friday, Feb. 21.

The resolution must meet the case. I imagine the House that it be accepted.

Sir John quoted from the records of the Parliament of Upper Canada an act passed on June 3, 1793, providing that the statutes should be printed in the French language for the benefit of the few French settlers on the western frontier of the Province, and implored the Canadian Parliament of 1890 not to be less generous, less humane, less tolerant than that of 100 years ago.

He declared that it was the prerogative of the Crown to determine in what language the laws shall be published, that Parliament ought to have the right to determine in what language they shall be published for the royal sanction, and that the Northwest Council had no authority to publish its own ordinances, but that they must be published by the Lieutenant-Governor under instructions from the Dominion Government.

In conclusion he said: In the name of civilization, in the name of the progress of this country, I appeal to this House, not to refer to party, to forget what may be unfortunate when they go back to their constituents and to make everything in the grain to make Canadian, French and English, one people, without any hostile feeling, without differences further than arise from the different literature and characteristics of race, and which separate the Scotchmen and Irish men from the Englishmen as much as they separate the French-Canadian from the English. Do this and we will have our union in seeing this unfortunate fire which has been kindled from so small a spark extinguished forever, and we will go on, as we have been going on since 1867, as one people, with one object, looking to one future and extending as far as the foundations of a great and united country.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now before the House. He said that he did not believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in speeches outside of Parliament, was to go further in his crusade than the Northwest Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.

Mr. Edgar followed. He alluded to Mr.
McCarthy's programme of legislation now
before the House. He said that he did not
believe in the necessity of a war of races.
He did not wonder that the French were a
little alarmed at this declaration.

Mr. Edgar went on to show that
Mr. McCarthy's view as expressed in
speeches outside of Parliament, was to go
further in his crusade than the Northwest
Council had at once, and even to extend
it to the language question.