BIG GAME PLENTIFUL
From present indications this fall is going to be a great season for the hunters of big game. Reports from all over the province are to the effect that moose and deer are very plentiful. St. John has already received two visits from the moose family, the latest being this morning when a large bull moose, accompanied by his mate, was seen back of Mount Pleasant, and in the vicinity of Park street. The animals did not stay long, and after viewing civilization for a few moments they retreated to their native haunts.

Volunteers From The 62nd Regiment To Leave Tonight

Men to March to the Depot to Take Train at 6.30--Armory Scene of Great Activity Today--Those in Charge

Another detachment of volunteers for foreign service in the empire's forces, will leave St. John this evening at 6.30 o'clock. Headed by the regimental band, the volunteers numbering about 180 from the 62nd regiment, will march by way of Broad, Charlotte, King, Market Square, Dock and Mill streets to the Union Depot, where they will take the train for Valcartier, P. Q. It had not been generally expected that they would go before Tuesday next, but orders for departure were received yesterday afternoon about six o'clock by Lieut. Col. J. L. McEvilly, P. Q., and immediately final preparatory orders were issued here.

The armory today was the scene of much animation and activity, while the members of the overseas unit made ready to depart. At four p. m. the company will parade for the issue of Oliver equipment, water bottles, leggings, etc. At 5.30 the unit will march in full marching order, and march off at six o'clock for the depot. The men are looking well and showing already the soldierly accomplishments which follow even a short period of seasoning. Their appearance and deportment have been greatly improved, and their drilling has been splendid.

The overseas unit will be commanded by Captain H. E. C. Sturdee, a son of the late Sheriff Sturdee, and a well known St. John boy, prominent in athletics. He has been engaged in the office of McLean, Holt Co. for several years. He has been a popular officer, and the same is true of the other two going with him. Lieut. Cutbert J. Morgan, second in command, and Lieut. E. H. Welch, junior officer. The latter is well known about the city, though he has been away from St. John for a considerable period, having been in P. E. Island and the west. He is a son of J. H. Welch, now in the west, and has been a successful commercial traveller. Mr. Morgan, who is a son of the late James Morgan, dry goods merchant, of North End, has been a company captain in the 62nd regiment, but relinquished his title in order to go with the foreign contingent. He is well liked by all who know him. Since his father's death he has been conducting an extensive business in Main street. All three officers are held in respect by their men, and the best wishes of many friends will follow them, while the prayers from their homes and the homes of all the one hundred

The Man In The Street

There are various classes of patriots but the grocer who cut off a family's credit because he heard that the head of a household had enlisted is entitled to first medal in his particular class.

A gratifying feature of the shifting of the centre of war interest to Antwerp is that most of us can pronounce the name of the place, for a change.

One of the great worries of our volunteers will be to raise a moustache which they can fondle with affectionate pride.

Suppose you knew that the way to pronounce Hecate is to start with the sound that had word that Sherman said war was?

Accounts given by tourists concerning railway stations in Paris when the war broke out, would lead one to think that there was a greater rush for cars than at the foot of King street on a wet day, when there are seats for only about one-fourth of those who want them.

"No Canadians Need Apply," should be an appropriate motto to hang outside the I. C. R. main offices in Moncton.

A certain brand of whisky, according to an advertisement, "rules the Waves." Hence, no doubt, the popularity of the song, "A Life on the Ocean Wave."

The man in the street was asked by a friend what he would do if he were fishing on the Ballast wharf and a German warship came up the harbor. Of course a "bite" was necessary.

"I don't know. What would you do?" he asked.

The reply was, "Throw out my line and sinker."

We're gradually being forced to believe that those interested in the betterment of traffic facilities in North End realize that working only by day, a small crew can do much more than could double their number working night and day. Logical, eh?

With a war of $1 per barrel on beer, we'll likely to get a glass with even a higher "collar" on it.

"Kase" in German means cheese. At last we know the root of the word "Kaiser."

If you want to show yourself a zealous patriot, don't fall to be at the benefit fund entertainment in the Opera House on Tuesday afternoon.

New Dreadnought on the force—six feet four and a half, and weights two hundred and thirty-five.

Experts says it's very simple to learn to be an aeronaut, but because this in such precious times as these would it be fair to call an aviator a simpleton?

Should Have Tightened Their Belts, Perhaps.

Perhaps it was a touch of what might be expected in active service, but members of a corporal's guard on duty on West Side one night this week, felt that even a photograph of a ham sandwich might be a welcome relief. The ham was pressing its desires upon them after an all-night session. Some of them had been on duty throughout the night, and thought it was nearly time for the "cats" to be served. An officer arrived on the scene and after he enquired as to "how they were doing" and the various other matter-of-fact queries which go to pass a few minutes inspec-

Extraordinary Bargains in Men's Trousers

We began this Sale with over 2,000 pairs! Of course, there is not that number now, but assortments are wonderfully complete, and there is not a man or young man who can't find something to his liking in his size. We want to especially emphasize the excellence of the materials. Those used in the lowest-priced Trousers are of a very serviceable grade, while those in the higher-priced Trousers are the kind used by high-class merchant tailors.

The workmanship is unexcelled. Oak Hall thoroughness is evident in the well-finished seams, in the way the linings are put in—a thoroughness that tells in the life of the garment.
