

THE EVENING TIMES, ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, JULY 8, 1907.

FOR TODAY
Special Sale of
Men's and Boys'
Suits, Trousers
 ALSO Boys' Wash Suits
and Shirt Waists
Union Clothing Company,
 26-28 Charlotte Street
 Old Y. M. C. A. Building. ALEX. CORBET, Mgr

Sir Hilton's Sin.
 BY GEORGE MANVILLE FENN,
 Author of "Black Blood," "A Woman
 Worth Winning," "Master of Ceremonies,"
 "The New Mistress," "The Meeting of Greeks,"
 "Drawn Swords," Etc.

(Continued.)
 CHAPTER VI.
 The Lady in the Case.
 "Blue Books! Blue Books! Confound the Blue Books!" cried Sir Hilton, as he marched up and down the breakfast-room long after he had heard the wheels of the departing victoria and the tramp of the handsome pair of horses die out. "Who's to study Blue Books? Who's to practice speeches with the weight of four thousand pounds on his mind?"
 "Speeches!" he cried, angrily, after a few minutes, and he waved his hands wildly. "I want no practice, after making such a speech as I did to Jack Granston. I must have been mad. I can't go to the course without being found out, and if I could it's too late—too late!"
 "But it is!" he said, after a few minutes' restless walk, like that of the lone wolf up and down its cage at the Zoo.
 "Oh, yes," he groaned; "Jack was always like lightning at plucking down every penny on him. There, I'm getting in a regular fever. Out of training. I never used to worry when I stood to lose five times as much, and I won't worry now. I won't think I stand to lose four now, but only that I stand to win four, the Syphidie with Jack Granston, the Syphidie must win in a canter. There's nothing been foiled yet that can touch the little race horse. There's Laura's out, and I'll have a cigar and calm down. Forty thou! She'll never know—at least, I hope not, and it will make me independent. I'll be a bit better. She talks about wearing me, and I've given up the hunting and the racetrack to hunt her, so now she must, damn it, but her fate to favor me. We shall be a deal happier then."

HE IS CORRECT
 Dr. Hamilton Proves That Piles Are Caused by Constipation and Strong Cathartics.
 Knowing the frequency with which people suffer from this ailment, Dr. Hamilton made an exhaustive study into the cause of piles.
 He found that the lower part of the bowels is like a network of blood-vessels, and if subjected to persistent pressure a section will bulge out and form what is commonly known as piles.
 The only effective mode of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief.
 "I suffered up to about the limit of human endurance with piles," writes Miss Lueders, from Cornwall, Ont., "I was employed in a factory here, but for a while had to give up work till I got better of this trouble. I read in the Montreal Herald about Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and after using them for two weeks was cured. I can recommend these pills very highly; there are none better. They at once relieve and prevent a constipated condition of the bowels, and from my experience can be depended upon as a perfect safeguard against piles. Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, I am sure, would be a benefit to every girl or woman."
 "Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and your system will be regenerated, revitalized, and made proof against disease. Good for men, excellent for women, and most effective for children. All ages and both sexes find Dr. Hamilton's Pills marvelous medicine. Although active, they do not cleanse or cause inconvenience, still they cleanse and purify the system, thereby maintaining a high standard of health. Sold by all dealers, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, or by mail, from Dr. O. Polson and Co., Hamilton, Ont., N. B., and Kingston, Ont.

Daily Fashion Hint for Times Readers.

LINGERIE FROCK IN BABY BLUE NET.

While we on this side of the water are wearing lingerie frocks of fine tulle, lawn and mull, elaborated with lace and embroidery, Paris is showing the new lingerie models in a fine, soft net. One of these recently imported to the above is a showy little model, over a soft chiffon silk in the same delicate tone. The dress is a baby princess, the skirt and waist joined by the grille made of lace insertions. Being a French model, the skirt is quite long, even in the front, and from the knee down is elaborately trimmed with insets of all-over lace outlined with insertions in the form of medallions. These rows of medallions are set between clusters of tucks. The skirt is pleated into the waist, and the blouse with its lace inserted cap-like sleeve is eased gracefully into the top of the lace grille supported with fine featherbones, as is also the high lace collar. The under sleeves, reaching over the elbow are made of numerous rows of narrow Val, on a foundation of plain white net. The hat is the fashionable side-saddle shape in white chip with trimmings of pink roses and black velvet. Long black gloves add a French touch to this dainty costume.

 "Yet old fellow," sighed the lady; "and it's quite true. There don't look black. Hilty, dear old man. You know you ruined yourself, and so you would anyone else who trusted you with money."
 "Lady Tiborough!" cried Sir Hilton, indignantly.
 "Stop that, dear boy. No stills. Be honest. You know it's true. Here, sit down and listen. I want your help."
 "Hiltn! You better go to some other friend!" said Sir Hilton, sinking back in a chair at some distance, crossing his legs, and kicking the upholsterer out of the room.
 "You leave Jack Granston out of the case, stupid. He wants to marry me, though he has never said so. He's a thoroughly good fellow; but, of course, I couldn't go to him, even if he could help me, and he can't."
 "Have a glass of wine—some brandy?"
 "No, no, no. I'll be better directly. There, did you ever see such a silly woman? That's got the better of it. If I hadn't let myself go then I believe I should have had a fit."
 (To be continued.)

