Miners Go Out Because of Reduction in Pay-Talk of Organizing.

Reports from Benanza and Chechako Hill, in the Yukon district, state that iners refused to work for $4 a day and oard during the wash-up, and gave up their positions early in May. They demanded $5 a day and board. The managers of the mines stated that they could secure good men for less money The strike was general, as the majority of mine owners were in favor of paying good wages. There was some talk of organizing a miners' union to maintain uniform scale of wages in the country. The operators who made the ere obdurate in their position, stating that they could not afford to pay the orice demanded. The outcome of the ontroversy was being watched with interest. The miners claimed that $5 a day was the average price on all the creeks, and never before had less than Tenders for supplies for the Insane this been paid during the sluicing period,

After the receipt of this character as the session of the legisla with boundaries, east to Fung-fang-cheng (city); west to Liao-ho (river); south to Ngan-shan-chau (Mountain) and north to Yentai.

After the receipt of this order, the first thing I have to do is to pacify the in habitants. The pacifying of the inhabitants should have the effect of clearing the robbers. Since my arrival at Liaoho. I have personally seen many of the people who have been parted and scattered everywhere without fixed dwelling places. When walking on the roads, they would be robbed, and when they were in houses, their doors would be bonds and send them to me.

smashed. They have lost their properties and employment. They cannot earn their daily living. I feel depressed at this state of affairs. I formerly issued a proclamation to all the people instructing them to do their duty. Unexpectedly those evil people have done the same s they did before, inveigling many mem-ers into joining them in robbing and ommitting adultery. Furthermore, there appear to be many interpreters who, under the pretext of searching for sleepers er bars of iron belonging to the railway ok the chance of extorting money from the inhabitants. These people are more covetous themselves than the robbers called Hung-hu-tzc (Red Mustache rob ters). I should have liked to send troops to exteriminate these people, but fearing that many would be killed, I have aban-

Hereafter if any one should again at tempt robbery, commit adultery or ex-tort money from the inhabitants, let the people report the name of the offender to me, and I will send troops to arrest the whistle blew, the engines began min and to punish him severely.
