

e. Rights of persons with disabilities

Discuss the government's commitment to improving the rights of the disabled, such as legislation on provision of access to public facilities, public awareness campaigns, special education, etc.

C. CANADIAN REPRESENTATIONS/INTERVENTIONS

In this third section of the report, reporting officers are asked to provide a brief summary (one page in total) of representations and demarches made over the past year on human rights (e.g. support for human rights NGOs, human rights training, assistance and observers for elections). Officers should also provide ideas and suggestions for areas where Canada could provide further assistance in the field of human rights, democratic development and good governance.
