

to see. But there are so many objects of interest by the way that we cannot hurry. A journey of seventy or eighty miles from Burgos brings us to Valladolid, one of the most ancient capitals of

ROYAL PALACE, MADRID.

Spain. In it is still standing the house in which Christopher Columbus died. Here too are the houses in which Cervantes, Calderon, Berruguete and Alonzo Cano lived. It was while he