FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 4, 1912.

SO FAR WE KNOW.

In the matter of the melon:

It is now an admitted fact that Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, on behalf of the Canadian Pacific Railway, asked the government to authorize the $60,000,000 issue of stock.

It is equally apparent that the government refused to consider the request in so far that they took no action.

The next thing apparent is that Sir Thomas Shaughnessy decided to make the issue on the authority of what is at best a joker in an act of parliament.

Other things concerned with the transaction are yet undisclosed.

THE MELON AND THE JOKER.

A great many people in Canada today will be at a loss to understand how the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. is able to do this.

Admittedly, it has the legal power to do this, the same people will be curious to know why the company time after time obtained permission from the Laurier government to increase its capital and why it applied to the Borden government six weeks ago for permission to issue this last $60,000,000 of new capital.

The explanation seems to be that the statute of 1892, permitting the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. to increase its capital, kept prominently to the front a clause providing that the issuing of stock should be "first approved by the governor-in-council."

From that time on, was careful to apply for and receive the approval of the government whenever it desired to divide a melon among its stockholders and the government. Parliament and the people generally supposed the governor-in-council held the key to the melon patch. All the time, however, there was a big hole in the fence, through which the company could pass if put to it. In short, the act of 1892 contained a joker which authorized the company, two-thirds of its stockholders consenting thereto, to "issue ordinary shares of capital stock in lieu of consolidated debenture stock, for any purpose for which it is at the time authorized to issue consolidated debenture stock."

In short, the company seems to have acquired the right to inflate its capital to any extent agreeable to the stockholders, and the subsequent provision, giving power to the governor-in-council to grant or withhold its approval, was merely so much window dressing. As soon as public sentiment became aroused against the continuous melon cuttings, the company sprung the joker on the government and proceeded to act without approval of the governor-in-council, for which it had petitioned.

THE COUNTRY IS NOW FACE TO FACE WITH THE PROPOSITION THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS NO SUPERVISION OVER STOCK ISSUES

BY THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY.

But whatever the legal rights of the company may be as to increasing its capital, the government is not foreclosed from enquiring into the way in which the proceeds of such capital are to be invested. Section 7 of the act of 1892 impresses a specific trust upon such proceeds. To quote: "The proceeds of each issue of shares of capital stock, or of consolidated debenture stock, under the authority of this act, shall be applied by the company, exclusively, to the purpose for which the shareholders authorized such issue."

And apart from this the company would be bound, in equity and good conscience, to sell the new stock at the highest possible price and to apply every dollar to the purposes of the undertaking.

Now, it is a matter of public record that the company intends to allot this stock among its present stockholders at 175, thus getting into its treasury $105,000,000. The real value of the stock is 275; it will really sell to the public for $185,000,000; the stockholders will get a rake-off of $80,000,000.

The duty of the government is plain. It should by injunction or otherwise prevent this mock sale of the stock at a price below its market value. It should then summon parliament immediately and bring down legislation dealing with the Canadian Pacific Railway, its melons, its jokers and its rates, in the public interest.

It is up to the government.

THE MELON IN MACDONALD.

The $60,000,000 melon of the Canadian Pacific Railway will be a very live issue in the Macdonald-by-election. The vacancy in the electoral district of Macdonald, which includes a portion of the City of Winnipeg, was caused by the appointment of Mr. William D. Staples to the grain commission. Mr. Staples carried the riding for the Conservatives in 1904, 1908 and 1911. In the last election reciprocity was the issue and the Conservative majority was cut down to 161. Up to date the present contest between Mr. Alexander Morrison, Conservative, and Mr. R. L. Richardson, Independent, has been waged on the trade issue, the latter coupling with the demand for reciprocity the grain growers' program for an immediate increase of the British preference and ultimate free trade between Britain and Canada.

The C. P. R. melon furnishes to the opposition a new and inviting line of attack upon the government, for which the ground has been well prepared by The Winnipeg Free Press and by Mr. Richardson's own newspaper, The Winnipeg Tribune. Every man in the west knows that a perpetual tax of $2,000,000 per year has been imposed upon the patrons of the C. P. R., which must and can only be collected thru extortionate freight rates. They will be told that the Borden government, by rejecting reciprocity, placed them at the mercy of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and is now sitting still while that company exploits them, without mercy, for the benefit of its stockholders.

The Conservatives had a strong position when they asked the western people, on national grounds, to forego the advantage of free trade with the United States and the consequent competition between American and Canadian railways, and to rely, for the redress of their railway grievances, upon the government of their own country. That position is forever lost if the western people are led to believe that the government does not fight the melon.

The Liberals of Macdonald are supporting Mr. Richardson, with Hon. Frank Oliver in the front of the battle. Premier Roblin and Hon. Robert Rogers are in charge of the campaign for Mr. Morrison. Whatever the result may be, it cannot but prove unfortunate to have the opponents of reciprocity burdened in the west with the defence of the C. P. R. melon, high freight rates and cynical disregard of the protests of the people.

