celective remains to be seen. The feat containing present, with trade interests is to interfere with trade interests is to interfere with trade interests in to constanting present, with the desire to beneat the people who poll votes. The interests of the community should of course be the one thing considered.

The spitchin for the establishment of municipal coal yards, or for the civic case of coal has suffered from the balancing of interests and for this balancing of interests and from the balancing of interests and in the supplemental of the problem that have considered.

The spitch of the sufferent families, which are unable to buy coal except in small quantities and at ruinous prices, is problematic.

When Russis breaks thru Bulgaria with Roumania, the Truty will be busy in the business of the cutton that have accrued from the high prices. The retail groce will fell you that he is gotting less profit out of potstoes at fifty cents a peet than he did when they were twenty cents. The commission agent, the regist collector, have much to do with the rising prices, and they have laken advantage, like many others, of the war conditions to exact the last possible profit.

It must be recognized that the war has made a great change in the laws of supply and demand. A super-demand has been absent to discriminate when labor was called to battic. After two years, when the pressure has become urgent and even agonizing, the government still remains volcentees and the propose may be a super-supply. In many respects supplies have fallen off. owing to the withdrawal of productive labor. A government will be profit of the propose of the supply and demand. squadrons successfully engaged them aerial combats. On the great part of the front our pilots gained considerable success and indisputably had the upper hand of the enemy.

Fight Many Battles.

"On the Somme front there were 29 engagements. Four enemy planes were brought down. One fell in the Vaux Woods. Two, attacked by SubLieut, Guynemer, descended in flames after some minutes of fighting, making Guynemer's 17th and 18th aeroplanes. A fourth machine crashed to the earth

some minutes of fighting, making Guynemer's 17th and 18th aeropianes. A fourth machine crashed to the earth south of Miserey. Three other German machines were seriously hit and fell wrecked near Estrees and in the region of Peronne. Four enemy aeroplanes were compelled to descend in their own lines. It is confirmed that one German machine reported seriously hit on September 22, was brought down between Miserey and Villers-Carbonnel.

Six More Brought Down.

"Between Chaulnes and Havre six Germans were brought down one fell burning near Chaulnes during an engagement between four French and sir enemy machines. A second fell at Licourt, a third at Parvillers, and a fourth south of Marchelpot. A fifth and sixth were brought down by the same pilot in an engagement between a French squadron. They fell in the region of Andechy, one in our lines.

"A Fokker fell flaming near our lines north of Chalons. Another was apparently seriously damaged.

"In the Verdun region machine guns winged a German at close quarters. The machine descended on Polyre Hill. A Fokker dived vertically into our lines east of St. Mihlel.

raid by about fifty of our machines was carried out on an important railway junction, where much damage was done, two trains containing ammunition being destroyed and many violent explosions being caused. A number of other raids on enemy railway works and sidings, aerodromes and other points of military importance were equally successful.

"In addition, many fights occurred in the air, in the course of which three hostile machines were destroyed and five others driven to earth damaged, besides many others which broke off the fight and were seen to descend steeply, but could not be watched to the ground as our machines were too busily engaged. Five of our machines are missing."

over thirty men who are going to make a big effort to obtain the convention for their city next year. They say that it is fifteen years since Ottawa for their city next year. They say that it is fifteen years since Ottawa has had the convention and that during the intermission the congress has made several jumps from coast to coast.

Winnipeg delegates are also trying to get the next convention for their city, but nine years ago it met in that city and Ottawa thinks that this should eliminate the western city. Hamilton is another strong contender, but if the past policy be continued of having conventions meet in cities well apart, this should, in the opinion of Ottawa, exclude them.
