

mics will then be able to pronounce, and even to see fulfilled against this nation the curse denounced by the Roman against the enemies of Rome.

Maneat quæso, duretque gentibus, si non amor nostri, at certè odium sui; quando urgentibus imperii fatis, nihil jam præstare fortuna majus potest quam hostium discordiam.

I am, my Lord, &c.