Hon. John Roberts (Secretary of State): I am informed by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation as follows: 1. (a) CBC does hire part-time employees from private employment agencies to meet unexpected short-terms work demands, to replace staff members who are sick or absent for a variety of reasons, or to fill in for employees who have left but have not yet been replaced on a permanent basis. (b) On occasion CBC uses the services of employment agencies when a competition within the Corporation has not yielded a suitable candidate or in order to have the widest possible choice both from inside and outside the CBC, from which to select a full-time employee. Records are not kept in such a way that the information about numbers of part-time or full-time employees in each location

2. Such employees are paid from the CBC's regular operating budgets.

3. It has not been customary to require the CBC to provide such details as the costs incurred in business transactions with private companies. The background to this custom is explained in detail in the reply to question No. 2,530, May 22, 1975.
