Good Things Coming Theatres of St. John

OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT; BILLIE BURKE SATURDAY;

If you are a music lover and have not already heard the Manon Four, that splendid singing quartette at the Opera House, you should do so tonight for they are surely the best mixed quartette that has been heard on a local stage for a long time. There are four other good vaudeville acts on the programme as well and the whole, combined, makes a delightful evening's entertainment.

Tomorrow comes the usual weekly King's birthday, and cannot see how Imperial Theatre tonight offers a brilliant programme. Jack Pickford will be seen as the tough elevator boy, who becomes a "detectuff" and he will be supported by Louise Huff and some precoious children. This story is called "The Dummy," and tells how a boy with ambitions to be a sleuth finally recovers a millionaire's child from the kidnappers. "The Secret Kingdom" serial is intensely interesting this week as the principals are all in New York, where the excitement is at fever heat. There will be one of those Vitagraph farces in addition.

GEM TONIGHT AND SATURDAY.

GEM TONIGHT AND SATURDAY. The gripping war story "On Dangerous Ground," will be given its final presentations tonight at 7.15 and 8.45 together with two good vaudeville acts. Whole programme changed tomorrow afternoon. The feature picture will be "The Victim," starring Valeska Suratt.
