There was a big response yesterday to our Underwear announcement in Monday's papers. Hundreds of buyers were attracted by the good values, and from morning till night the salespeople were kept busy. We shall continue to make it worth your while to come here for the next few days. Our assortment is large enough to satisfy your present needs. In connection with the White Underwear selling there are special inducements in Corsets. For instance, this line:

Millinery Chances.

A special purchase of Millinery at an exceedingly low price is important enough to make things interesting in that department to-morrow. We have no apology to offer for the littleness of the prices except that we are able to buy cheap, and always sell as we buy. If you want to get first choice of these things you'll have to get here early on Thursday morning, when we shall sell:

A manufacturer's stock of Children's Headwear, including muslin and silk bonnets, hats, tams, etc., regular prices 50c to 75c each. Your choice Thursday at .25

No imperfections in the goods, and every one right in line with present needs. You can't afford to miss such an opportunity.

Shirt Waists.

Yesterday's warmth made trade brisk in the Shirt Waist section. Shoppers always expect to find us having the largest assortment, the newest styles and the lowest prices. But those who saw the fine display of Shirt Waists were more than surprised at the elegance and excellence of the collection, which is not equalled anywhere in Canada.

No one should buy until they have seen what we have to offer.

This list will give you some idea of the prices:

Ladies' Shirt Waists of Percales and Fancy Prints, good assortment of colors, all sizes, special value 1.00

You make no mistake in coming here. More and more are the women of Toronto looking to this store to supply their needs. That is the best evidence that our way of doing business is satisfactory.

Summer Silks.

Of course, you are interested. Who wouldn't be when such a superior variety of beautiful silk fabrics is at their disposal? Suppose we let these six items speak for the whole department:

HOW TO BRING FACTORIES TO TORONTO.

The question of the day, as far as Toronto is concerned, is the origination and adoption of a policy for increasing the city's population. Everyone admits that the establishment of new factories is the most important factor in bringing about that increase. For some years the Council has been discussing this problem, but so far little or no practical results have been accomplished. Instead of pursuing a policy that will attract factories to Toronto we have, as a matter of fact, adopted methods that have a tendency to repel them. Hamilton, Peterborough and other provincial towns have profited by our stupidity and indifference. The latest proposition to induce manufacturers to locate in Toronto comes from Ald. Lamb, who thinks the reduction of the water rates to 5 cents per thousand gallons would operate as an inducement with manufacturers who consume considerable quantities of water. While we approve of Ald. Lamb's idea we have no great faith in its powers of magnetism for bringing factories here. A much greater inducement than five-cent water is one-cent electricity. It is within our power to offer manufacturers electric energy at one cent per horse power per hour if we will only make use of the opportunities that lie before us.

The two great sources of power in manufacturing to-day, outside of the large independent steam plants, are the electric motor and the gas engine. The latter has made great headway in Germany, Great Britain and the rest of Europe as an economical and convenient motive power. It is within our power to offer manufacturers electric energy at one cent per horse power per hour if we will only make use of the opportunities that lie before us. The gas engine has not become as popular in this country as it is in Europe, but its use is constantly on the increase. In addition to supplying power gas is also largely used by manufacturers for other purposes, such as smelting, heating, drying and lighting. Cheap power, heat and light are incentives that often turn the scale in favor of one location as against another. Now Toronto is in a position to offer manufacturers special inducements in gas and electricity if she will only rise equal to the occasion and embrace the golden opportunity that presents itself.

The condition that confronts us to-day is this: The supply of electricity and of gas is each in the hands of a monopoly. We control the supply of water, and we can offer special inducements in regard to it, but not so with gas and electricity. The electric monopoly is so exorbitant that it has aroused the antipathy of nearly every individual and firm that uses electric power. Instead of inducing factories to come to Toronto our electric monopoly will more likely keep them away and drive from us those that are already located here. Eight cents per hour is the average price charged by the electric monopoly. Some have a higher rate than that. The electric monopoly is allowed to move a motor, change the location of a wire, or do any job of that kind, however small and unimportant. The company insists on making all these changes itself, and exacts its own scale of charges. A job that could be done for two dollars is charged five dollars. The consumers of extra power are all lured in their complaints against the electric monopoly.

In considering the situation the fact must not be lost sight of that the price of electric power has been fully doubled since the company secured the five years' contract for lighting the city. This is a fact which we are prepared to prove. The threat to establish a plant of our own two years ago compelled the company to reduce the price of electricity about $30 per lamp per year. But as soon as the contract was signed the company set to work to double and treble the rates charged for power.

Having a monopoly of electric distribution in Toronto, the company can charge just what it pleases. There are no restrictions, not even such as, to a certain extent, control the Gas Company. Manufacturers, and principally the smaller ones, are at the mercy of the Toronto Electric Light Company. Although the company charges three or four times as much as it should for electric power the individual has no redress whatever.

