When Will the Stars and Stripes Be Unfurled in France?

When it comes to the question of an immediate expeditionary force to France, there seems to be a division of public opinion. Opponents of the idea argue that our trained soldiers are at present more needed here to train the new armies we are raising, and that for the moment our ships can accomplish more by taking food to our Allies. But the other view finds eloquent advocates among our press, and Washington despatches seem to indicate that the administration has been converted to it by the arguments of the French Commission. Marshal Joffre addressing the American people through the correspondents urges us "to let the American soldier come now."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for May 12th, you will find all phases of the Government's war activity at Washington covered in an intelligible comprehensive way. The full force of public opinion as indicated by the newspaper press is presented in all its shades.

"The Digest"—the Busy Man's Bible, the Doubting Man's Dictionary

Those of us who are busy, and which of us is not in these superstitious times, frequently sigh over the arid wilderness of irrelevant information through which we have to struggle in our daily papers in order to obtain those diamonds in a dust-heap, the items of vital news for which we are seeking. THE LITERARY DIGEST not only sifts the news, but derives its resume of the news not merely from a single paper, which would be to retain the latter's view-point, but from a weekly gleaming of all the worthwhile publications of the world, recording the result without comment or partiality, adhering to no view-point but reporting all. The facts of the day, focused from all points, are yours in "The Digest."

PUT THE DOLLAR TO WORK

(New York Commercial.)

When a manufacturer or other producer of real wealth does a profitable business and turns his profits back into the business, he gives employment to men and creates more real wealth as he progresses year by year. He does more real good for his fellowmen than he would if he gave all his profits to charity, because it is better to make people self-supporting and independent than it is to give them something for nothing, no matter how worthy the motives may be.

When a rich man invests his money in productive enterprises he performs an important social service for the benefit of his country. Accumulated capital is always a power for good, and accomplishes much good when intelligently handled. When a man deposits his sav-
