A Successful Business and Shorthand School.

Young men and women find a thorough business and shorthand course at the Canada Business College, Chatham, a sure avenue to a good position. This school is wonderfully successful in securing good positions for graduates.

Among many other graduates placed last fall was Mr. A. E. Yates, from Washington, Mich., who was sent to New York to fill the position of stenographer with Col. H. H. Hadley, vice-president and director, Christian Men's Union, New York. In a letter received from the colonel, who is an entire stranger to Mr. McLachlan, dated Feb. 15, he has this to say: "MR. D. McLACHLAN, Principal, Canada Business College, Chatham, Ont.: Dear Sir—Having had Mr. A. E. Yates, a graduate of your college, with us as stenographer, typewriter, secretary and office manager for three months, it might please you to know that he gives perfect satisfaction, and if your college does its work as well in every case as in his, it is one of the greatest blessings for the business community, or in fact, for any of the great army who need such men, that can be imagined."

By reason of my acquaintance with him, the Canada Business College stands very high in my estimation. Trusting that its success may continue, and that you may be so fortunate as to secure such young men as Yates for your scholars. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY H. HADLEY, Vice-president and Director.

Such a testimonial from a man of Col. Hadley's integrity and standing speaks volumes for the school. bd&w

An "Oversight."

The Sinking Fund Expenditure Could Have Been Met

With Funds Which Were "Unaccountably Overlooked."

What the City Auditors Say—Seventeen Deputations During 1894—Large Law Expenses—The Annual Financial Statement.

The City Hall resounded with the clatter of little feet, the noise of childish laughter and the cheering of children last night, and with a wall between them and the youngsters, the City Fathers who compose No. 1 committee got down to work. Ald. Jones was absent, and the chair was occupied by Ald. Henry Dreaney. Mayor Little, Ald. Armstrong, Ald. McCallum, Ald. Brener and Treasurer Pope were present. The auditors' report for 1894 was received and ordered to be printed. It was a most ponderous document, the details of the receipts and expenditure alone covering over 35 foolscap pages. Perhaps the newest item of the report is the statement by the auditors that there were certain items "unaccountably overlooked," which were sufficient to have met the outlay necessitated by the sinking fund expenditure last year, on account of the non-payment of which the ex-mayor was wont to attack the Government of Sir Oliver Mowat for not deciding to issue the waterworks debentures sooner. Another item of public interest was found in the "incidental" expenses. It was once said that postcards would do instead of deputations. There were seven of these little trips in 1894, costing in all $886.60. Excerpts from the report show how fallacious the statement are at times as an index of the real expenditure.

AUDITORS' STATEMENT. "We respectfully present herewith the audited account of the financial affairs of the city for the year 1894, including detailed statement of receipts and disbursements, and a summarized comparison of those affecting the year's business with the estimates for the year. We also present condensed reports of the expenditure of the Board of Education for public schools and for the London Collegiate Institute and the City of London Hospital. We have audited the books and accounts of the city and the departments named, and we find them correct and in accordance with the statement now presented. The general account of 1894 shows a surplus of $4,767.96, against which may be taken into account an over-expenditure for public schools of $4,084.09 not provided for in the estimates, a part of which difference arises from the adjustment of the account with the township of Westminster, which has remained open for some years. The expenditure will be added to the estimates for the public schools for 1895, and will thus prove a set-off to the surplus applicable to the reduction of the general rates."

LONDON TRUST AND TAXES. "Towards the close of the year the City of London Trust handed over the balance of cash in their possession, completing their trust, with the exception yet to be made of a balance due on two parcels of land. The amounts received—$24,051.81—has, in accordance with the legislation on the subject, been deposited to the credit of the old consolidated sinking funds, and the lien which has been so long a charge upon Queen's Park has been written off. "The rolls for 1892 and 1893 have been daily closed and returned, and the collections on those for 1894 have been so far satisfactory that there should be no difficulty in getting final returns early enough for the treasurer to make all lands on the arrears book before May 1, on which date he is ordered by law to add the percentage chargeable. The general account of the year, the collection largely depends upon a strict adherence to the principle of the conditions imposed, so that the charges for non-payment by certain dates be complied with to the detriment of a nominal interest charge for money retained."

AN OVERSIGHT. "The sinking funds levied during the year were not deposited before the close of December, owing to an oversight of available cash in the current bank account, but have been deposited since the close of the year from funds received from the water commissioners on current account. We find, however, that an amount which might have been properly transferred from the debenture account deposit for interest due, showing their position at the close of the year, and also after the deposit made Feb. 5, 1895. We also furnish detailed statements of debenture issues on general account and for local improvements and summaries of the waterworks department and City of London Trust. We have to acknowledge again the kindness and courtesy of the Mayor and all the city officials in furnishing all necessary information and assistance during our audit."