A WRINKLE FOR CAKE MAKERS.
 If you are your own cake baker—and surely you are you perhaps have noted the difference there is in four cakes made from the same ingredients. All wheat contains both, but in varying quantities. Ontario wheat is rich in starch, while Manitoba spring wheat contains a large percentage of gluten. By combining the two kinds of wheat scientifically a flour is made that gives delightful results, whether for cake, pastry or bread.
 Expert cooks have given Blended Flour exhaustive tests, and they are one in the opinion that no other flour can make such white, light, wholesome cake, pastry and bread.
 Housekeepers will find Blended Flour without equal both for making dainty foods and substantial baking. They will find Blended Flour most economical, too.

Carmarthen street Methodist church held their annual picnic at Lepreux on Saturday. About 200 were present. An interesting event was a base ball match between the Carmarthen street boys and the Lepreux Nationals. The Nationals carried off the honors, winning, 8 to 0. The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of the Nationals. Capt. Murphy, of the All-Stars, of Carleton, covered first base for the Nationals.
 A meeting of the N. B. Temperance Federation will be held in W. C. T. U. parlors, Germain street, this afternoon at 2.30. The hour set for the banquet to follow is 7.30. The retiring president, at White's in the evening, is 8 o'clock. There will be some forty representatives from outside points at the meeting.

CHAPTER VII.
 A Diabolical Business.
 If the old writers were right, so was Sir Hilton Lisle, as he drew a chair forward and placed it ready for his attractive visitor, who gave the long folds of her well-fitting riding habit a sweep, and then dropped with an elastic plump into the seat.
 "Oh, Hiltn, dear boy! Oh, Hiltn!" she cried, bursting into tears.
 "My dear Lady Tiborough!" he cried, catching her hands in his, as she dabbed her eyes with a handkerchief, and her whip downed on the table with a smart blow; "what is the matter?"
 "Don't, don't do it!" she cried, passionately. "Don't!" said Sir Hilton. "What have I done?"
 "Called me Lady Tiborough in that cold formal way, just as if you were going to refuse before I asked; and us such very, very old friends!"
 "Well, Hetty, then. My dear old girl, what is the matter?"
 "Ah, that's better, Hiltn," said the lady, with a sigh of relief. "We are such old friends, aren't we, even if you have married that dreadfully severe wife who looks upon me as an awfully wicked woman?"
 "Which you are not, Hetty," said Sir Hilton, warmly.
 "Thank ye, Hiltn dear. That does me good," she said, drawing away her hands and beginning to wipe her eyes. "I always felt that I could trust to you if I had a girl. Tiborough always used to say, 'If raisers give the following dietary for pigeons:

HINTS ON THE CARE OF PIGEONS

 "The best grains and the proper proportions to feed are:
 "Wheat, four parts; sifted cracked corn, two parts; kafir corn, two parts; Canadian peas, two parts; bird millet, one part; (every second day. Fine charcoal, two parts, (once a week)."
 Once or twice a week throw a handful or two of hempseed to the pigeons at noon. All other feeding should occur regularly at seven o'clock in the morning and four o'clock in the afternoon. The quantity of food per pigeon cannot be given. You must watch their eating and be governed that way. There should always be food enough placed in the feed boxes to supply the meal and leave some for eating later in the day.
 Plenty of fine gravel and crushed oyster shells should be sprinkled everywhere about the flying pens and inside the feed-boxes as well. During the summer months some green food may be given to the pigeons, such as pepper grass, lettuce leaves and perhaps some cabbage leaves. Also a bag-doth sack-of salt should be placed inside a little wooden frame in the yard for the birds to pick. If the salt sack were open they might get too much salt at times for their own good, so it is better to let them pick through the coarse sack for it. In this way they'll get all they require.

showing notes in pigeon house. The front boards are adjustable, slipping into grooves, thus permitting the cleaning of the shelves.

BODIES REACHED HERE SATURDAY

Story of the Drowning Accident on St. Croix Lake.
 The bodies of Harry Logan and Thomas Hilland, the two St. John men who were drowned in Maine on July 4, were brought here Saturday. Daniel Harrison, Logan's uncle, and Hilland's brother accompanied the bodies.
 Mr. Harrison told the story of the drowning which appears to have been a remarkable one. Six employees of the Fish River Lumber Company, among whom were Logan, Hilland and Gough, the Fredericton man who was drowned, launched a new tugboat on St. Croix Lake during Thursday afternoon. The tug was named after the late Mr. Hilland, and the men feared no danger at first. When some time had been spent on the water, the tug was blown by a strong wind and the men were soon had to sit up on the gunwales.
 "Four-three of them the ones who were drowned—were on one side, and two on the other. There being no ballast in the tug, when a small came the boat tipped over and all six went into the lake.
 The two who had been sitting on the right side of the boat came up all right and one of the other four coughed, but Logan and Hilland never came above the water, the survivors say. Gough's hand was seen just breaking through the water, and it is thought that all three became entangled in the sail and were unable to free themselves. This was the decision reached at the inquest held, and is the belief of Mr. Harrison, as Logan especially was a powerful swimmer.
 The bodies were found fifteen minutes after the accident occurred, in twenty-five feet of water, but all signs of life had disappeared.
 The funeral of Mr. Logan was held from his late residence, 115 Hilyard street, to St. Peter's church yesterday afternoon. The attendance was large and expressed well the sympathy of the town for the young man's relatives. Mr. Hilland's funeral was held from his sister's residence in Sheriff street, to St. Peter's church, and the young man who had worked together a short time, and met death together, were laid side by side in the Catholic cemetery.

