Bishop Campbell of the Reformed Episcopal Church presided.

The principal business was the ascussion of a paper by Rev. Dr. Farsons, in which he again aired his views recently fully reported in The World, that secret societies are not the places for true-hearted Christians. The title of the paper was "Should church members engage in societies which incorporate bers engage in societies which incorporate bers engage in societies which incorporate bers engage in societies which incorporate resent knew he would the Doctor answered the question in the negative. This led to a lively discussion. He had some vigorous supporters and much opposition.

Rev. O. C. S. Wallace sympathized with the paper, for he did not believe sceres, societies were friends of the church. He told a story of the working of the Masonic Order in Massachusetts. There the wife or a member was betrayed by a brother member. The wronged insband spoke to a third prominent Mason, who offered to have the betrayer murdered. Mr. Wallace saided that he never knew a Mason who had attained the third degrees who was a cheerful man! How was that!

Rev. Robert Wallace said he knew a leading man in this city who had left the Masons because of the beathen character of their prayers. The United Preshyterian Church of the United States will not admit a Mason who had attained the conclusion of the paper. He could not understand that there was anything wrong in the principle of secrecy itself. Many of these societies were formed to do what the Christian Church, as Christ appointed it had failed to do. He had greatly appreciated the right of men to belong to undo or some thing of the propers of the societies were formed to do what the Christian Church as Christ appointed it had failed to do. tained the third degrees who was a cheerful man next morning.

Rev. W. F. Wilson retorted that in his experience that statement was not borne out by facts. He agreed with Rev. George Webber that the church had failed to do her duty and consequently men had banded themselves together.

Rev. P. C. Parker thought Dr. Parsons put a libel on some of these societies when he stated that the members would not be assisted if their dues were not paid. He knew cases where families were assisted and the dues paid by brother members. He also desired to correct the impression left by Dr. Parsons that banquets and amusements were an essential part of these societies,

Rev. Thomas Manning thought there was really nothing secret in many of these benevolent societies. But he thought they led members to discriminate in administering to the suffering. He questioned if it was a good thing for ministers to dissociate themselves from anything that was good.

Rev. A. M. Phillips thought the objections made did not arise from the secrecy of these societies. It was not the secrecy of these societies. That was the question to be considered. He thought the church should provide for their people what these societies provide for their people what the objection made this provision they could not forbid church members to make this provision.

Rev. G. M. Milligan wanted to know if the church as if it did not look after the poor. He church as if it did not look after the poor. The church in a quiet way was doing far more than these organizations. There was a danger that some people might make these societies their religion.

The subject next day will be "The Practical Aspect of the Present Day Socialism," introduced by Rev. W. Frizzell. DEAR SIR,—I have been taking your Vitalizer to stop Night Emissions and have found it a success in every way; in fact, I found that it cured me when all other remedies failed, therefore I can recommend it to others as a sure cure. before, I was enabled to send several bales of warm clothing, gifts from your generous subscribers, to the poor at liferacombe, Muskoka. Will you be so good as to again appeal to your readers for help? I hope to send my box away on Dec. 7. Last year my husband saw the 35 Sunday school scholars and each one wore at least some portion of the gifts thus sent. Some of these children travel 12 and 14 miles in all weathers to attend the Sunday school, and some were unable to attend until the bales arrived, as they had no clothing to wear. Last year their Christmas was brightened by a Christmas tree, the gifts for which were all supplied by kind friends here. In the coming bright Christmas joys with their own children, will your readers give some small thing to brighten the Christmas of these children? Discarded toys, old Christmas cards, candies, a etc., are all welcome. Two Good Samaritans are dressing a doll each and may others be induced to do the same. MR. HAZELTON, SIR,—This is to certify that I was cured of Loss of Power with your Vitalizer after using three bottles and I am perfectly satisfied as to the virtue of the medicine, and I shall be pleased to recommend it to anyone who may happen to be the same way afflicted. Respectfully yours.
