

As an active member of the FATF, Canada is now in the process of implementing the recommendations contained in its report. Canada will also introduce new measures to ensure efficient record keeping by all Canadian financial institutions. Canada looks forward to close co-operation with G-7 countries and with all other countries actively engaged in combatting money laundering.