ANOTHER LINK IN CANAL SYSTEM

Big Liftlock of Trent Valley Waterway Opened Saturday
 Ottawa, July 7.—At Kirkfield, Ontario, on Saturday, the big liftlock on the Trent Valley canal was officially opened. By the completion of this work a waterway will connect the towns of Orillia and Barry with Lindsay, Peterborough and other points, making a 1,000 mile route for steamers through a populous part of the province. Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, was the principal speaker and M. J. Butler represented the railways and canal department.
 Mr. Lemieux after reviewing the history of canal building on this and the European continent, said that the St. Lawrence system gave a stretch of navigation of 1,225 miles from Montreal to the head of Lake Superior. Beside this great waterway there were the Ottawa, the Rideau and the Richelieu. The Trent canal when completed would give a waterway of 290 miles, furnishing a second great channel for the trade of the west.
 Mr. Lemieux predicted the completion of the canal in the early date. He spoke of the abolition of tolls on all the canals by the present government, and said that the produce of the great Canadian west would pour down in ever increasing volume through these waterways to the ocean and the motherland, while in return Ontario and Quebec would send westward their manufactures to an expanding and profitable market.
 The Georgian Bay Canal was coming nearer and nearer. Canada was reaching a position when it would be prepared to undertake even that gigantic work, and those who are now middle aged men may live to see the day when the steamers of Liverpool will take their cargoes straight from Port Arthur to Liverpool and Glasgow.

NEW POINT IN WATER EXTENSION CLAIMS

At the adjourned meeting of the water and sewerage board Saturday morning the claims of the contractors on the water extension work were further considered. It is understood in connection with B. Mooney & Sons' claim for $20,000 that it was decided that F. A. Barbour and H. G. Hunter, with an accountant, should go over the firm's books and ascertain the actual loss under the contracts. When the board has received their report an effort will be made to arrive at a amiable settlement on the basis of the city paying part of the loss incurred.
 Prior to this matter being taken up, an offer from Messrs. Mooney to accept a certain sum in settlement was placed before the board but was not entertained.
 The question of making a further payment to McArthur & McVey, the contractors on Nos. 1 and 2 sections, was also considered. It was decided that before accepting the report and estimate of the consulting engineer the opinion of the recorder should be obtained in view of possible legal complications.
 The board have already agreed to allow Messrs. Mooney a sum in compensation for Lake Latimer not being lowered to certain point by Aug. 15, 1908. Beyond that point it is claimed by the city that under the contract McArthur & McVey are liable for not completing the outlet on section 2 in time to further reduce the level of the lake.
 The recorder, it is understood, will be asked to decide if by paying McArthur & McVey on the engineer's estimate for completion of the work on Section 2 the city will be debared from claiming damages against them in the event of a counter claim being brought by Messrs. Mooney.

AT THE NICKEL

Stationary cinematograph slides will give way to life-like motion photographs at the Nickel the first half of this week in connection with the illustrated song part of the programme. This is a new feature in many parts of the United States, which is being inaugurated by the Keith people for their wide circuit of theatres. The song which Mr. Austin will introduce with moving views is "Two Dirty Little Hands," a pretty picture of child life, and a loving mother. The novelty is sure to catch on quickly, and is but one of a large number of special features St. John people are to enjoy at the hands of the energetic management of the Nickel.
 The major portion of the programme for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will present one long descriptive film, "The Pony Express," including thousands upon thousands of continuous photographs, beautiful clear and steady, and presenting to St. John people something most of them have never before experienced, the comic Cartoons will, indeed, be comical, while "A Troublesome Tenant and Moving Under Difficulties" are designed purely and simply to excite the laughing senses of their wide circuit of theatres. The list is a long one, and each picture of generous time duration.

HOME PAPERS

THE TELEGRAPH AND TIMES
 THESE PAPERS are delivered to St. John residences by CARRIER. They are taken into the homes of responsible and desirable people who pay for the privilege of reading them.
 An advertisement in The Big Papers will place you in company with the most prominent local and general advertisers in Canada.
 The TELEGRAPH and TIMES enjoy a greater advertising patronage than any other two papers in New Brunswick, and if business is any indication of ability to deliver results, then The Big Papers are always "making good."
 RATES ARE NEVER CUT. One price to all. Telephone main 705 for The Advertising Dept.

COMBINED CIRCULATION OVER 15,000