Britain Demands Instant Satisfaction For Sinking of SS. Knight Commander

Russia Warned That Diplomacy May Give Way to Active Measures.

London, July 27. - The British Government is sending instructions to Sir Charles Hardinge, the British ambassador to Russia, today, to energetically protest against the sinking of the British steamer Knight Commander by the Russian Vladivostock squadron. Until the presentation of the note to the Russian Government the greatest secrecy will be maintained regarding its contents, but it is known that Premier Balfour and his colleagues have decided to demand that the fullest reparation shall be made by Russia, or that measures will be taken to follow up the diplomatic demands. The British note Sir Charles Hardinge will submit will not mention the amount of indemnity Russia must pay the owners of the ship, and British subjects having goods on board the vessel, but all that will be sought will be the establishment of the principle of 'ndemnity and apology. A salute of the British flag must also be conceded, and the future protection of neutral ship-

The attitude of the British Government is the result of a thorough consideration given to the reports received | ment. from Sir Claude MacDonald, the British minister at Tokio, and the examination of international law by legal experts. The dispatches from Sir Claude Little Boy Shoots His Brother With Alleged Attempt to Destroy Cattle MacDonald confirm the reports that the Knight Commander had no contraband of war on board for Japan. The Government and all the British authorities, it is asserted, unite on the point that there was no justification for the sinking of the vessel. It is announced that the Knight Commander incident overshadows the Red Sea seizures, which practically have been adjusted, but which have failed to settle the question of the right of neutral com-

Breach of International Law.

London, July 27 .- That the British Government regards the sinking of the steamer Knight Commander as a breach of international law was confirmed by Premier Balfour in the House of Commons this afternoon. Answering questions regarding the destruction of the Knight Commander and the seizure of the Malacca and other vessels, the Premier said he hoped to be in a position to make a brief statement regarding the Malacca tomorrow. As to the sinking of the Knight Commander, he regretted that information which reached me this morning confirms this regrettable occurrence.
