

MOTHER-IN-LAW WINS IN SUIT

Daughter's Husband Had Brought Action for Damages

Interesting Case in England in Which Manners at Home are Given Some Attention—The Wife's
Bill of Complaint.

(Canadian Press)
London, April 9.—A remarkable case in which a Keighley man alleged that his mother-in-law enticed his wife away from him and persuaded her to go back to South Africa to her former home was recently tried before Justice Darling. The husband, Charles Sanderson, a cashier, failed in his action for damages for the loss of his wife's affection.

The mother-in-law, Mrs. Hannah Hudson, a widow, resides at Port Elizabeth, South Africa. She denied having used her persuasive eloquence on her daughter but admitted that her daughter was unhappy with the husband. According to Sanderson's story in court the mother-in-law was the sole cause of the separation. The trouble dated from July, 1921, when Mrs. Hudson arrived from South Africa on a year's visit at his home.

This Will Ward Off And Break Up Colds

Just a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin removes the congestion

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "What can I do to ward off colds that are so common in the family?" The answer is simple. I urge you to try my Laxative Syrup Pepsin. It will quickly remove the congestion from the bowels, and thus prevent the colds, coughs, and croup that are so common in the family.

at the first few warning sneezes, take a teaspoonful of Laxative Syrup Pepsin and the congestion will be gone in a few hours. Don't wait until the cold has a grip on you.
Mr. H. H. Powell, of Gilbert Plains, Man., considers Laxative Syrup Pepsin the best laxative he ever used. and Mrs. Chas. Lewis, of Winnipeg, Man., uses it effectively for all the small ills of her family, such as constipation, biliousness, headaches, dizziness, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is safe to give to infants, and all children like it. Before you again resort to cold remedies containing narcotics try a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist will supply you, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

LAXATIVE The family remedy

When his wife announced that she had ceased to be his wife except in name and in the eyes of the law, Sanderson demanded her reason therefor.
Here is a list of the reasons she gave for her coolness towards him—He did not accompany her beyond the chapel door when she went to church.

He smoked in the dining room without her mother's permission.
He had not been respectful in his attitude towards his wife's mother.
He frequently got up when he had finished dinner without asking permission of his mother-in-law.

He had on two occasions sat down without a collar on.
During the hearing of the case in court the plaintiff's counsel remarked: "Mothers-in-law are proverbially sensitive as to the social requirements of sons-in-law sitting down to dinner without buttoning their collars."

Justice Darling: "Within limits that is quite right." Counsel: "I have seen the greatest financiers in America sitting down to dinner without collars on and with open shirt front on hot days. That was in a community where such things are excused better than they are at Keighley."

Sanderson said that when his mother-in-law complained that he did not wear a collar at dinner it was in the hot summer of 1921. "I said I could not wear a collar," he added.
"They (his wife and her mother) were dressed in blouses half way down in front and back and I had to wear a collar. I continued to appear without a collar. Sanderson is 48 years of age.
He described Mrs. Hudson as a woman of domineering manner. "Witnesses testified for the defence and said Mrs. Sanderson's mother was not domineering."

Justice Darling in giving judgment against the plaintiff said the action was a very uncommon one but one that was well-founded in the law of England. His Lordship ruled that the evidence had not shown that Mrs.
Hudson had enticed her daughter away from Sanderson, therefore the proceedings failed for want of proof.

TEN LOST WITH LIGHTER; BELIEVE SHE HAD LIQUOR

Vineyard Haven, Mass., April 9.— At least ten lives were lost when the steam lighter John Dwight mysteriously sank off Cuttyhunk, in Vineyard Sound, last Friday, according to the belief of fishermen here.
All indications were that the John Dwight carried a contraband cargo, although the suggestion was made on some sides that bottled ale found floating in the Sound constituted the deck-load of the second vessel which was torn loose in the collision.

Miss Gould's Engagement Is Confirmed

Bethrothal of Miss Gloria to H.
A. Bishop, Jr. Announced by Brother, Mr. Kingdon, at Dance.

