WORKERS' WELFARE MUST COME FIRST

S. R. Parsons Explains His Attitude Toward 8-Hour Day at Empire Club.

S. R. Parsons, editor-in-chief of the London Daily News, failed to appear at the Empire Club luncheon yesterday on account of his refusal to be vaccinated and consequent inability to get away from the city should he visit it. S. R. Parsons was the subject of a Washington labor conference at the Washington labor conference. He believed that his attitude on the eight-hour day had been misunderstood in his own plant no worker exceeded 48 1-2 hours a week, and he considered that the welfare of the worker should come first. He quoted Charles Dickens to the effect that he should be fellow-pilgrims as an expression of his own views of the relations that should exist between employer and employed. It was the universal eight-hour day he thought, that was objected to and he himself felt that certain occupations should have shorter hours than others, but a universal eight-hour day at present would accentuate the economic difficulties of the situation. The Ottawa conference recommended a royal commission which would go into the whole question of the eight-hour day, and that action be deferred until their report be received. He was therefore fortified in the stand he took at Washington. Mr. Parsons then recapitulated the leading points of his recent address to the Manufacturers' Association on the Arthur Hewitt took the chair for the first time as president, and was loudly acclaimed. He complimented the retiring president, R. S. Stapel, and hoped that as unity was the ideal of the empire, so also it would be of

PRIVY COUNCIL REPORT TO HAND

Finding Against Toronto Railway Says Order for Bridge Was Mandatory.

A report on the privy council case, recently decided in favor of the city against the Toronto Railway Company, regarding the company's liability to a share of the cost of the Queen street high level bridge, has been received by the city from London. Their lordships find that the Toronto Railway was in error in stating that it did not know until 1917 whether the city would press for payment, but remark that the statement was "promulgated in ignorance." With regard to the objection of Corporation Counsel Geary that special leave could not be given to appeal against an order of the Ontario Railway Board, the court holds that the board is not exempt from the prerogative of the crown to grant special leave to appeal from all courts, but they think that in the case of the railway board such leave should be sparingly exercised and only in special cases. Their lordships hold that the order to build the bridge was not merely permissive, as the railway contended, but mandatory in character, for public protection and intra vires. The court holds that the board is not an "interested" party.

CATTLE BUYER BEATS MASKED HIGHWAYMEN

While motoring to the Union Stock Yards at 5.30 yesterday morning Max Cohl, a cattle buyer, living at 186 High Park avenue, was attacked by two masked men, who mounted the running board of his car. Refusing to stop Cohl reached down and struck one of them over the head and writhed with the crank. The men jumped from the car and the cattle man continued on his journey.

COMMITTEE URGES WIDOWS' CAUSE

Premier Drury Turns Considerate Ear to Mothers' Allowance Committee.

MILLION NEEDED

By invitation of the Mothers' Allowance Committee of which Rev. Peter Bryce is chairman, a large delegation, headed by Mrs. A. M. Huestis, waited upon the premier and members of the cabinet at the parliament buildings yesterday morning in an urgent appeal for the passage of a bill in favor of mothers' allowances. The chairman in his opening remarks informed the premier that the delegation represented every denomination in the province; also social service organizations, philanthropic bodies, educational associations, Great

DON'T WHIP!

Stop Lashing Your Bowels with Harsh Cathartics but take "Cascarets."

Everyone must occasionally give to the bowels some regular help or else suffer from constipation, bilious attacks, stomach disorders, and sick headache. But do not whip the bowels into activity with harsh cathartics. What the liver and bowels need is a gentle and natural tonic, one that can constantly be used without harm. The gentlest liver and bowel tonic is "Cascarets." They put the liver to work and cleanse the colon and bowels of all waste, toxins and poisons without griping—they never sicken or inconvenience you like Calomel, Salts, Oil, or Purgatives. Twenty-five million boxes of Cascarets are sold each year. They work while you sleep. Cascarets cost so little the too.

War Veterans, and many others, Mr. Bryce also had letters from a number of prominent men expressing regret at not being able to be present. Resolutions had also been passed supporting the plan of mothers' allowances in London, Hamilton, Ottawa and other places in addition to the Toronto interest. A year ago, said Mr. Bryce, a delegation had waited upon the government; today there was even more need than then. The speaker stated there were 16,048 widows excluded of those of soldiers, and 31,223 children of widows in Ontario. There were 3,210 of these widows and 8,887 children known to be in need. The churches had tried to meet the situation in the past, but this was now found to be inadequate. What the deputation asked was state provision of an adequate character under proper supervision for those widows and children.

ONE MILLION NEEDED.

