Editorial Notes.

The New York Tribune hits off the fast woman of the period thus: "One might have thought that the author of that ancient Interlude 'Jack Jugler,' had drawn his Abigail from personal observation in our own Broadway:-

She minceth, she brideleth, she swimmeth to and fro, She treadeth not one hair awry, she tryppeth like a doe; Abrode in the streete, going or coming homeward, She quayerith and wardelith, like one in a galliard.

Cornell University, Ithaca, was founded by Cornell, a wealthy and philanthropic American. The object of the founder was to provide an institution in which the leading object shall be to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes. Congress has endowed it with nearly a million of acres of the public domain, and it is the recipient of many gifts from private persons. As an educational institution it is attracting very great attention, and it counts among its disciples those from the British Isles and the continent of Europe, as well as the sons of the great Republic. Four hundred and twelve young men were taught in its halls during last year.

Although the Government Savings Bank has only been opened a very few weeks in Victoria, and still fewer in New Westminster, and that, too, at the season of the year least favorable to such results, the deposits already exceed $15,000. At Nanaimo and Yale branches are just opened, while arrangements are being made for establishing a branch at Barkerville, Cariboo. It is a good indication as well as a gratifying circumstance to see so fair a start made; and we think the authorities are acting wisely in extending the ramifications of so useful an institution. We are disposed to anticipate highly satisfactory results in Cariboo. Such institutions greatly tend to educate a people in habits of provident thrift.

A blind horse wandered into White River at Indianapolis, and getting bes yond his depth, swam around in a circle, trying to find his way out. His distress attracted another horse not far and the gas getting ignited, exploded with away on the bank, who first went to terrible force, blowing the crew overboard, the water's edge and tried to direct the blind horse by neighing. Failing in this set on fire, and sustained much damage. The be took to the water, and swam out to his relief, and after swimming around him for nearly a quarter of an hour, he him for nearly a quarter of an hour, he finally got the blind horse to understand in what direction the land lay, and the two horses came to shore side by side, amid the cheers of upwards of one hundred persons, who had become specta-

Napoleon, Eugenie and the Prince Imperial-Their present Personal Appearance.

The Paris correspondent of the Obicago Tribune writes as follows of the Royal fami-

The Emperor, Empress and Prince Imperial, now that the weather is fine, drive out nearly every day along the Champs Elysees and in the Bois. Familiar as their appearance is to the public, the streets are always lined when it is known they are to pass.

The Prince is an intelligent and interesting-looking little fellow, with an expression of sadness in his face that may be the herald of his coming doom. He is in better health then he has been, but is still suffering from bodily infirmities. His mother dotes on him. One can see her heart is centered in ber only son, for her eyes are always on

Louis Napoleon may be dying of the forty has been rejected by our Government. or fifty mortal diseases with which the newspapers are constantly supplying him; but, judging by his appearance, they don't burt him much. He is very commonplace in semblance; his eyes dull and his face perfectly impassive. He might well be mistaken for a Hebrew clothes-dealer of long experience, who, having turned his attention to governing a great country, had resolved to make his intentions inscrutable. He reminds you of one of Cham's caricatures, with his broad shoulders and great body, and his short, little legs that seem incapable of supporting the weight that has been so unnaturely thrust upon them. I do not believe he is unpopular with the French people, who are bound to have a certain amount of political discontent, whether a Napoleon or Nero resigns over them. Louis may be a supreme egotist, but he loves France; and has certainly done much for his country and for Paris. He has made this the most attractive city in the world. He amuses the people, and has added to the glory of the nation. What more do Frenchmen need; what more will they ask?