We wish the aldermen would become fully seized of the fact that Toronto's electric monopoly is killing this place as a manufacturing centre. Let them become seized of the fact that a remedy is available if they will only apply it, and that the people will hold them responsible if they do not apply it. The remedy is this: The city itself must undertake to supply electric energy to manufacturers at cost price, in the same way as it proposes to offer water at cost price.

A step in the direction of municipal ownership can be taken at once. This first step may not be a very big one, but it will have an immediate and powerful effect in regulating the charges of the monopoly. The question of furnishing light and power for the new civic buildings is now awaiting settlement. The Toronto Electric Light Company is anxious to secure the contract, but the company will quote lower figures than those at which the City Engineer could undertake to give the service for with the city's own plant. But the company will quote a low figure only because it hopes thereby to retain the valuable monopoly in virtue of which it exacts tribute from every manufacturer and every consumer of electricity in the city. This is the secret of the Toronto Electric Light Company's exceptionally low offer for lighting the new city buildings.

If the aldermen are true to the interests of the city they will reject the proposition of the Toronto Electric Light Company, even if it offers to furnish the service for nothing. If they are true to the interests of the citizens they will install a civic plant at once and take into their own hands the lighting, not only of the new City Hall, but of all the city's buildings. This plant should be installed at the Waterworks powerhouse, whence the current can be distributed to the different buildings. The proposal to locate the plant in the City Hall should not be entertained. If the city proposes to limit its electric supply to lighting that one particular building it should not go into the business of lighting the rest of the city. The Toronto Electric Light Company's principal argument for retaining its own plant is that it will afford us a lever for regulating the monopoly which now has the city by the throat. And if the city's plant is to act as a regulator it must be located in a place where its extension is possible and economical. That place is at the Waterworks powerhouse, where the city already has a battery of boilers and at which coal is delivered at the cheapest rates.

Let the aldermen make an effort to give manufacturers cheap water power and light, and then we may secure more factories for Toronto. As soon as the monopoly realizes the fact that the city has wires of its own in the streets it will soon moderate its extortion and treat its customers with more civility and justice.

If the city installed a plant of its own at the waterworks it would be in a position to supply power for less than two cents per hour, or one-fourth of what the Toronto Electric Light Company charges.

Reduce the cost of electric power from eight cents to two cents. That is the way to attract factories to Toronto. The installation of this plant will lead up in due time to the assumption by the city of the lighting of all its streets. It will lead up to the assumption of the whole electric light, not only of the city, but of the whole province. The city which has the means to do this business of its own to start with. Now is the time to make a start in the business. Once the monopoly sees that we are in earnest it will be ready and anxious to make a deal to hand over its plant to the city in return for reasonable compensation.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Stationing Committee Has Nearly Concluded Its Labor-Prohibition Question Likely to Be Discussed.

The annual meeting of the Toronto Conference will open at 9.30 o'clock to-morrow morning in Carlton Street Church. It has not yet been fully decided, but it is probable that the prohibition question will come in for its full share of discussion. If the question does come before the conference some hot talks may be expected, as many of the members feel that the Government is trying to shelve the matter by raising the question of direct taxation, to compensate for the loss of revenue.

The Stationing Committee is composed of the chairman of each district of the conference and the following representatives: Toronto Central District, Revs. A. B. Chambers and W. R. Parker; Toronto West, Revs. J. D. Kelly and B. B. Howe; Toronto East, Rev. G. J. Bishop and S. D. Chown; Brantford, Rev. B. L. Lacey and J. H. Oliver; Chatham, Rev. H. Manning and J. W. Stewart; Bradford, Rev. S. Matthews and John Lock; Oranville, Rev. Alex. Langford; Barrie, Rev. M. L. Pearson and R. Barker; Collingwood, Rev. T. E. Barker; W. B. Hargrave; Owen Sound, Rev. Alfred Brown; Brantford, Rev. Herman Hoan and W. Reynolds; Parry Sound, Rev. B. S. Rupp; and W. Dean.

The Grand Lodge of the Sons of Ireland will meet to-day at Occident Hall, corner of Queen and Bathurst streets, Grand Master Steele in the chair.

LIQUIDS THAT WON'T MIX.

