NO TRACE OF DARRELL FRIEND ALSO VANISHED

Say It Was Made When She Was Walter Warrington of Lansdowne Unable to Understand Its Avenue Not Heard From for a Week. Meaning.

An interesting lawsuit, in which the last will of the late Mrs. Sarah Ketland Gooderham, relict of the late Jas. Gooderham, who was killed on the opening of the Credit Valley Railway, is being contested, was heard by Chiei Justice Falconbridge in the non-jury assize court yesterday. This will was made on Sept. 26, 1906, after a prolonged illness, and is contested by Dorothy Josephine Ferrier and Aline Beatrice Neville infants, and nieces of deceased, There is still no word of Harry F. Dariell, the missing broker. His friends are at a loss to understand his disappearance Friday last. No expla-nation of his absence has as yet been The absence of Walter H. nection with that of Mr. Darrell, whom he knew, but a consultation between Mrs. Warrington and friends of Mr. Darrell, with whose brother "Nat" Mr. Warrington was engaged in a business deal, falls to disclose any connection. While Mrs. Warrington had not heard from her husband since Tuesday, it is said that Friday morning he telegraphed to his selicitor, J. R. L. Starr. who are seeking to establish a will made on May 29, 1906, some four months before her death. The infants are re-presented by their next friend, Alice A. Will, Mabel B. Will and Francis B. Will B. Will.

The estate of the late Mrs. Gooder-ham was valued at $60,000, and, according to her last will, half of it was left to Mrs. P. W. Ellis, who is the chief defendant, and was adopted by the late Mrs. Gooderham, when 2 years old. The other defendants are: Philip William Ellis, the Toronto General Trusts.

It appears that another will was Mrs. Joseph Hubbard, who was artested Sunday at Uno Park, north of Cobalt, by Provincial Detective Greer, charged with writing letters to John Waklin, Cannington, was taken thru Toronto yesterday to the county jail at Whitby, where she is detained. It is alleged that she wrote a letter saying that if Waklin did not send $500 to ing that if Waklin did not send $500 to her husband, she would blow up his house with dynamite. She is said to have written other letters to Port Perry, Ont., containing similar threats. It appears that another will was made on July 25, 1906, which revokes the former will and which plaintiffs claim substantially provided for Mrs. Lobb. This paper made P.W. Ellis and J. F. KILLS FAMILY AND SELF

Three Bodies Are Found With Heads in Bathtub. SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 18 .- With SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 18.—With their heads submerged in water in a bathroom at their home, W. L. Seeley, an attorney, aged 56, his wife, aged 50, and daughter, Miss Rone, aged 22, were found by F. W. Zibbell and Guy M. Smelzer. Smelzer was engaged to marry Miss Seeley, and Zibbell was a friend of the family.

Mrs. Seeley and her daughter had been murdered with blows inflicted with some blunt instrument; believed to have been a hammer. Seeley had been drowned, according to Coroner Snyder. By the last will Mrs. Ellis was to get half of the estate and the other half was divided up among the children of W. H. Gibbs, F. M. Gibbs, Mrs. A. F. Lobb and E. P. Holt. One share was left to the Women's Missionary Society and one share to Mrs. Will.

The ground on which the will made subsequent to May 29, 1906, is attacked are that Mrs. Gooderham, who died on Sept. 26, 1906, at Mr. Ellis', following a lengthy illness, was very weak both physically and mentally and that she

Over the corpses of Seeley and his wife was a steamer trunk. An empty chloroform bottle was on the stand in the bathroom. Clutched in one hand of Seeley, which was beneath the water, was a pocket handkerchief which, altho soaked in water, still carried a faint trace of the odor of chloroform.

lations and also the will of May 29.

The witnesses called yesterday were Walter Gow, the lawyer who drew up the last will for Mrs. Gooderham; Dr. John Caven, who attended her during her illness, and Dr. R. F. Noble. A third witness, Miss McKnight, a nurse, who is believed will give material evidence, is in the hospital with typhoid fever, and the case has been adjourned uptil she recovers who is believed will give material evidence, is in the hospital with typhoid fever, and the case has been adjourned until she recovers.

Mr. Gow when examined by Hon. S. H. Blake, K.C., said that to the best of his knowledge, Mrs. Gooderham was fully capable of understanding what was transpiring when the last will was made, while Dr. Caven also testified to her being rational at al' times when he was there. Dr. Noble said the mental capacity of Mrs. Gooderham was perfectly clear.

The late Mrs. Gooderham was a sister of the late Hon. T. N. Gibbs and W. H. Gibbs.
