

INTERVIEWING SIR CHARLES DILKE.

AN INTERESTING QUESTION IN AFRICAN HISTORY.

LONDON, May 6.—Sir Charles Dilke, the newly appointed Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, has permitted himself to be interviewed by the correspondent of a French paper, and his utterances created much surprise and no little indignation here. Speaking of the foreign policy of the Liberals, he stated that this grave subject with considerable frankness; he said: "We have succeeded to the political estate of Lord Beaconsfield, and have made an inventory of importance to the carrying out of the policy bequeathed to us; we are compelled to make some reserve; the Afghan question puzzles us a good deal, and it is to be hoped that it will be settled in accordance with our own interests. There is the Zulu King Cetewayo; we would like to release him, but it is out of our power; we may grant the Boers semi-independence and thus dispose of the African problem."

Correspondent—"How about the Eastern Question? Will you cease to uphold the interests of Turkey if she fails to carry out the reforms which she has so repeatedly promised?"

Sir Charles Dilke—"Depend upon it that Turkey shall carry out these reforms; we will compel her to execute all the clauses of the treaty of Berlin even in spite of Prince Bismarck."

Correspondent—"But then your foreign policy will be precisely the same as that of Lord Salisbury?"

Sir Charles Dilke—"Exactly; you have said it; those who fancy that we mean to pursue a feeble policy abroad are strangely mistaken; we shall not hold aloof from European politics; our voice shall be heard and shall command respect in the councils of nations. We will be careful, however, to raise it only in behalf of liberty, and will promote the welfare of all alike. In concert with Republican France and free Italy, we shall endeavor to cut the Gordian knot of the Eastern question by establishing a confederation of free States between the Danube, the Adriatic and the Grecian seas."

Correspondent—"Then you are opposed to the encroachments of the great powers?"

Sir Charles Dilke—"Decidedly. We shall not tolerate the encroachments of either Austria or Russia; neither Bosnia or Herzegovina must belong to Austria, Turk or Russian; they must be free or self-governing powers. Our programme is unrelenting hostility against oppression of every kind. As for the power of Russia, let me tell you one thing; it would be far easier for us to raise Central Asia against Russia than for her to array India against us. The Russian foreign department, in which German is principally spoken, has been for the past ten years manipulated by two Prussians and one Swiss. They are Messrs. Westmann and Hamburger and Baron Jomini. We detest a power which oppressed Poland and handed Hungary over to Austria. However, we hold in high esteem the young Russia party, which at Prague and Moscow has resuscitated the patriotism and generosity of the Slav."

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure for Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this receipt, in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. DEATH OF AN IRISH PRINCESS.

From Vienna comes intelligence of the death of an illustrious lady, her Highness the Princess Beatrice de Croy-Dulmen. At first glance, the news seems foreign to Irish affairs, but that opinion will be changed when we state that this lady was a daughter of the famous Austro-Irish general, Field-Marshal Count Nugent. Hence, the Continental press, which notes the fact of her death, notes also that this event will not only place her Austrian family in mourning, but will also cause deep regret to her kindred in France and in Ireland. The Princess Beatrice de Croy-Dulmen was no distant connection of Ireland. She was the daughter of an Irishman, Count Nugent was born in Ireland during the Penal times, in 1777. Entering the Imperial (Austrian) army in 1794, five years after he was made a military knight; at Marengo he became a major; in 1805, a lieutenant-colonel; in 1809, a major-general and plenipotentiary to the Congress which preceded the marriage of Maria Louisa and Napoleon. This, in the brief space of fifteen years—and at the early age of thirty-two—the youth whom England would have kept a slave rose to be one of the most distinguished men of the Austrian Empire and of Europe! It is needless to tell how his subsequent career was in conformity with his early achievements, for his exploits are yet fresh in the memory. How he drove the invaders out of Illyria, and defeated Murat himself in Tuscany, is known to all who read history. Finally, it should be stated that this illustrious Irishman wedded a descendant of Augustus III, King of Poland—the Duchess of Biario-Sforza. This being remembered, it should excite no surprise to read of the princess, for whom the noblest families in France and Austria mourn, being the daughter of an Irishman. But what is saddest in this history is the English Government of Ireland—Irishman.

