A Coming Featherweight Star

(FROM T. S. ANDREWS)

WILKINSON, FEB. 28.—MILWAUKEE

Wilwaukee Wis., Feb. 28.—Milwaukee has turned out some high class fighters in the past, but during the last two seasons the boxers of class have not been very much in evidence. Jimmy Clabby, who was practically a Milwaukee product, has reached about the top of the middleweight ladder and Bob Moha, who promised to make things hum for a time, eased off a bit and missed a chance, but now comes Ritchie Mitchell, a young featherweight, who looks as though he will shine as brightly as any of them.

Mitchell is only a youngster and a newcomer to the game, having had only about twelve contests, but he has learned a lot and looks well to his first big fight. He had a real try-out the other night when he met a veteran, Patsy Brannigan of Pittsburgh. For ten rounds Patsy tried every trick of the trade to get the box fifteen rounds with Mickey McIntyre, at Glace Bay on March 17.

TENNIS

Two More Challenges

New York, March 2.—Two more challenges for the Davis Cup tennis series were received today, from Germany and Canada.

Baseball invaded at least one school ground in England last week. Youngsters in one of the London County Council schools sought to emulate the Giants and White Sox. With the aid of a diagram of a diamond and a more or less accurate description of the game cut from the papers, they equipped themselves for the fray. A piece of broomstick served as a bat. In stern adherence to the rules of the game the pitcher provided himself with a hard heavy ball also. He understood it to be his duty to hurl it as fast as he could. Unfortunately the players were not able to perform the miracle of the American champions and at the end of ten minutes the catcher was weeping and the first baseman was slouching the flow from his wounded nose, while centre field was hopping around on one foot. Baseball is off for the present in that school.

youngster, but when the final bell rang there was only one decision—Mitchell had beaten the experienced Brannigan. The youngster was fast on his feet and used good judgment in shifting his head out of reach of punches, besides using both hands to perfection in countering Patsy's attacks. The boy looks like a come.

It has been mentioned that Jimmy Clabby of Price must have something up his sleeve in matching a practically unknown lad named Billy Murray against the husky Leo Houck, a middleweight who has met the best and defeated most of them. It was correct—Jimmy did have something up his sleeve—for Murray proved a tatter for Houck. He fought cleverly and had a punch and at the end of the fourteenth round the referee stopped the contest when Leo was helpless against the ropes and gave the newcomer the benefit of a knockout. Tom Jones, who is handling Ad Wolcott, says that he has met Murray out west for some time and had him fight Ed George and others in Reno; that he is a good middleweight and ready for the best in the business.

PREACHED ON HELL

Bible View Subject of Evangelist McPherson Last Evening

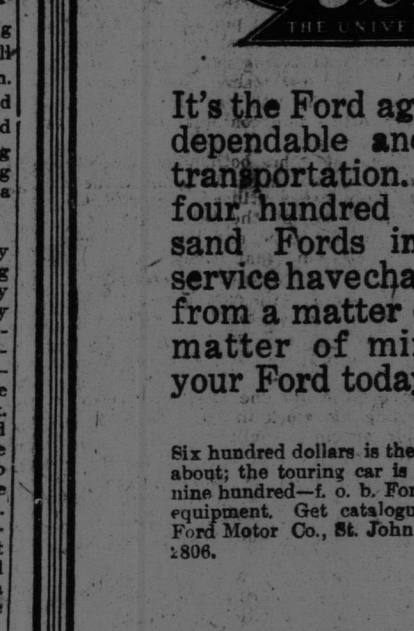

"The Bible View of Hell" was the subject of last evening's sermon in the Coburg Street Christian Church. Evangelist Lowell C. McPherson read a part of Matt. 10, and used verse 28 as a text. "And be not afraid of them that kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul; but rather fear him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." In part the evangelist said:

"These are solemn words of Jesus to His disciples. And no one could love mankind more than does He.

"When the revised version of the Bible was sent forth, many asked 'Has the Bible done away with hell?' Newspapers discussed the question and it was the talk in common conversation. It was not only that deliberate drunkards and libertines and many others similar were glad, but supreme selfishness everywhere was congratulating itself, and of men. The Christian scholars who were pupils took up the note of sternness in the unbridled senselessness of the mention of the subject by preachers is rubbish and of antiquated custom.

"But the supreme question then should have been, as it should be now, 'What does the Bible truly teach, and what are the facts?' Mankind should not be deceived either way. Man's views may change but eternal verities cannot. A body of ecclesiastics can no more change the truths of God and His revelation than they by a vote of the majority, can make the earth flat instead of round, which was once the idea of men. The Christian scholars who revised the Bible to accord with the changing English which is not what it was 400 years ago, did not and could not change the Hebrew Old Testament or the Greek New Testament—the languages in which those documents were originally written—but they conferred a blessing on this generation by making the English Bible better understood. No, the teaching of Jesus Christ concerning the destiny of those who live lives of rejection of Him and insult to Him can not be changed by man."

There followed this introductory of the sermon an exposition of the uses of the word "hell" in both the old and new testaments. Mr. McPherson said that the common idea of hell was not known

In the Old Testament. That book was not a complete revelation concerning the future, Jesus Christ revealed in the New Testament. And while the destiny of the wicked was not a staple teaching of His, His warning concerning it was most solemn, direct and loving, as man's friend on earth would not shrink from warning him of danger. "Why should I say 'Depart from Me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, with the devil and his angels'?"

FOUNDER OF YALE.

Wrexham, Eng., prides itself on its association with Elihu Yale, founder of the famous American college.
