LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me. I certainly believed it saved my life. It was with pleasure that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

ASK YOUR GROCER

For JOHNSTON'S BREAD. There's none better made. Always the same.

In the Dining-Room.

FRIDAY, OCT. 23.

BREAKFAST—Oranges. Farina meat balls. Potato croquettes. Coffee. Hot rolls.

LUNCHEON—Creamed oysters. Baked potatoes. Molasses cookies. Tea.

DINNER—Bisque soup. Baked crabs. Boiled bass—drawn butter sauce. Parsleyed potatoes. Asparagus salad. Filled date compote. Tea.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book:

Farina Meat Balls—One pound and a half finely-ground meat. Season with salt, cayenne pepper, one-half onion chopped fine, some fine chopped parsley, add one well-beaten egg and one-half teaspoon of farina, and make into round balls. Stew until meat is done in salted water. Take out balls and add to water in which they have been cooked one-half cup canned tomatoes, a sprinkle of cayenne pepper and a tablespoonful of flour which has been smoothly creamed in a little cold milk. Pour over the balls and serve very hot. The meat balls may be prepared the previous day.

Molasses Cookies—One cup New Orleans molasses, one-half cup butter, one egg, two tablespoons sugar, one-half cup sour milk in which even teaspoon baking soda has been dissolved, a little cinnamon and a pinch of ground cloves. Enough flour to roll about one quart is generally sufficient. These are very excellent cookies and generally favored by the children.

Parsleyed Potatoes—Boil potatoes whole (or halved when very large) in salt water. When done pour off the water and stir and thoroughly dry and fry in hot butter until a delicate light browned minced onion and one-half cup of potatoes, fresh parsley, chopped fine, just before they are served.

Filled Date Compote—Take out seeds from one-half pound of dates and fill with some finely-chopped almonds or English walnuts; press together and roll in powdered sugar; lay aside.

Next make a baked custard as follows: Yolks of three eggs well beaten with two tablespoonsful granulated sugar, one pint sweet milk, two tablespoonsful of cornstarch which has been rubbed smooth with one tablespoonful of fresh butter; grate in a little nutmeg; bake in a well-buttered pudding dish until light brown. Take from oven, put dates on top and cover with the whites of three eggs, beaten until very stiff, to which have been added four tablespoonsful of powdered sugar and a little vanilla. Place in oven until light brown. Serve cold.

There Is Still Danger.

Some Dealers Are Selling Cheap and Adulterated Dye Instead of the Diamond Dyes.

While the vast majority of merchants and dealers sell only the reliable Diamond Dyes, it is but right to note that some dealers still sell common and deceptive packages of dye for the sake of extra profit. Of course the profit-loving dealer who sells a woman a package of inferior dye for her work is without doubt, seeking his own selfish end—money-making. Dealers who handle and sell adulterated package dyes do not care a fig about the comfort and welfare of their customers; they take the hard-earned money of families, and in return give them dye that only results in loss and ruin.

When the women of Canada learn a few more sad lessons that result from the use of worthless dyes, they will make it a point to insist upon getting from their dealers the fast and never-fading Diamond Dyes that are so easy to use and so true to color.

Death of a Noted Canadian.

Dr. Alexander M. Ross, whose death at Detroit is announced in our telegraphic columns, was a Canadian whose career was more than usually noteworthy. He was born at Belleville, Ont., in 1832, and early in life went to New York, where he served as a printer on the Evening Post under Bryant, the poet. At this time he formed a friendship with Garibaldi, the Italian patriot, which continued till his death in 1882.

After studying medicine and taking his degree, Dr. Ross became surgeon in the army of Nicaragua. Joining in the anti-slavery struggle, Dr. Ross aided John Brown at Harper's Ferry, and received the encomium of Whitaker and other leaders. Afterwards President Lincoln appointed him a confidential agent in Canada. On the downfall of the Confederacy, Dr. Ross became surgeon in the Mexican army, and afterwards returned to Canada to pursue his studies as a naturalist. For his services to natural science, he was decorated with honors by the Emperor of Russia, the Kings of Italy, Greece and Portugal, and decorations from the President of France and the Shah of Persia. Dr. Ross was a man of many and varied attainments, and his interest in moral and physical reforms was maintained till the close of his career.

