TELLS HOW GIPSY LAD ROSE UNTIL MILLIONS LISTENED

Evangelist At Record-Breaking Meeting of Mission Gives Story of His Life—Sea of Handkerchiefs Wave Farewell—Audience "Cheers For Gipsy."

[By Isabel C. Armstrong.]

The singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus" by a choir of 500 voices, while 6,000 people stood in the armories last night in tribute of fealty to the King of Kings brought to an impressive conclusion the awakening two weeks of the Gipsy Smith mission in London. Perhaps never before in all the history of London has such a mighty audience been held enthralled by a speaker, responsive to his every mood and every phase of his message, as that which surrounded Gipsy Smith like a sea of humanity. They smiled with joy at a sunshine flash of his irresistible humor; laughed outright at a rapier thrust of his wit; wept over scenes of pathos, of difficulty graphically described; applauded for a noble sentiment which awoke a responsive chord of approval; sat in the hushed silence in which only the voice of the evangelist and their own heartbeats could be heard, as he led them to holy places in the life of his family, where great souls were miraculously converted to God.

Good-bye to London.

Gipsy Smith last night said "good-bye" to London by telling the story of himself and his family, of how God had taken an ignorant little gipsy boy and made him an evangelist to five continents, made him the means of preaching the gospel to millions of people all over the world, and made possible the mission in London of the past two weeks.

"His grace takes the beggar from the dunghill and places him among princes," were his closing words, after which, as thousands stood in acknowledgment of help received from him in the campaign, Gipsy Smith, his face tradiant, invoked this blessing:

"O God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the words we have listened to, for this mission and for the message of Thine evangelist."

"O God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the words we have listened to, for this mission and for the message of Thine evangelist."

"O God, help us to carry out this redeeming program.

"Abide With Us."

"Abide With Us."

"Abide with us, O Master; abide with us as we separate. Help us all, O Lord, wherever we may be, on land or sea; and keep us true; keep up true in our joy or in our sorrow and our tears until the daybreak and the challed on the daybreak and the challed on the forces of our clare of the first man to plead to have a missionery sent to the challed on the forces of our clare of the first man to plead to have a missionery sent to the challed on the first man to plead to have a missionery sent to the challed on the first man to plead to have a missionery sent to the challed on the first man to plead to have a missionery sent to the challed on the first man to plead to have a missionery sent to the challed on the first man to plead to have a missionery sent to the challed on the first man to plead to have a missionery sent to the challed on the first man to plead to have a missionery sent to the Meerts.

Never Be Afraid.

"Never be afraid to give your pastor the glad hand, and say 'Gee, Pastor, that sermon of yours did me good.' A lot of people say 'Don't pet the pastor or you will spoil him.' I do not know of one pastor that has even been spoilt by a little bit of fussing, but I do know of many that have been discouraged for the want of a little spoiling.

"Some of you ladie do a little less social work and go and ask your pastor what you can do to help him out a little bit. Give up just one dance or one card party and go and visit some one you know who has been brought to Jesus through the mission. Don't let the mission merely touch his emotions, but let it create a spiritual starving for the word of God, and you will be the one helping to feed his soul."

The Christmas Store

Service the Present Need

And this is the store for it. "This is my first visit to a 'dry goods store,' and I want to buy some Christmas presents," a man said rather despairingly. But there was a wide-awake cheerful, intelligent helper to make it all plain to him that he was welcome and that he had found real help at last. No one need be a stranger in this store—if you are addressed it is because we want to be friendly and make you feel at home. You are not a formal guest in our house, for we try to make you "one of our family." It is a good idea to gift shop in such a store.
