WARSAW, May 4--With the exception of a few minor disturbances the day passed quietly. Crowds which gathered here and there were dispersed by troops armed with whips and several persons were seriously injured with these whips. Great popular unrest continues and is being increased by the Russian cruelty of the soldiers. For instance, this afternoon, a ten year old boy named Jan, a Cossack who pushed him and cut him from the shoulders to the waist with one blow of his sabre.

When the Jews fled defeated, the Christians from noon to midnight had a carnival of pillage and plunder. The arrival of M. Trepoff, Governor of Taurida province on the following day, restored order.

WIFE AND CHILD IN THE STREETS. Fled to Escape From the Husband and Father -- Police Called in.

The cry of "Help! Murder! Police!" between eleven o'clock and midnight last night broke the placid calm which usually characterizes the upper part of King street East. The small cries for help were distinctly heard by a citizen who happened to be in the vicinity of Princess street at the time. Hurrying in the direction from which the sound proceeded, he arrived finally on King street East where he was brought face to face with one of the most grotesque sights that have been seen here for a long time. A tall, delicate woman, apparently almost naked, and a little child with naked feet and clad only in a night-dress and shawl, she had been driven into the street by the actions of her husband who, it is said, had been drinking, and she had thought that it was unsafe to remain in the house any longer.

BRITT AND WHITE TONIGHT

It Is Not Expected That the Prize Fight Will Be Interfered With by the San Francisco Grand Jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5. --After many ups and downs, Jimmy Britt of this city and John White of England are to meet tonight in Woodward's Pavilion in a twenty round bout before the Hayes Valley Club. It is not expected that the grand jury will interfere with the fight. The police will be instructed not to permit the overcrowding of the gallery or of any part of the house.

but cannot say whether by a knock out or on points. I came all the way from England to fight Britt, and I hope to score a decisive victory over him. I have engaged hard and faithfully for the battle, and I am in the best possible condition. In fact I never felt better in my life. If I lose, I will offer no excuses." Britt, who is in fine condition, is equally confident, and from all indications, the fight will be lively from start to finish. Both men are talented and trained to perfection, and both are prepared for a hard and stubborn contest. Fast and enter the ring, with every prospect of an early ending to the fight. The contest is of international importance, and will go nearer toward deciding the championship of the world in the lightweight division than anything in the same line that has been witnessed in years.

HUMORS OF HISTORY--30.

The Revolt of Godwin, A.D. 1041

"The Frenchification of the country displeased the English Nobles, and Earl Godwin, a powerful noble who had been chiefly instrumental in placing Edward on the throne, and was moreover the King's father-in-law, was foremost in expressing his disapproval. He snatched all ties of family by boldly refusing to acknowledge the King's authority."

The yacht is being much admired by the citizens, and many complimentary remarks have been made about her trim appearance. Nothing has been developed in regard to the whereabouts of "Bill" Sandford.

OSLER STILL TALKING

Wishes More Canadians Would Stay at Home-- Gives the Universities Some Advice -- Should Not Work Professors too Hard.

NEW YORK, May 5. --"Don't work your professors so hard, but leave them a little more chance to think," was the advice of Dr. Wm. Osler to the American universities in his speech as guest of honor at the tenth annual dinner of the New Graduate Society of McGill University last evening at the Hotel Imperial, says the Times. The most significant part of his response to the toast drunk in his honor grew out of the remark that although McGill has grown to a first class college, it is not a university. He continued: "To produce a great university, you must have a sort of leisure class within the institution. A man who works six, or eight, or ten hours a day teaching and lecturing can do no great amount of original thinking. "It would be good indeed if our American universities followed the example set by such institutions in Germany and England by not working their professors quite so hard, and instead giving them a little more time to think."

ST. PETERSBURG GROWS ANXIOUS

The Japanese Destroyers May Cripple Nebogatoff's Fleet--Tokio Angry at France -- The Movements of Rojestvensky --A Prince in the Temple.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 5, 1.15 p. m.--Admiral Rojestvensky, according to a high naval authority, has sailed south to meet the division of the Russian second Pacific squadron commanded by Admiral Nebogatoff. The admiralty has information that a Japanese division of fast cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers was sent south for the purpose of possibly crippling or destroying Nebogatoff's ships before they could effect a junction with those of Rojestvensky, and there is reason to believe that the Japanese took up a position in the Straits of Sunda, through which Nebogatoff originally intended to make the passage into the North Sea. There is also reason to believe that Nebogatoff first approached the Straits of Sunda, but finding them too well guarded, put about and headed north for the Straits of Malacca, this division leading the protection of fast cruisers and being of great disadvantage in meeting torpedo boat attacks.

PARKERSBURG, W. The family were aroused shortly after midnight by the robbers, who after binding the wife, held her by the neck of the neck of the room and ordered Mrs. Berkshire to count ten, threatening that if her husband did not tell where his money was by the tenth count, they would kill him. The couple insisted that they had no money, but the robbers pushed and beat the woman and applied burning matches to her feet. Screaming in agony, Mrs. Berkshire finally consented to count ten and on the tenth count a shot rang out and her husband fell dead.

He was not quite satisfied in his mind whether he ought to become a "H-dog" or the reincarnation of one of the prophets. Both seemed to pay well, and to bring a man into the lime-light of publicity. It would be a great thing to be relieved of financial worry, and to be in a position to figure extensively in the newspapers.
