WM. S. HART AT IMPERIAL TONIGHT

This is the day the Imperial introduces Wm. S. Hart, the grim-visaged, but kind-hearted gun-man of the western plains. His coming to the Imperial curtain will be a distinct departure in star players. He is no dress-suit paragon, no flannel-trousered swain with a tennis racket, but a big, burly, clean-minded chap whose trusty .44's and unshakable nerve are constantly being used to help some needy folk in distress. In "The Square Deal Man," the opening Triangle picture, Mr. Hart gives a good sample of his western portrayals, a class of motion picture acting and characterization which has become a high art in the annals of the profession. Bill Hart is not the typical cowboy but a refined product that gives a true conception of life on the plains in an early and no lawless days. In addition to this interesting picture a rollicking Keystone comedy will be shown entitled "Innocent Sinners" and another of the World Tour series showing castles in France and a trip through Barbadoes, British West Indies.

A GREAT SERIAL

Will be Started at the Lyric Theatre Tomorrow

CLOAKMAKERS ASK
20 PER CENT. RISE

Dollar of Last Year Worth Only 70 Cents Now, Union Officials Assent

New York, June 20.—The cloakmakers' union, which has had periodical industrial battles with the manufacturers for many years, has served upon their employers a demand for a 20 per cent. wage increase. The most sensational fight of the cloakmakers was their fourteen weeks' strike last year, in which the 60,000 members won a partial victory.

The new demands of the needle workers are based upon the high cost of living. In a letter to the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Protective Association, the officers of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union said that the settlement made last year did not give the workers enough pay to live on this year because of war prices, and that therefore they had to have more money.

LOOK FOR RECORD IN LAYING OF PIPE LINE
IN LANCASTER WORK

A new record in pipe-laying on a big contract is likely to be established in connection with the Lancaster water main renewals. The contractors, who started the excavating work yesterday, are and sewerage that they will commence laying the pipe tomorrow. The start has been made at Barnhill's corner and from that point the new pipe will extend out the Manawagonish road a distance of 5,000 feet. While this work is being carried out there will be no interruption of the water service, as the old ten-inch cement main, which the new pipe will replace, will continue in use until the new one is ready. The pipe is being placed in a separate trench which will not interfere with the use of the existing line. When it is completed connections will be made on a Saturday night and Sunday and that will be the only break in the service. A stretch of 100 feet of pipe was laid in Princess street yesterday and it is expected that the 250 feet to complete the renewal to the corner of Wentworth street will be completed this week, possibly with the exception of the intersections.

In order to complete the installation of hydrants at the corners of Queen, Harding and St. James streets, in Charlotte, the gang of men who started yesterday continued until four o'clock this morning, when the work was finished. Four more are being installed in St. James street today.

New hydrants are being installed at the corners of Garden and Hazen and Coburg and Hazen streets.

COMMITTEE ON ACCOUNTS
BELVES INTO MATTERS OF BRIDGES AND ROADS

Fredericton, June 20.—The public accounts committee this morning continued examination of the accounts of the road supervisors and bridge superintendents.

Mr. Smith (Carleton) was able to explain some features about which the committee required information. He admitted that the system under which road and bridge repairs is carried on is not a particularly good one and could usefully be amended in many respects. One reason for the accounts of the superintendents appearing to be large was that the men often worked themselves, for which they would naturally draw their pay and the item for "expenses" meant their travelling expenses. Under the rules of the department a superintendent was supposed to attend to only one bridge at a time and his expenses for traveling from one place to another would naturally be considerable if the distance was great.

Mr. Leger said he noticed that in some cases there were a superintendent and a foreman on the same job. If the superintendent was at work, what was the need of the foreman?

Mr. Smith replied that would be a case where the superintendent was not working himself.

Mr. Leger said he gathered that a superintendent would drive up and look at a bridge and if he was there only an hour would draw a day's pay. Under such circumstances as those, why could he not look over several bridges in the day's work?

Mr. Smith said it had been suggested that instead of superintendents local men might be employed but often there was no local man to be had. In the case of a crew which had been working at one bridge was often taken to another as being a quicker way to get the work done than trying to hire a crew at the other place. There were many suggestions which might be made to get repairs done but it was impossible to lay down any rule which would apply to all cases. In one case he called for tenders to repair a bridge and the lowest was $125. The work was done by day work and cost only $65. The committee will take the matter up again tomorrow.

