

early 1980's, that often resisted international economic change, toward striving for effective adjustment to new economic circumstances.

The implementation of the Canada-U.S. Free Trade Agreement and our strong support for the Uruguay Round complimented by expansion of bilateral and industrial cooperation with major trading partners are major international components of our efforts toward this end. Continued Structural adjustment and deficit reduction are major components of this task domestically.

Canadians are going forward with confidence. We look forward to continued growth and prosperity in the years ahead.