SIR THOMAS' CHEAP EVASION.

When Sir Thomas Shaughnessy says that no burden will be imposed upon the people of Canada he misstates the case, and when he says, as it is reported, that the fixed charges will be reduced by using part of the money of the new issue to pay off existing five per cent. bonds, he deliberately misrepresents the truth. The biggest fixed charge the Canadian Pacific has today is that of dividends, and the public have been shamefully exploited in the past in connection with uncalculated dividends and are to be still more shamelessly exploited in the future now that a second precedent has been set by a second political party.

KEEP ON.

With the mayor's assurance that the federal square project has not been allowed to cool at Ottawa, the public must be satisfied at present. Since October last year, a good deal has been going on, but the darling child of the Conservative Government might have looked for a little less delay—or is it reluctance?—in providing a fitting acknowledgment of her merit and affection. Pleasant was the shock of surprise that came for his hearers when Hon. Mr. Pelletier declared that there was to be a new postoffice. It is to be hoped that the postoffice will form only a part of the federal square plan, and that the government will not further delay taking definite action. No favor is being asked, but only what is a real right and necessity. The city hall people should not cease urging the city's claims.

NO HANDBELLS.

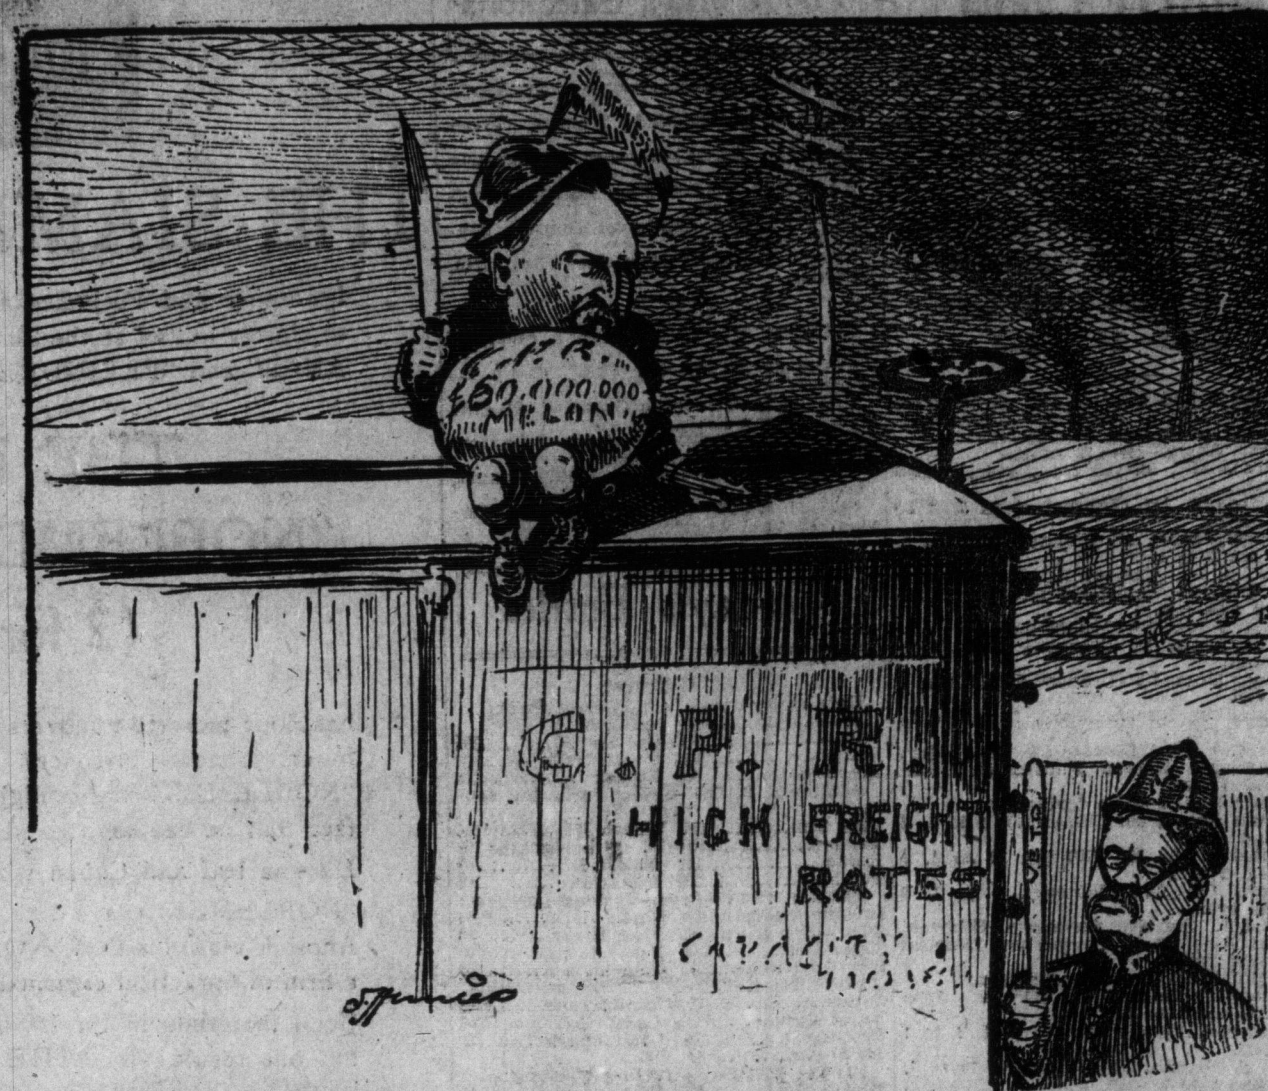

Toronto needs a park commission, and needs it badly. How long it will take to get one appointed the most expert prophet that ever graduated in Palestine would find it difficult to say, and he would probably hedge. But there is no reason why some one should not get the idea going in council, with a view to making it a plank in aldermanic policies for next December.

The present method of purchasing park property is to send out a deputation with a handbell or a brass band to gather the crowd before the property likely to be needed. Then the owner takes advice as to how high he ought to go in bleeding his fellow-citizens, and sometimes a deal is put thru on more or less exorbitant terms. Toronto ought to be able to buy property as any other corporation or commercial organization buys property, and to do that it is necessary to vest powers of negotiation in a body such as a park commission, which could work quietly and discreetly and submit its completed labor for confirmation.

NURSERIES NEED FINANCIAL AID

Deputation Ask Board of Control for $2500 to Assist in the Work of Caring for Children—Home for Incubable Needs More Money—Glen Stewart.

Asking for an annual grant of $500 for each of the four nurseries in the city and $500 additional for extension work a deputation interested in this undertaking waited upon the board of control yesterday morning and wrested a promise from the controllers that the matter would be given their sympathetic consideration.

Mrs. John McDonald, who headed the deputation, declared that the four nurseries under their charge had cared for 61,048 infants and children last year at an average cost of 19 cents for each child. The children were both fed and entertained, and for this service a fee of 10 cents for the first youngster, and 5 cents for each additional one was charged. The work entailed considerable responsibility, she claimed, since in many cases babies had to be fed every three hours. By means of this service, however, mothers were permitted to go out and work for their children whereas under other circumstances it would be impossible.