Erp's Cocoa—GRATEFUL COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of the Cocoa, Dr. Erp's Cocoa has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which will save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle poisons are attacking our systems every day, and these poisons, if not removed, will surely engulf us in a fatal snare by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame. —CHAS. OPENING THE CAMPAIGN.

LONDON, May 6.—A Dublin correspondent, commenting on the "land" meeting at Irish town, County Mayo, on Sunday last, says: "This is the beginning of the agitation promised at the recent conference of the Land League. Parnell, Kelly, Davitt, Daly and the people to whom the efforts of their friends in the new Parliament to force on the Government the land question, have been the most insistent object has been the want of nurses to foster the discarded infants. In France the nursing industry is recognized by the State as one of the noblest and most important of the special art of nursing, 50,000 foundlings are provided for these children is one inviting legislative action, being beyond control of municipal measures, as the

"The pure flour of the finest Mustard Seed without any adulteration or dilution." This is the report of the Government Analyst on Colman's Genuine Mustard. Users of this article may just as well buy the best. This is the only pure brand in the market, all others being what is called "Mustard Compound," that is mustard mixed with farina etc., and do not possess the pungent aromatic flavour of the genuine article.—Be sure you get "Colman's" with the Bull's Head on every tin. 11-G

HOW MARSHAL SPARTERO WON A VICTORY.

A writer in an English paper says that he has perused many an obituary notice on Marshal Spartero, but he has seen nowhere the real story of the great achievement of his life, the pacification of Bergamo. The Carlist army had suffered great losses, but could still have held the field for some time; on the other hand, the Liberal army, after seven years' campaigning, felt truly sick of the business. Don Carlos had gone to France for a holiday; on each side the leaders had a general desire of following his example. It was under these circumstances that Spartero had a conference with Maroto, the Carlist general, for the purpose of negotiating a truce. They were old chums of the South American wars, but since that time they had exchanged only cannon balls, in addition to more than one fierce proclamation. When they met in a lonely farm at night, in the greatest secrecy, it was feared by many lest a quarrel, or even perhaps a personal encounter, might arise from the occasion. Both entered a lower room, in which a table had been disposed with candles, paper, pens and ink, and were then left alone. For more than five hours they were closeted. What were they doing all this time? Simply this: On seeing Spartero, whom he knew well for the greatest gambler that ever lived, Maroto had taken out of his pocket a pack of cards, and challenged his foe at treillo. He won first all the cash of his opponent; then, he won his terms for the truce; then, article after article he won the entire submission of the Carlist army. Maroto paid his debt, like a gentleman, within twenty-four hours, and so ended the first Carlist war.

Probably no one article of diet is so generally adulterated as is cocoa. This article in its pure state, scientifically treated, is recommended by the highest medical authority as the most nourishing and strengthening beverage, and is strongly recommended to all an article that will tone and stimulate the most delicate stomach. Rowntree's prize medal Rock Cocoa is the only article in our markets that has passed the ordeal in which these articles are all submitted by the Government analyst, and is certified by him to be pure, and to contain no starch, farina, arrowroot, or any of the deleterious ingredients so commonly used to adulterate cocoa. When buying be particular and secure "Rowntree's." Other kinds are often substituted for the sake of larger profits. 11-G

THE CRADLE AND COFFIN.

HOW OUR DEATH RATE IS AUGMENTED—REFRESHING MEASURES WANTED.

