

The cathedral spire . . . was swaying and rocking in the air like the mast of a ship at sea.