Dawson's Dilemma.

Seven Thousand People There, and Food for Only 2,000.

Boats Unable to Reach the City—Thousands in Danger of Starvation.

St. Paul, Oct. 23.—Clinton Eldridge, who passed through St. Paul on his way to his home in Illinois, brings startling news from the Alaskan country. He came from Rampart City on Monday, Oct. 22, and reports that the people at Klondike have by this time, he says, been warned that no more provisions will reach them. He says that one of the boats having gone up to warn them of the fact. Just before he left the steamer Alcoa, of the Alaska Commercial Company, arrived at Rampart City, her captain having given up all hope of getting to Dawson. She unloaded her cargo of provisions there. The steamers were all stopped at Fort Yukon, finding difficulty in crossing the bars there. They have unloaded a large quantity of provisions there.

It was reported that there were from six to seven thousand men at Dawson, and about a hundred a day coming over the trail. There are only provisions enough for about 2,000 persons. The people coming over the trail are bringing in enough to last until they reach Dawson.

Some 2,000 people were waiting on the bank of the river for the arrival of the steamers with provisions.

THE SOULANGES CANAL

Damaged to the Extent of $100,000—Some 1,200 Feet of the Bank Give Way.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 23.—The news has been received in Montreal that the side of the Soulanges Canal, for a distance of 1,200 feet, and to a depth of 70 feet, had fallen in, carrying with it three large piers and doing damage which may reach $100,000 or more. Guaréan Fay and his ship were almost buried in the mud, and he was saved only by hours of work. The accident happened at night, at a point known as the Rayner section, just above Coteau du Lac, and at a point where the contractors were at work building a bridge. The largest pier was 26 feet high and cost many thousands of dollars. Instead of standing 26 feet high it is now only six, having sunk twenty feet. The other two piers are completely demolished. The direct cause of the accident is attributed to the presence of many springs under the section destroyed. Constant dynamiting seems to have shaken the earth to such an extent that the foundations were easily washed away, and the whole ridge only needs a start, such as that given by the sinking pier, to fall away in the canal. The work is in charge of Mr. Thomas Munroe.

IT SAVED HER LIFE.

A Glorious Victory Won by Paine's Celery Compound.

Mrs. Nell McKay, of North Hill, P.O. who for a long season was dangerously ill, declares that her life was saved by Paine's Celery Compound. She gives the following testimony, which is vouched for by a well-known resident of the place:

"I consider it my duty to add my testimonials to those you have already received for Paine's Celery Compound. My case was a very peculiar one. After doctoring for a long time with different physicians, who did not understand my case, I gave them up. My strength was all gone, and it was with great difficulty I managed to move around. I had a pain continually in my left side. Up to a few years ago I was a fleshy woman and weighed 185 pounds. I had a very good system, but my system, I wasted away to a mere shadow. I have taken seven bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, and now I am a new woman; I have no pain now and my strength is returning, and I am becoming healthy and happy again. I cannot speak too highly of it as it saved my life. I would advise with great pleasure, and highly recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all sufferers."

Mr. J. A. Pennoyer, postmaster, says: "I am personally acquainted with Mrs. Nell McKay, and can vouch for the truth of her statements."

CANADIAN FRUIT IN ENGLAND.

Of the 338 cases shipped per steamship Numidian to Liverpool, the report says that the fruit arrived in good condition, with the exception of grapes, which were fairly sound, but inclined to drop from their stems. The report on the 38 boxes of fruit by the Huron to London says that the fruit arrived in good condition, with the exception of the grapes, which, although apparently in sound condition, dropped from the stems. The pears were in very fine condition; the Crawford peaches a little soft; the tomatoes in fine condition, the objection to the tomatoes being that they were too large. A medium-sized variety takes better in the British market.