Montreal is essentially a superficial city, whether viewed from a social standpoint or observed from the broad base of generalness, reserving for closer scrutiny an investigation of its many diversified components. One class of society, and one that forms an important factor in our integral relations, escapes the casual observation of our citizens, or, if noticed, is dismissed with a flippant remark as deserving of no more than a passing notice. This class—that of foundlings we have to deal with—every week from ten to twenty bodies, unnumbered by a name or titular designation, find a quiet resting place in our cemeteries. The question naturally suggested by such a frightful mortality is an interrogatory regarding the source of the supply and the care and attention bestowed on the hapless beings from the cradle to the coffin, a transition of easy and rapid progress. The questions involved are exhaustive and in many instances nauseating to a degree, so we will only deal with facts and figures sufficient to engage the attention of the charitable. During the week ending Saturday at noon the mortality among abandoned infants reached the total of thirteen. This high death-rate riveted the writer's attention and induced him to make enquiries which revealed a most deplorable condition of affairs, detrimental to the fair name of this "City of Churches." The fame of our charitable institutions being widely disseminated, has attracted to the portals of our asylums and hospitals a most undesirable class of beings, foisted off on Montreal by municipalities with less pretensions to religious distinction. Foundlings constantly arrive in undiminished numbers, in charge of nurses, who convey their charges to the Gray Nunnery, Guy street, where the waifs of misfortune are received. Sometimes one old woman comes with seven or eight

INFANTS IN BOXES AND BASKETS, disposed promiscuously without the feeblest attention to comfort. This grim ogress rings the door bell, and when the proprietress appears in answer to the summons the babes are committed to her care without any comment. The infants are unpacked and transferred to the nursery, where a kind, motherly Sister receives them. They are then treated to a tepid bath, probably the first lavage ever administered, and subsequently installed in a trim little crib in the dormitory, where numerous other unfortunates are gathered. Their wounds, sores, or chronic complaints are especially studied by medical men, and every possible care is adopted to prolong the little sufferer's life. In one year 719 infants were received in this manner from as close as could be ascertained, the following districts:—81 from Quebec and Rimouski, 96 from Ontario, 44 Ottawa, 47 United States, 1 France, 2 Ireland, 27 environs of Montreal, and 421 from this city. At the latter place 304 infants received from rural districts were credited to this city for lack of information, 631 children, or over three-fourths, expired during the year. The chief cause of this terrible mortality is attributed to the condition of the infants on arrival. It is a matter of common occurrence for babies to be received in a dying condition, or, suffering from scurvy, affections, and cutaneous disorders, which speedily release them from a life of suffering and torture. The amount of misery to which the infants are subjected previous to arriving at the institution is almost incredible.

majority of the imports come from foreign manufacturers. The health of the city is imperiled, as the infantile mortality goes to swell the weekly returns of the cemeteries, which credit Montreal with a maximum death rate. In Europe the Governments expend large sums of money for the succor of foundlings, and, by educating them, rear them into respectable citizens. But in Canada the matter is entrusted to the charitable efforts of a few noble ladies, who devote their lives to the good cause of charity. The massive stone erection fronting on Guy, St. Catherine and Dorchester, and known as the Grey Nunnery, is indebted partially for its origin to Rev. Sister Youville, founder of the order. In 1754 the Reverend Superior found the bodies of two young infants in the creek that existed at that time on the site of St. Ann's Market. A frightful gas, inflicted with

A DANGER, WAS VISIBLY in the throat of one of the bodies. The sight so affected the sympathetic soul of the good sister that she determined on a plan that would afford heartless mothers another recourse than abandonment for their offspring. The Ste. Pelagie department of the Grey Nuns' Hospital was then instituted, the burden thus assumed every year becoming more onerous and exacting. The sisters with characteristic self-abnegation, devoted their time bravely to the task, and now after a lapse of nearly two centuries' faithful application the good work is continued with unabated vigor. The list of deaths is a peculiar one, as no clue exists to trace the identity of the defunct child, whose only appellation is a Christian name, the family or surname being unknown. Last week the eldest child succeeded in attaining five weeks and ten days, while the youngest, who bore the ubiquitous title of John, only survived five days.—Montreal Post.

Ireland is, it seems, to have a Quaker Chief Secretary, Mr. Forster being of an eminent family among the Society of Friends. There is a considerable amount of Quakerdom in Ireland, and it need scarcely be added that it forms a most respectable and wealthy element in Irish society.
