Swans Victors at Y. M. C. I.

The Swans continued their winning streak in the Y. M. C. I. Senior League, by taking the Hawks into camp to the tune of three to one last night. They got the first point by the narrow margin of three pins, but quite sufficient. McBride, who substituted for Harrington in the first string, can justly claim the credit for this point in view of his nice score of 99.

Magee and Harrington, with scores of 98 and 95 respectively, shared in the honor of winning the second point as well as the point for totals. Jarvis made a desperate effort to overcome the gains made in the early part of the second game by making three spares in the last three boxes.

With the score of two points against them and a lead of sixteen pins on the total the Hawks started a drive in their last string which resulted in their winning the point by sixteen pins. Jarvis' score of 121 being of material help. While the total pinfall was low the game was keenly contested as evidenced by the difference of only two pins in the grand total. The scores:

Shots at the King Pin.

Magee of the Swans is a southpaw of considerable promise. While not a spectacular bowler he is one of those steady men who can be counted on not to slump when a slump means a loss of points.

At the rate Wheaton improved during his three strings he is heading for the hundred class next game.

Manager McNulty was a very happy smile when the score was totalled up. This win gives his Swans seven points with a loss of one—a splendid start.

McLaughlin of the Hawks discovered that he had an appetite for food, only he didn't spill it that way. Said paper should fix that.

With a little more support from the rest of the team Jarvis' coils should be heard from before the season is over. Kelly of the Hawks made his debut last night. When he gets accustomed to the excitement attending a league match he will be heard from as he has a nice style and knows the game.

The captain of the Hawks says his team will be at their best tonight when the clam supper is on.

BASEBALL.

Baseball Briefs.

Catcher Jack Adams of the Phillies is in Cleveland hospital recovering from operation, the result of an accident on the field during the past season.

Not until the official averages are made public by President John Heydler of the National League will it be known who was the 1919 hitting leader of that organization. One set of averages gave Hornsby .319 and Roush .318, while another had the Cincinnati outfielder hitting .320.

Babe Ruth is said to be contemplating a demand for a $20,000 contract from the Boston club on the ground that he has made himself the biggest attraction in baseball by an ability to hit a ball harder and farther than any other player in the history of the sport.

Barnstorming by major league players has come back to its own full after being under the ban for a few years. Several combinations of major league players have been operating in the east, another is performing in Cuba, and various players are doing an on-street professional club.

The possibility of Providence returning to the International League Circuit here and there has been discussed. Providence has been in the Eastern League for the past two seasons and a consensus must be obtained before any change can be made.

New Britain, Conn., is to put on a big reception for the coming week in honor of Billy Kopf, the first resident of that city to be identified with a world's series winner. A banquet, a gift speech, making by prominent city officials, and possibly a parade are included in the plan to honor the Red Sox shortstop.

Win or lose, Ray Schalk gets big welcome on his return to Little Rock, Ill. The little town has arranged a Schalk Day for the White Sox catcher, even though his team trailed in the recent world's series.

The final game of the American Association season, between Milwaukee and Indianapolis, furnished one of the oddest incidents the game has known. Cavet went to the box in the ninth inning and the Cleveland Indians, Cleveland will train again at New Orleans, it is expected, but the training quarters of the Reds are in doubt. Several cities are anxious for Moran's champions.

This Speaker and Leslie Numamaker of the Cleveland Indians the captain of the Indianapolis Indians, Cleveland will train again at New Orleans, it is expected, but the training quarters of the Reds are in doubt. Several cities are anxious for Moran's champions.

Lefty Tyler of the Cubs, who was out of the game during the greater part of the 1919 season, has announced his intention of making an early start for Dixie in an effort to get the old south paw in working order.

Outfielder Earle Neale of the Reds is picking up a few additional simmons to add to the $2,500 which he collected from the world's series. Neale is acting as coach of the Marietta College team at Marietta, Ohio.

Announcement from many cities are that several trades before another season rolls around. It should be a busy off-season with all the managers except Pat Moran looking for new talent.

THE TURF.

To Retire Derby Winner.

Lord Glanely, owner of Grand Parade, this year's sensational Derby winner, has decided to take his stallion out of training at the end of the year and send him to the stud, according to announcement from L.

Grand Parade did not fulfill his engagement in the Doncaster Stakes last month, and has no big engagements for next season. The son of Oddy and Grand Gemline is expected to maintain his fame through his progeny.

Dave Rosenberg of New York knocked out Rube Lundy of New York in the third round.

ATHLETIC.

To Affiliate With A. A. U.
At a meeting in the Moore rooms, last evening, called by A. W. Covey, vice-president of the Amateur Athletic Union, to discuss the amateur sport situation in this city, a resolution was passed that the various organizations represented in advance and the outlook for amateur sport as a result promises to be considerably improved.

New York, Oct. 20.—The prominence which was given during the world's series to the so-called shine ball, as used by both Eller of the Reds and Ciolette of the White Sox, has aroused the objection of other club owners, and an effort will be made at the league meetings this winter to bring about changes in the rules which will prohibit both the moist ball and the shine ball.

In discussing the question yesterday, President John A. Heydler of the National League said that he believes that the wet ball should be abolished, but he said that before any legislation could be directed against the so-called shine ball it must be first established that such a ball should be abolished, said Mr. Heydler.

"Its use is objectionable, and many games are upset by a player making a wild throw while the ball is still moist after coming from the pitcher's hand. But as for the shine ball, is there such a thing? Umpires and club owners disagree about the existence of such a ball, and many competent baseball authorities regard the shine ball as a myth."

President Heydler watched the pitching of Eller very closely in the world's series, and when he was most effective, while striking out six of the White Sox in a row he says that Eller used a fast, legitimate curved ball. It wasn't Eller's mysterious shine ball which made him such a great pitcher during the season just past. Long before he was ever accused of using a shine ball Eller was an effective pitcher. Two years ago, during the Ohio States series between Cincinnati and Cleveland, Eller won the two games he pitched. At that time no one accused him of using the shine ball.

HOPPE IN GREAT FORM AT START OF TOURNAMENT

New York, Oct. 20.—Willie Hoppe eclipsed all other contestants in the opening matches of the American national 152 line championship billiard tournament at the Hotel Astor. The former title holder compiled two phenomenal runs of 149 and 138 in making the Walker Cushman by the score of 400 to 118. The result furnished the answer to the efforts of all stages he played close billiards. Cochrane made a year ago for the first time in controlling the sphere being usually good.

The victories of Ora Morning Star and Geo. B. Sutton were not so brilliant as that of Hoppe although they played well and made a fine showing.

Hoppe averaged 44-4-9; high runs 149, 138 and 79. Cochrane averaged 18-1-9; high runs 54, 44, 10.
