

BEHIND THE ARRAS.

New volume of poems by

Bliss Carman.

With Designs by T. B. Meteyard.

CLOTH, $1.50.

TWO HELPFUL BOOKLETS

Written by a wealthy Methodist layman in Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, and to the distribution of which, both in England and Canada, the author has devoted hundreds of dollars, are

Counsels to Young Christians (5c.)
and

Conscience and System in the Stewardship of Money (10c.).

We should be glad to see our Epworth Leagues take these up and give them the widest possible distribution. They are good seed to sow, and bound to bring forth fruit.

"Have seldom seen a better and clearer text-book."—British Weekly. . .

To these who would have in concise, compact form intelligent information regarding the great religious systems of the world, with their distinctive features strikingly set forth, we know of no better work than Religions of the World.

...BY...

REV. PRINCIPAL CRANT, D.D., LL.D.

New edition, revised and enlarged.

CLOTH, 50 cents, net.

Contents: Introductory Remarks—Mohammedanism—The Causes of the Success and of the Decadence of Mohammedanism—Confucianism—Sources of the Strength and Weakness of Confucianism—Hinduism—Sources of the Strength and Weakness of Hinduism—Buddhism—Success and Failure of Buddhism—Israel—Jesus.

The Methodist Times says: "The account given of Mohammedanism, Confucianism, Hinduism, Buddhism, is fair and sympathetic. The author is right in calling attention to the good features rather than to the defects of non-Christian religions. There could be no better introduction to larger works on this fascinating subject."