When will the esteemed clergy of this country realize the fact that politics and religion will not mix any more than water and oil? Whatever mixing has hitherto been tried has given us nothing but trouble. No future attempt to amalgamate politics with religion will be successful. They must be kept in separate bottles. Religion in its own bottle is as good and pure a thing as the Chian or Faerlan wine about which His Holiness the Pope discourses so pleasantly in his recent Horatian effort. Politics is also a good commodity when bottled by itself. But when the two get mixed up in the same vessel, look out for explosions and general disaster. We take it that Mr. Merry Del Val has arrived at the conclusion that Canadian politics and Canadian religion will not unite. He is satisfied of this, and the despatches tell us that he is going home to inform His Holiness that politics and religion are not on speaking terms in Canada. If he has arrived at this conclusion we congratulate the ablegate on the keenness of his perception and on his ability in diagnosing a complex situation. What a contrast there is between Mr. Merry Del Val in this particular and some of the clergy of this city. Rev. John Langtry, for instance, the latter has lived in Canada all his life, and yet he has not learned what the ablegate has acquired in a couple of months. It is only a few days ago that Rev. Dr. Langtry and other Anglican clergymen appealed to Hon. Mr. Hardy to make another effort to see if religion and politics could not be amalgamated. The Rev. John proposed that but a small percentage of religion should be mixed with a big dose of politics. He asked to have religion incorporated as part of the educational system of the country. We thought this in question, as far as at least as Protestants were concerned, was settled years ago, but apparently it is not. There are some people who are continually holding forth on dead issues. This religious educational question is a corpse upon which post-mortems are being made with dremon frequency. Every vertebra that is given only confirms its predecessor. They are all the same and they all affirm in unmistakable language and with much emphasis that religion and politics will not mix. We have some 180 churches in Toronto and a considerably larger number of clergymen. This force being to be large enough to attend to the religious education of the youth of the city. There seems to be one church on the average for each 1000 of the population. The ministers should not seek to make the schools shoulder the responsibility that the churches should bear. Besides, as we have already said, Rev. Mr. Langtry's proposal is unworkable. If put into execution it would only result in strife, enmity and discord. The only way to maintain harmony in this country at least is to confine the schools to purely secular education. As far as religion is concerned they must be neutral.

THE ADVANCED DOMESTIC.

A subject which is always more or less in evidence is that which deals with the characteristics of the domestic servant. The manner and little ways, which, after the manner of the sex, of whatever station, will not mix. We have some 180 churches in Toronto and a considerably larger number of clergymen. This force being to be large enough to attend to the religious education of the youth of the city. There seems to be one church on the average for each 1000 of the population. The ministers should not seek to make the schools shoulder the responsibility that the churches should bear. Besides, as we have already said, Rev. Mr. Langtry's proposal is unworkable. THE MAPLE LEAF.

The following is an authentic version of Canada's National Anthem. The author, Mr. Alex. Muir, has never had the words of the anthem published in full, and as he is receiving letters frequently for the correct version of his popular composition, he has revised the poem and made it final. It reads as follows:

In days of yore the hero, Wolfe,
Britain's glory did maintain
And planted firm Britannia's flag
On Canada's fair domain.
Here may it wave, our boast, our pride,
And join in love together,
With Lady, Claitie, Shamrock, Rose—
The Maple Leaf forever!

Chorus:
The Maple Leaf, our emblem dear,
God save our Queen and heaven bless
The Maple Leaf forever!

On many hard-fought battlefields,
Our brave fathers, side by side,
For freedom, homes and loved ones dear,
Firmly stood and nobly died;
And those dear rights, which they maintained,
We swear to yield them, never!
We'll rally 'round the Union Jack,
The Maple Leaf forever!

In autumn time our emblem dear
Dons its tints of crimson hue;
One blood would dye a deeper red,
Shed, dear Canada, for you!
Ere sacred rights, our fathers won
To freedom, we deliver.
We'll fight our battle cry:
"The Maple Leaf forever!"

God bless our loved Canadian homes,
Our Dominion's vast domain;
And peace hold an endless reign;
Our Union bound by ties of love,
That discord cannot sever.
And flourish green o'er freedom's home
The Maple Leaf forever!

On merry England's far-famed land,
May kind heaven sweetly smile;
God bless old Scotland evermore,
And Ireland's Emerald Isle!
Then swell the song, both loud and long,
Till rocks and forests quiver;
God save our Queen, and heaven bless
The Maple Leaf forever!

BRUTAL ASSAULT ON A WOMAN.

Scandalous and Cowardly Conduct of a Man.

DUNCAN USED HIS FISTS, And Wound Up by Thrusting an Umbrella Into the Widow's Mouth.

The Whole Trouble Arose Over a Very Small Affair and Showed Particular Savagery—Meeting of the Town Council—Electricians Holding a Convention on the American Side of the River—Volunteers Gone to the Camp at Niagara—General News From the Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 8.—(Special.)—The most brutal and inhuman assault ever perpetrated by a man upon a woman in Niagara Falls was committed yesterday afternoon. The man is William Duncan, a property owner on Queen-street, and his victim is Widow Hamilton, a middle-aged woman living next door to the cause of the trouble was a leaky water-spout on Mrs. Smeaton's house, which allowed the rain from the roof to run into the widow's house, and after abusing her, and beating her with his fists, he thrust his umbrella into her mouth and left her in a state of unconsciousness. The police were called, and the man was taken to the police station. The widow is now in a hospital, and the man is being held for trial.