GEORGE F. JEWELL, F.C.A., ANDREW DALE, Auditors.

Richard Oke's proposition praying that a clause be inserted in the electric franchise whereby tickets would be sold at three for ten cents, was filed for reference.

R. S. Scarlett and a number of others, asked for an extension of time in which to pay taxes on the proposed electric road. The committee cancelled the train saying that they lost money every day they operated it. However, they agreed to continue the train if the post-poned taxes were placed a mail car thereon. The committee placed a mail car thereon, along with the Board of Trade. D. Hibner, Belleville, asked the co-operation of the council in a memorial to the Ontario Government asking the repeal of the clause in the Municipal Act giving power to corporations to grant exemptions.

Progress will be reported on the unsettled clause of the franchise. The clauses were left over to a special meeting, which will, in all probability, be held today.

The following from the Detroit Free Press refers to the Lely concert to be held in the Opera House Wednesday evening next: "There is an old saying 'The Scotch are a clanish body.' So when the Detroit announced an entertainment at which Scotch ballads were to be sung by a Scotchman, and a famous tenor as well, a gathering of the clans was expected. No music is so sweet to the sons and daughters of Auld Reekie, none so thrills them by its martial fire or moves by its tender pathos as that which has its birth by Highland loch or under Lowland thicket. And it is safe to say that Scotch ballads were never more exquisitely rendered than in the recital given by Mr. Durward Lely at the Detroit Opera House last evening, under the auspices of St. Andrew's."

Worried Women.

Why Do They Worry When It Is Needless?

HOW TO AVOID IT.

There Is a Secret Cause of Nearly All Worryment Which Is to Be Found in the Women Themselves.

If women only had perfect health nine-tenths of all the worrying which they now do would be avoided. When a woman is sick she cannot help worrying. Now the cause of nearly all women's sickness arises from the same source. Men get sick from various causes, but a woman's troubles are peculiarly her own. It is unfortunate, but it is true, and yet nearly all this trouble might be avoided. There is a sovereign remedy for every bodily ailment which is light, ready and some ladies have said:

Mrs. I. F. Dionne, Ottawa, Ont., "When I was quite young, I had some trouble with my kidneys, but did not pay much attention to it. I let it run on for years until I saw that I was getting worse. I went to a doctor and was examined and began treatment. Well, I kept on in this way, doctoring and doctoring, for a long time, but the disease kept gaining and getting worse. From mere kidney trouble at first, it seemed to have spread all over my system. My stomach became very weak and rebelled at food; my head at times ached badly; then across my back and side were sharp, darting pains, or a dull heavy ache. My whole system seemed poisoned with uric acid, and I was terribly nervous. I tried every doctor after doctor without getting any relief. I read in the paper of a man who had been cured of such troubles by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. As doctors had proved such a hopeless failure, I concluded that nothing would do me much worse harm. So I bought a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I had finished it, I was doing much better. I gladly kept on for a term of years, and it was in gold to me. The bloating began to leave me, and continued to do so until it was all gone, and everything I had tried before failed to do me any good in this way. My stomach became stronger, my headaches and pains across me all disappeared. In fact, I feel better in gold. I gladly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to ladies, for it was during change of life that all this occurred. I feel much better, and wonderfully it helped me. No medicine equals Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for kidney complaints, and weakness peculiar to women."

Mrs. R. F. Carter, Niagara Falls, Ont., "Some years ago I suffered very much from rheumatism and general debility; my nerves seemed all unstrung. I had no appetite and felt perfectly exhausted. I was unable to do any work, and my matter. I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and Safe Pills, and began to improve immediately. I was able to do my work, and felt like a new person; all my old symptoms, headache and all, were entirely gone. I owe a great deal to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and gladly recommend it."

Mrs. M. J. Walker, Hamilton, Ont., "Some time ago, I suffered terribly from pain in back, also accompanied by chills and ague. I tried various doctors, but none seemed to help me. Finally I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and found immediate relief. I took two bottles, and was cured. I was entirely cured, and I would gladly recommend it to any one."

Exeter was excited by the news that Wesley Snell, butcher, had left town and had made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. He started in the butcher business last spring, and has also been dealing very extensively in cattle ever since, losing heavily. His liabilities are estimated to be over $7,000, with assets very low. He was arrested and brought back to Exeter, where he was bailed out pending a meeting of his creditors.