Money for the Sick.

Controller McCarthy brought up the question of granting an additional five cents per diem allowance for each patient in the Home for Incubables, but when the matter was put to a vote, a deadlock resulted and hence nothing was done. At present this institution is granted 45 cents a day for every patient, but the expenses make this sum entirely inadequate, and the controller proposed that the allowance be raised to 50 cents per patient. Controllers Church and Foster protested that all such grants should be provided for

In the estimates, while the mayor and Controller McCarthy advocated increasing the appropriation, Controller Hocken, who was absent, is known to favor the increased grant, so the matter will be passed at a full meeting of the board.

Glen Stewart.

It was decided to take no action regarding the purchase of the Glen Stewart property till after the board had visited the grounds with the parks commissioner on Monday. The controllers were of the opinion that the Kingston road frontage was essential if the land was to be used for a park, and expressed surprise at the report in The World that this was not to be included. It was also decided to secure information as to the exact property available and how this harmonized with the civic park system.

Not Negligent.

Mayor Geary took exception to a report in a morning paper to the effect that he had been negligent in his duties regarding the negotiations in connection with the proposed federal square. He produced all the correspondence in this respect. "We hope," he said, "and intend to insist that the government make a decision in time to get it into the estimates next year."

GEORGETOWN'S SUCCESSFUL FAIR.

GEORGETOWN, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—The Esqueving Agricultural Association today at Georgetown held its sixty-sixth annual exhibition, 2600 people being on the grounds. The exhibits in the various classes were good, there being 1500 entries. The exhibits in roots, apples, butter, cattle, poultry and horses were above the average.

The association has a balance in the bank of $1500 and next year the directors will have several new buildings erected on the grounds.

When arrested they had in their possession $329 in bills, over $200 of it corresponding with the numbers furnished by the bank of the stolen money. T. C. Robbette, K.C., entered a plea of guilty for Davis, but asked mercy for the woman, saying that she acted under her husband's direction.

Counsel stated that Davis had found the money in a lumber pile in Port Huron. How it got there he would not say.

The money found on Davis when arrested has been turned over to the bank.

Six months in the Central Prison was the sentence meted out to Walter Davis by Magistrate Denison yesterday morning. The charge was bringing stolen money into Canada. Alvin Davis, wife of the accused, was discharged.

On Aug. 9 the couple were arrested in the Palmer House by Detectives Cronin and Mitchell after bills, known to have been part of a theft of $150,000 from the New Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal, had been traced back to them. The robbery occurred in Sept. 1911.