New York, April 9.—The engagement of Miss Gloria Gould, youngest daughter of Mr. George Jay Gould, to Mr.
Henry A. Bishop, Jr., published a month ago and denied at the time, was formally announced last week by her brother, Mr. Kingdon Gould, at a dance which Mr. and Mrs. Gould gave in her honor at Sherry's. The dance was arranged several weeks ago, before the illness of Miss Gould's father, but it was his wish that no changes be made in the plans for the affair and the announcement was made with his consent.

Miss Gould is the youngest of the seven children of Mr. Gould and the late Edith Kingdon Gould. She has appeared frequently in amateur entertainments as a dancer and this year was assigned a solo part in an entertainment by the Chalf School at Carnegie Hall. Her brothers and sisters, in the order of their ages, are Mr. Jay Gould, Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., Lady Decies, Mr. George Jay Gould Jr., who is with his father in Mentone; Mr.
Kingdon Gould, and Mrs. Carroll L.
Wainwright.

Mr. Bishop, Yale Student.
Mr. Bishop is a son of Mr. Henry A.
Bishop, of Bridgeport, and is a student at Yale. He is a great-grandson of Alfred Bishop, who was the builder of the Raritan Canal and of a large part of the New York, New Haven & Harford Railroad, of which he was the first president. Mr. Bishop's mother was Miss Jessie Alford Truhee. He is the youngest of four children, the oldest of whom died in 1886. His sisters are Miss Henrietta Bishop and Mrs. H.
Le Baron Peters, wife of Dr. Peters, of Bridgeport. His father belongs to the Union and other clubs and is a director of many large organizations.

The dance last night was attended by about three hundred guests, who on their arrival, were received by Mr. and Mrs. Kingdon Gould and Miss Gould. The latter wore a gown of white, covered with lace.
The dancing was in the main ballroom on the ground floor, white was abundantly decorated with yellow and lavender flowers, California wood-wardia ferns, large bouquets, palms and ferns. The ceiling was covered with Southern smilax.
On the second floor, where the supper was served at 100 tables, the decorations were most elaborate. The tables were covered with peach blossoms, there were arbors of bamboo canes, covered with Darwin tulips, palms and ferns.
During the supper there was an entertainment, which consisted of dances by Rosina Galli and Giuseppe Bon-figlio, and a ballet of several girls trained by Galli.

"Yes, Madam, This Suite is Guaranteed"

"SEE, here is the Guarantee attached to the furniture."
And Mr. Wood pointed to the Gibbard Guarantee Tag.

Mrs. Hunt stepped over, took the Guarantee Tag in her hand and read it.

"Splendid! That's a real guarantee, Mr. Wood. I feel perfectly safe in buying this dining suite.
When a manufacturer gives a printed and signed guarantee with his furniture, it takes all the risk out of buying. It shows he knows the furniture is all right or he wouldn't dare put his name on it and guarantee it."

"Right you are, Mrs. Hunt.
And it's a pleasure for me to sell you a Gibbard suite. Gibbard's put either real, genuine Solid Walnut or Solid Mahogany or Solid Oak into their suites—just what the guarantee says."

Gibbard Genuine Quality

"Even the extra leaves for this extension table are of Genuine Solid Walnut—not some cheaper wood stained to look like walnut, as is so often done. These leaves match the walnut table top exactly. That just goes to show you the genuine quality of Gibbard Furniture, Mrs. Hunt."

"You needn't say anything more, Mr. Wood. Just deliver the suite as soon as you can to our new home."

Don't you, too, want to buy furniture of known quality? Don't you want a real guarantee given you when you buy?

If you do, ask for Gibbard suites.
Then, look for the Gibbard name plate on the furniture and the Gibbard Guarantee Tag attached to each suite.

If your dealer happens to be out of Gibbard Furniture, ask him to show you the Gibbard Catalogue. Practically every enterprising dealer has the Gib-