Eugenie is showing the traces of yearsit may be of sorrow-and she is repairing them by artificial m ans. She is not so protty as she has been, but she is very ele-gant and distingue in her manner and entiere Hermalace sometimes seems insipid, but it lights up when she is moved, as it her heart had caught fire. Her mouth and chin are beautiful, and in ber deep eye are unfathomable emotions. She has tragedy and comedy in her nature and is capable of heroic things I am confident. " She will do them. I believe, if the occasion comes to her, and live in the future history of France with Jean d'Arc, Charlotte Corday and Madame Roland. Eugenie is wuch loved by the people though the scandal is still kept up that her husband is not the father of her child. They may like her all the better for that possibly. They would be most unjust not to forgive her what they are forced to condone in thems-lves. She is much altered from what she was. She has gone through the three stages of womanhood—gallantry learning and devotion. As the Countess de That she was decidedly fast. After marriage. she grew to be a bas bleu—though little was said of it. Now she is extremely religious, and daily becoming more so.

The Apostles' Creed.

The precise origin ot this simplest and most ancient of all the creeds is involved in some uncertainty, and has long been a matter of dispute among learned theologians. It is at last certain that its universal use in the Church may be traced back, if not to the apostolic age itself, yet to that immediately that each of the twelve articles of the creed was composed by an apostolic author. It is said the twelve assembled in council before dispersing themselves to preach the Gospel threnghout the world, to frame the symbol or watchword of the Christian Church, and it will be interesting to our readers to know the apostle to whom each article is ascribed. The tradition is as follows .

St. Peter-'I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth.' St. Andrew-'And in Jesus Christ, His corruption, have been corruption, have been corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scroft-lous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scroft-lous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this naseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly developinto one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsapartila is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLALS. Antiony's Five, Rose or Erusipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Einguorm, Sore Eyes, Sore Eurs, and other eruptions or visible forms of Sorofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphitis or Venercal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhæa or Whites, Ulcrine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, sup power upon trial.

Aver's Cherry Pectoral For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs,

such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimations are they here they have the proper better known. Its uniform series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against, sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the discase seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstimate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As itsmame implies, it does Cure, and does not As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not full. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating, the Liver into healthy activity.

For Billious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly re-

CARDS FOR BUSINESS FIRMS, BALLS,
PIONICS, at the BRITISH COLONIST Job Printing

Many years ago, the writer of these lines and an invalid physician, while visiting the Island of St. Croix for their health, experienced and witnessed many surprising and beneficial effects of the Rum there produced upon many of the invalids who were (like ourselves) seeking health; and, upon inquiry and investigation, obtained a full history of its medicinal virtues. He was delighted and surprised, and after his own recovery, which soon occurred, determined, if possible, to procure the sole right to manufacture and sell it in the United States.

The result of his labors was a glorious success for himself and suffering humanity, for the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS was thus made known to the world. PLAN-TATION BITTERS being an article of real merit, founded upon new principles, and relying wholly upon the vegetable world for its medicinal effects, worked a rapid revolution in the history of medicine, and became as a household word all over the civilized world. The cabalistic S. T.—1860—X. was a talisman of health, and the demand for the PLANTATION BITTERS soon far exceeded the abilities of the proprietors to supply.

Notwithstanding the large importation of St. Croix Rum, made expressly for the compounding of these Bitters, the quantity was inadequate. It therefore became necessary that arrangements upon an extensive scale abroad should at once be made, and an agent was dispatched to St. Thomas for that purpose. He was fortunate in securing and leasing several plantations on some of the largest and most productive estates on the island. Houses, stills and presses were erected as if by magic, which utterly "astonished the natives." The services of experienced men and natives of the island were procured, and very soon the proprietors of the PLANTATION BITTERS were in a position to supply their laboratory with all the perfectly pure St. Croix Eum needed in manufacturing the GREAT DYSPEPTIC TONIC AND INVIGORATOR. The above cut represents the natives crushing the sugar-cane and otherwise preparing it for the stills and presses. As an antidote to Fever and Ague, Intermittent and Malarious Fevers, Dyspepsia, and other kindred diseases, the use of the PLANTATION BITTERS is unsurpassed in the history of the world. Over five million bottles are disposed of annually. They are adapted to old and young, male and female. They are agreeable in taste, and always produce an immediate beneficial result.