JUVENILE COURT.

Two boys, ten and eleven years of age respectively, were before the juvenile court today charged with theft. One of them was charged with theft of fifty cents from the home of his sister-in-law, and also with ransacking the house. It was stated to the court that his mother is dead and father away, and the child lives with his sister-in-law. The court decided to give the boy another five men from this vicinity have enlisted with this unit.

Private Chas. Morgan, who has seen a 4 year's service in the trenches with the Second battalion of the First Expeditionary Force is in Bangor for a few days calling on friends. Mr. Morgan was in some of the hardest fighting on the western front without being "touched" only to receive a bad wound through the hips by a fragment of shell while his company were resting behind the lines. After eight months in the hospital, Mr. Morgan was sent back to Canada, and after a short furlough will continue to do his "bit" by helping to recruit new units.

MRS. PANKHURST IN PETROGRAD
Petrograd, June 20, via London.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, British suffragist leader, made an unexpected arrival in Petrograd yesterday. She appeared in the best of health and at once called upon the Root commission and was seated at length what might be done to assist Russia in directing all the forces of the new democracy toward the struggle with the common foe.

In a conversation with newspaper correspondents, Mrs. Pankhurst said that she had come to Russia to explain to the men and women of the new republic the attitude of the British democracy toward the war.

STARTED SOMETHING THAT THEY COULD NOT FINISH
Anarchists Who Seized Petrograd Newspaper Were Compelled to Surrender

Petrograd, June 18, via London, June 20.—The building of the newspaper Ruskia Volla, Petrograd's richest and most largely circulated newspaper, was seized this afternoon by a corps of armed anarchists who expelled the staff, destroyed all copies of the paper and the books and declared that they would stand siege.

The Ruskia Volla is particularly hated by the anarchists because it strongly supported the provisional government and attacked the Bolsheviks and other extremists. When the government learned of this action by the anarchists it ordered stringent measures. General Polovtsev, commander of the Petrograd troops, sent a large force of Cossacks, infantry and machine guns and surrounded the building.

In the meantime the congress of the council of deputies passed a resolution condemning the anarchists. The commander of the troops sent a message to the anarchists, demanding their surrender. Seventy of them were marched to jail.

HEARTY WELCOME FOR KILTIES IN BANGOR

The Bangor Commercial, reporting the visit of the Kilties band yesterday says that Bangor is with the New Brunswickers' heart and soul was shown by the royal welcome given to the officers and men, and by the fact that within ten minutes after the recruits' speeches started half a dozen Canadian stepped forward and were enrolled under the Union Jack for service with the legions of Canada.

Mayor Woodman, speaking from the stand erected in front of the Public Safety committee headquarters, extended a cordial welcome to the visitors, an Lieut.-Col. Guthrie replied. He said in part:—"The Kilties yesterday had the honor of marching up Bunker Hill, an I'll tell you now that we're more the happy to be with you again after being divided for 141 years. We are now on people. The line that has divided Canada and the United States has always been an imaginary one. No forts were needed to face each other across the frontier. Now even the imaginary line has been wiped out—it exists no more (Cheers)."

Speeches followed by Lt. Faure, of 6 American navy; Lieut.-Commander Rooney, U.S.N.; Col. F. H. Parkhurst, Capt. J. D. Black and Capt. D. I. Goul. Later the visitors went to Oldtown and Orono on recruiting trips.

The Commercial says editorially: Bangor saw the Kilties Tuesday and thoroughly appreciated them. Our city is being visited by some of the finest and the Kiltie band of the 286th Canadian battalion bound on recruiting as vice and on their return from a successful trip to Boston, where 725 recruits were obtained. It was a no spectacle for our Maine city and brought home to us as never previously that the day the line that separates the United States and Canada is an invisible one with both countries straining ever nerve toward a common end. The men were brought by Lieut.-Col. Guthrie delivered to Russia by Commissioner Root, when he said: "We are going, fight, and have already begun to fight for your freedom equally with our own and we ask you to fight for our freedom equally with ours."
