SAW MILL BURNED AT BATHURST

Gloucester Lumber Co. Loses Valuable Mill at Opening of Sawing Season

Bathurst, N. B., May 26.—The saw mill of the Gloucester Lumber and Trading Company was burned on Sunday morning. The loss is estimated at $75,000, while the insurance is only about $50,000. The fire will throw 100 men out of employment. The mill was to have sawn 8,000,000 feet of logs this season, but as it had just commenced operations the logs were still safely in the booms and were not swept up in the flames. The destruction of the mill is a serious loss to the community as well as to the company. The fire was first discovered about 1 o'clock in the morning, when the night watchman saw the flames in the centre of the big mill building and immediately gave the alarm. The fire department responded promptly, but their efforts were directed mostly to prevent the flames from spreading to other property as the mill was seen to be doomed.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. The watchman had been through the building at 12:30 o'clock and noticed nothing wrong.

There was a heavy rain at the time and a strong wind carried the sparks in the direction of the river and away from other structures. The machine shop of the Gloucester Lumber and Trading Company, near the mill, was not damaged.

The company owns a mill about the same size at Burnville, about 20 miles from here.

William G. White, the mill manager, had no announcement to make last night as to the intention of the company with regard to the rebuilding or as to what was to be done with the 8,000,000 feet of logs in the booms. The suggestion has been made that the Gloucester Company may lease an unused mill of the Bathurst Lumber Company in order to saw the logs. The destroyed mill had been operated for about ten days.

CHARACTER

It would be well if every person as well as every firm were able to point to opportunities for gain turned down because they "sounded shady."

High tone is not obtainable through the lavish use of wealth, but through the use of wisdom, thrift, and the reputation to be envied is not created by expenditure, but by refusal to be interested in what does not quite measure up to the standard. The man who is asked to do important things, is in the long run, the man who is successful.

There is a lot of temporary prosperity in get-rich-quick schemes and methods, but the more permanent success must be founded on something more than smartness. Its basis is best described as character. —Boston Globe.

DEATH RAY WAS TESTED TODAY

Is Alleged to be a Terrible Force For Destruction in War.

London, May 26.—"Somewhere in England" there was demonstrated today to air service and Government officials the mysterious death ray invention of Grindell Mathews, which may prove the most terrible force of destruction in case of another war. Time was placed of the demonstration were kept a jealously guarded secret, lest foreign spies observe the test.

France wants the invention, and a Frenchman who has offered Grindell Mathews funds for a partnership to perfect the ray insists he had binding contracts.

The inventor has declared that although he is an Englishman, he will sell the secret to France if financial support is not forthcoming from his own government. Meanwhile the French firm of Chantiers Durhone de Lyons, which has been negotiating with Mathews, claims to have learned his secret, and to be able to produce the death ray regardless of whether it is sold to England or France; Mathews denies this.

What He Says It Will Do.

The claim he makes for this ray is that it can kill or stun human beings at a distance of between six and ten miles; that it could put out of commission the machinery of an enemy fleet approaching the English Coast, although it could not sink battleships; that it can bring down in flames airplanes with which it comes in contact; and at that a chain of forts equipped with machinery for transmitting the deadly rays would provide a perfect defense of this country against airplane attack. Mathews also says that the ray can explode ammunition at great distances.

Another British inventor, Dr. Wall, claims to have invented a somewhat similar ray, which will require nine months to perfect. Differing from Mathews, he says he will place his invention at the disposal of his country, and if it is not accepted, destroy the models and plans so that no foreign country may obtain them.

The daily Chronicle quotes Captain Edwards, Mathews' coadjutor, as saying: "All the experiments up to the present have been conducted at 64 feet in a laboratory, but the ray can be extended indefinitely, and for 3,000,000 pounds Mr. Mathews would undertake to erect a plan which would prevent any airplane penetrating a 50 mile barrage around London."

BIND WATCHMEN: GET $250,000 LOOT

Seven Robbers Make Get-away with Merchandise From Brooklyn Warehouse

New York, May 28.—Seven robbers, one of them wearing a police uniform, bound and gagged two watchmen and made off in four trucks with $250,000 worth of tobacco and other merchandise from the warehouse of the United States Cigar stores, Brooklyn.

The alertness of a policeman who saw two of the stolen trucks near the signal box at which he was receiving the general alarm led to the recovery of those trucks and $150,000 worth of the loot.

Sooner after a citizen informed the police of the appearance of the other two trucks in a stable, with the result that detectives found $150,000 worth of the stolen goods in the stable. Two and a half hours after the thieves had left the warehouse, the police had recovered all but $50,000 worth of the loot and two of the trucks.