Rev. Gilbert Agar, secretary of the Social Service Council, Ottawa, said $1,000,000 would give the mothers quota by former speakers $385 each per annum, this would enable her to take care of her children, and no mother could serve the state better than by doing this. Mrs. Plumtree, representing many women, drew attention of the premier to the fact that care of the state for the children should extend to the home as well as give them education in the schools. Referring to a recent conference of experts in France, the speaker stated that the verdict of the session was that nothing was more vital to the nation than care for the future of the children. Mrs. Plumtree quoted two specific cases in which the mother returned with and cared for her children during the day, then went out to earn money for them at night.

On behalf of the Trades and Labor Council, Mr. Gunn referred to the deputation of last year. He said that it was the duty of the mother to mould her children and that no one could take her place in doing this. He emphasized the statement that it was a moral duty to bring in a bill to provide that mothers might remain in their homes and suggested that a conference with the organizations that had been working on the matter of mothers' allowances should be held by the government in order to frame a bill that would be adequate and in every way satisfactory. Mr. McCullough of the Social Service Council, London, testified that many London organizations were strong in support of the proposed legislation and Provincial Secretary Turley, on behalf of the G.W.V.A., said that it was an outstanding matter upon which the veterans were agreed.

Premier Promises Action.

In reply the premier promised to take some action, stating at the same time that it was a matter that would have to be seen in round. The question was such a large one that it was not easy to decide how it was to be done. Speaking for himself, and he thought he might also say for his cabinet, the premier agreed that the children were the greatest asset the province possessed. He also stated that the government had been thinking on the subject, and would continue to do so, and he hoped they would be able to see their way to what would be an intelligent and adequate solution, but he could not promise that this would be done at the next session, or when it would be done. Mrs. L. A. Hamilton moved a vote of thanks to the premier. Among those present were Mrs. A. M. Huestis, Mrs. Sidney Small, Canon Plumtree, Archdeacon Ingles, Rev. L. Minahan, Dr. Margaret Patterson and Dr. Stowe Gillen. Mrs. Horace Parsons, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Frost, Niagara Falls, representing the National Council of Women; Mrs. W. A. Kavanaugh and Mrs. M. Healy, representing the Catholic Women's League of Canada.

GETS NO DAMAGES.

Judge Morson yesterday dismissed the suit of William Slater against the Toronto Railway Co. for $59 for the damage done to his auto when it was struck by a street car at Queen street and University avenue on July 30 last. The evidence showed that the driver of the auto attempted to cross the intersection in front of a westbound Queen car.

NO HOLD-UPS REPORTED.

Inspector of Detectives Guthrie stated yesterday that no hold-ups were reported to the police Tuesday. He said the motor patrols were out until after 2 o'clock, and no word of the bandits operating was received, although there were many rumors current.

D. MCGREGOR'S WILL

Executors Apply to Mr. Justice Middleton for Construction of Phrase "Weaker Churches."

The executors of the estate of the late Douglas McGregor of Osprey township, Grey county, applied yesterday morning to Mr. Justice Middleton for proper construction of the will by which the deceased left $6000 to the weaker Presbyterian churches in the Highlands of Scotland; $8000 to the home missions in Canada; $2000 to Christian missions in Africa and $3000 to children orphaned by the great war. Lockhart Gordon appeared for the Established Church of Scotland and the United Free Church of Scotland and said: "As we do not consider we are the weaker churches in the Highlands we are not pressing our claim." Mr. Justice Middleton said he found no difficulty in construing the will except with the general bequest to African missions.

HOCKEY CLUB WINS SUITS.

Judgment was issued yesterday by Mr. Justice Falconbridge in the two suits between the Toronto Hockey Club, Limited, and the Arena Gardens Company. Judgment was given in favor of the Toronto Hockey Club in both cases; in the first suit for $20,083.54 with interest from April 1, 1918, and in the second case judgment with costs, with a reference to ascertain damages.

HAROLD SMELLED GAS.

Two children were saved from being victims of gas poisoning by the cries of a four-year-old boy in their home, 21 Augusta avenue, yesterday morning. Harold and Gertrude McIntirey, aged four and seven respectively, were sleeping in bed when gas was escaping from a defective lighting fixture. Harold woke up and, smelling the gas, cried for his father. The parents removed the children from their beds and carried them to another room.

FIFTEEN CENT PORRIDGE.

The proprietor of a restaurant which has boosted the price of a bowl of oatmeal from 10 to 15 cents gives as his chief reason the breakage of crockery. He says bowls cost three times as much as they did in 1918, and his staff breaks dozens of them every day. It is suggested that the board of commerce may investigate.

D. J. Selvaige, 8 Eileen ave. Lambton Park, was held up on Runnymede road Monday night and after having ammonia thrown in his face and beaten over the head with "billyes" was robbed of $25. Selvaige, a taxi-driver, was engaged by two men and a woman to drive to a fictitious address on Runnymede road. After he had driven to a lonely spot the ammonia thought to have been intended for his eyes, was thrown on the side of his face and the two men reaching over the back of the seat beat the driver into a semi-conscious condition.
